NEWELL POTTERY JOB IS LET

Today

On the Union Pacific.

A Tiger Skin Girl.

Whisky $4.50 a Gallon.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

THIS is written westbound on the Union Pacific, a monument to railroad genius of the pioneer days, and to E. H. Harriman, who killed himself reconstructing the road and left it for his monument.

The train has stopped at Omaha, Neb., where N. B. Updike, president; Ballard Dunn, chief editor, and Jay M. Hackler, business manager of the Omaha Bee, rule the roost. The Bee has just swallowed the Omaha Daily News.

"Fewer, bigger and better newspapers," seems to be the program.

REPORTERS come to the station to inspect traveling curiosities, bringing photographers. The young lady "from the Bee," dressed in a solid tiger coat, keen as a falcon, gentle as a dove, is the most interesting. The others are men.

Two little girls, one with red hair, one with brown, from the Omaha high school newspaper, ask "can a girl become a great reporter.

They are told that Nellie Bly was the best reporter of her day, and go back to school determined to be great.

OMAHA bootleggers have reduced the price of home-made whisky to $4.50 a gallon. Over-production is the trouble. Wine continues to sell for $6 a gallon

New Yorkers pay $25 a gallon for whisky no better, but before they move to Omaha to get a cheaper bootlegger they should read another item.

"For the third time in six weeks government chemists in Omaha have found large quantities of wood alcohol in recent seizures of 'Gordon gin.' One to four per cent of wood alcohol is the average. Gordon gin, with three per cent of wood alcohol will kill you if you drink two quarts of it.

A United States soldier from Fort Omaha, booked at the police station as drunk and damaged, tried to walk a tight wire stretched from the Pullman hotel toward the Burlington station. He fell, but will recover. There was wood alcohol in his "Gordon gin."

THIS part of the country, once wild with shooting men, now looks to Chicago and New York for excitement. New York supplies wine bathtub parties and holdups, Chicago the gunmen equipped with machine guns and gas bombs—really interesting elections

A Chicago mayoralty primary that calls out 60 detective bureau squads, each with a machine gun, rifles, shotguns and a supply of tear bombs, makes the old-time cowboy with his little popping six-shooter seem rather tame. Are the voters so much interested in the election? Not at all; but the politicians are in the jobs and graft.

Louis Reynolds Fined $100.

Louis Reynolds, Second street potter, arrested by Chief of Police McDermott following a liquor raid upon his home Monday morning, pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing liquor when he faced Municipal Judge Hanley in police court today. He was fined $100 and costs which he paid.

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet About Concrete

There is no difficulty in doing concrete work in cold weather if a few simple precautions are taken.

If you intend to put up a garage, add a porch to your home, put a new floor in the cellar, or make any other improvements of concrete, you do not need to wait until Spring.

You can begin the work at once. And you can do it yourself if you have at hand the booklet on concrete which our Washington Information Bureau has for distribution. It contains all necessary instructions and many suggestions for building with concrete.

Just fill out the attached coupon and enclose four cents for postage and handling charge.

BEN RUDNER'S CAASE GOES TO JURY

VERDICT IS EXPECTED BEFORE NIGHTFALL IN DON MELLETT KILLING

Judge A. W. Agler's Charge in Canton Trial Consumes One Hour and Ten Minutes.

COURT EXCUSES ALTERNATE JUROR

Nine Extra Deputies on Duty at Court House Prepared to Handle Any Emergency.

By Robert Wallace.

CANTON, O., Feb. 23.—Possibility of a disagreement loomed today as the hours slipped by while a jury of seven women and five men deliberated upon the evidence as presented in the case of Ben Rudner, charged with first degree murder in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher. Although the jury had deliberated four hours no verdict had been reported at 2 p. m.

CANTON, O., Feb. 23.—With all indications pointing toward a verdict before nightfall, the case of Ben Rudner, Massillon, charged with first degree murder, following the killing of Don Mellett, Canton publisher, July 16, last, was given into the hands of the jury at 10:11 a. m. today.

The jury can return any one of five verdicts: Guilty of first degree murder without mercy, first degree murder with mercy recommendation, second degree murder, manslaughter, or acquittal.

Extra Guards at Jail.

Judge A. W. Agler's charge to the jury consumed one hour and ten minutes.

Stella Diebolt, the alternate juror, was dismissed, all regular jurors being in good health.

Nine extra deputies were on duty at the court house, precautions being taken to handle any possible emergency. Sheriff Gibson also has two extra men at the Stark county jail, well armed in case trouble starts there.

The endeavor to place the case in the jury's hands Tuesday night failed when defense counsel exceeded the time limit of two hours and thirty minutes, in making a plea for their client.

Chinese Lad Gets Spanking Because Of School Holiday

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23.—It's a long way from Cleveland to China, but Yee Tim, son of a local laundryman, was on his way there, riding a velocipede, when halted by traffic Policeman Al Wolfe.

With tear-stained face, the boy told his story. He had left his father's laundry on the East Side, heading due west in the direction of Canton, China, yesterday, because his father had spanked him for being absent from school, not knowing it was a holiday.

43 SANITARY POTTERY MEN LOSE IN COURT

U. S. Tribunal Upholds Conviction in Sherman Law Case.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Supreme Bench Rules in Charges of Price-fixing.

Conviction of 43 defendants charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in connection with fixing prices for sanitary pottery products, has been upheld by the United States supreme court, it was announced today.

The decision was in the Trenton, N. J., potteries case, in which the circuit court of appeals had held that the anti-trust law violation depended on whether a jury determined that the prices charged as a result of such control were unreasonable and in restraint of trade.

The court decided that conspiracy to get monopoly control of an industry constituted a violation of the anti-trust law and reversed the decision of the circuit court.

111 Corporations Included.

The 3 defendants included 20 individuals and 23 corporations who were brought to trial in the New York federal courts. The Trenton potteries and 110 other New Jersey sanitary pottery plants and other corporations in California, Illinois, Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania were named.

All of these companies were members of the "Sanitary Potters' Association" and manufactured 82 per cent of the country's sanitary earthenware, the government charged.

The association circulated "basic price-lists" among its members, and held monthly meetings, mostly in Pittsburgh, according to testimony. The 43 persons and firms were convicted on an indictment charging combination to restrain trade by fixing of

CHEVROLET CAR REPORTED STOLEN

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Ray Baker, near Chester, was stolen while parked in West Fifth street between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock last night. The machine was equipped with a winter top enclosure and carried West Virginia license 96-494, according to the police report.

The stolen car was recovered at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at Commerce and Tenth streets, Wellsville, where it had been abandoned.

CANTON ARMY DRIVES AHEAD AS SHANGHAI CHIEF RETIRES

FIGHT AT HONAN

Sun Chuan Evacuates Kashing Gap, Falling Back on Sunkiang.

BY ALFRED MEYER.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23.—The rout of Sun Chuan Fang, defender of Shanghai, continues.

With the Cantonese driving forward with repeated bed thrusts and parries, General Sun Chuan Fang was today forced to evacuate Kashing, falling back on Sunkiang, approximately 30 miles from Shanghai.

Meanwhile severe fighting between the northern allies is reported from Honan.

General Chang Chung Chang, son of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, is reported to have led a force of [illegible] white Russians into Honan and to have attacked Wu Pei Fu, inflicted severe casualties, which are reported to have mounted to 3,000 dead and injured among the Russians.

Wu Pei Fu Reported in Flight.

Many reports are in circulation today as to Wu Pei Fu. One is to the effect that he has fled to the mountains, while another declared he has gone over to the Cantonese.

Sun Chuan is also reported to have gone personally to Nanking to attempt a reorganization of his forces.

In Shanghai the situation is still regarded as serious. It now develops that the shells also dropped on the city yesterday came from two gunboats which went over to the Cantonese and their firing was also only ended when two French gunboats also drew alongside them and threatened to sink them unless they held their fire.

In the international settlement quiet prevails but solid bloc soldiers, sailors, marines, police and volunteers are all still standing by prepared for trouble.

The latest menace appears to be from a thousand head or more disorganized troops of Sun Chuan Fang who are roaming about the outskirts of the international settlement.

Barracks for 10,000 troops are being erected in Jessfield park.

British Marines at Hongkong.

HONGKONG, Feb. 23.—One thousand British marines arrived here today aboard the [illegible] steamer Minnesota. They will sail for Shanghai Thursday or Friday.

Military Race in Progress.

NANKING, Feb. 23.—There is a military race in progress between the forces of Chang Tso Lin and the Cantonese with Shanghai as the goal.

The Chang Tso Lin headquarters here claim that also the Cantonese are still 80 miles from Shanghai.

Woman and Husband Sue Railroad for $85,000 Damages

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Laura Hauser, of Bowling Green, O., filed suit against the Pennsylvania railroad in federal district court here today for alleged head damages of $75,000. In her petition she says that while riding in an automobile crossing the Vine street crossing in Alliance, the car was struck by a train. Her husband, Thomas Hauser, is suing the railroad for alleged damages in the sum of $10,000.

George Ogden, 61, Of Iowa, Dies in Beaver Falls, Pa.

George Ogden, 61, of Mount Ayre, Iowa, brother of [illegible] the late Dr. C. B. Ogden, died last night in the home of his daughter, Steffin Hill, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Steffin Hill church. The body will be taken to Ayre for burial.

THEIR MARRIAGE POSTPONED

Miss Charlotte Simms, with inset of Kenyon Anthony Stoddard.

On the eve of what was to have been an elaborate wedding ceremony, it was announced that the [illegible] of Miss Charlotte Simms, Dayton, O., heiress [illegible] Stoddard, young artist, also of Dayton, was indefinitely postponed. Resting at Clearwater, Fla., Miss Simms [illegible] filed a report that she and Stoddard had been secretly married last October at Newport, Ky. Postponement of the formal ceremony followed the serving of a divorce summons on Stoddard under the name of "Herman Albrecht Yaffee," a name by which he was formerly known.

Eight Prisoners Saw Bars and Flee Toledo Workhouse

Escape Through Dormitory Window Discovered When Men Fail to Appear for Breakfast.

TOLEDO, Feb. 23.—Police are scouring the vicinity for eight prisoners who escaped from the Toledo workhouse this morning, after sawing bars from a dormitory window.

City officials are making an investigation to find out where guards were at the time of the delivery.

The escape was discovered when the men failed to appear for breakfast.

Among those who escaped are:
Thomas J. Purtee, Gibsonburg, O.
James Franklin. Detroit.
Grover Grew, Lima, O.

President Signs Bill for Funds in War on Corn Borer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—President Coolidge today signed a bill, making immediately available $10,000,000 to eradicate the European corn borer, which has raised havoc in the corn belt.

EARTH TREMORS ROCK BULGARIA

SOFIA, Feb. 23.—Severe earth shocks have been felt in northern Bulgaria. Many buildings have been damaged, but there have been no reports of casualties.

Severe storms are raging along the Black Sea.

BELGRADE, Feb. 23.—The Balkan area is snowbound. The snow is 18 feet deep in some places and the thermometer has reached 10 degrees below zero. The snow, coming after the recent earthquake, has caused great suffering.

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—Many houses collapsed and several persons were injured here as the result of two earthquakes of short duration.

Ohio River Rising; Pittsburgh Warns More Water on Way

The Ohio river began to rise at Dam No. 8 shortly before noon today and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon had reached 15.5 feet. The rate of rise was about one-tenth of a foot an hour.

Both the Allegheny and the Monongahela rivers, which join at Pittsburgh, are also rising, according to word which was received at the dam.

Lock officials look for a flood stage in event of rain.

NEW LAUGHLIN TUNNEL KILN PLANT TO COST ONE MILLION

Austin Company of Cleveland is Low Bidder.

90-DAY LIMIT

Another Warehouse Will be Erected at No. 4 Shop.

Contract for the erection of a tunnel kiln plant, costing approximately $1,000,000 and occupying a site just south of the No. 6 plant at Newell, was awarded yesterday afternoon by the Homer Laughlin China company, to the Austin company, Cleveland contractors and builders.

115-Kiln Capacity.

The new plant, which will be the No. 7 unit, will have a capacity equal to 18 of the upright kilns and will increase the kiln capacity of the Laughlin company to 115.

Work will be started within the next week or 10 days and will be completed within 90 working days after March 15.

The shop will be equipped with two Harrop kilns, which will have a capacity 20 percent greater than the kilns now in use at the No. 6 plant. The decorating kiln will also be of the continuous type.

The bisque kiln will be 348 feet in length while the glost kiln will measure 308 feet from one end to the other. The latest type of machinery, more modern than that which is being used in the No. 6 works, will be installed.

To Connect With No. 6 Plant.

The main building will connect with the roof of the No. 6 plant. The south wall of the present structure is to be removed as a means of connecting the two units. The main structure which will be of brick and concrete, and 800 feet in length, half of it being 240 feet in width and the remainder 220 feet wide. It will have the same number of square feet floor space as the No. 6 works, or 800x230 feet.

Railroad siding to the new works will be a take-off of the switch to the No. 6 plant. The siding will be constructed before ground is broken for the main factory building.

There will be no basement under the new building. All departments will be located on the one floor. Clays and saggers for the plant will be pro-

Mrs. Nancy Farmer, 69, Dies in Home; Funeral on Friday

Mrs. Nancy Jane Farmer, 69, died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Carson, 1016 Florence street, after a week's illness.

Mrs. Farmer was born in Georgetown. She was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church and the Tribe of Ben Hur.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Thomas, Bedford; Curtis, Newell; Mrs. Margaret Butcher and Mrs. Mary Carson, both of this city; three brothers, Benjamin Laughlin, Chester; James Laughlin, Hookstown, Pa.; William Laughlin, this city, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Allison, of Hookstown.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Carson home, in charge of Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

FULTZ TO FACE TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Leroy Fultz, East Liverpool manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, will go on trial before Judge W. F. Duncan, of Findlay, in common pleas court, Lisbon next Wednesday upon a charge of criminal assault preferred by a 14-year-old girl.

Kinsey J. Wheeler, who is under a similar indictment as the result of information made by his 13-year-old stepdaughter, will face Judge Duncan on Thursday.

Robert Miller, Salem negro, will go on trial also on Thursday upon an indictment charging him with cutting with intent to wound.

PHYSICIAN DETAINED AFTER WIFE IS FOUND CLUBBED TO DEATH

Dr. Frank Loomis Says he Discovered Woman's Body in Parlor of Their Detroit Home.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—After a night's grilling, Dr. Frank Loomis was still detained by police today for further questioning in the slaying of his wife, Grace, 34, found clubbed to death in the parlor of their home.

Dr. Loomis reported that he discovered his wife's body in the middle of the floor when he returned from a short walk.

Blood on the settee and on the wall indicated Mrs. Loomis had been attacked while seated.

Dr. Loomis' coat was marked with blood. He explained that he got it on his coat when he lifted his wife's body, before he learned she was dead.

The floor and furniture were spattered with blood. A window pane in the parlor was broken. The glass had fallen to the outside. Officers assume it had been broken by a blow from within.

Two children, Janet, 6, and Frank, 8, were found asleep in their beds upstairs.

The fact that $100 which Dr. Loomis said he gave his wife could not be found led the doctor to suggest that robbery might have been the motive of the slayer. This theory was weakened, however, by the presence of three valuable rings on Mrs. Loomis' fingers, police say.

Dr. and Mrs. Loomis have been married nine years. She was a nurse in New York at the time of their marriage.

150 MEMBERS AND GUESTS ATTEND COLONIAL TEA GIVEN BY D. A. R.

Bethia Southwick Chapter Stages Washington Birthday Party at Moore Home.

More than 150 persons, guests and members of the Bethia Southwick chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, attended a Colonial tea at the home of Mrs. George W. Moore, of St. John street, yesterday afternoon. The hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock.

With a color scheme of red, white and blue carried out by presence at table and other advantageous spots of carnations, tulips and blue flowers, which effect was heightened by many of the organization's representatives being attired in Colonial costumes, the home was transformed into a scene strongly suggestive of pre and post independence days. In further keeping of the patriotic setting was the presence on a porch post of a single American flag, a certain sign to those attending of the place of meeting.

In the receiving line were the chapter's officials, all garbed in Colonial costumes. They included Mrs. George W. Moore, of East Liverpool, hostess and recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Lones, regent; Mr. J. E. Simpson, Wellsville; vice regent; Mrs. Carrie Southwick, Wellsville, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Hanley, East Liverpool, registrar; Mrs. William Wilson, East Liv-

43 SANITARY POTTERY MEN LOSE IN COURT

U. S. Tribunal Upholds Conviction in Sherman Law Case.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Supreme Bench Rules in Charges of Price-fixing.

Conviction of 43 defendants charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in connection with fixing prices for sanitary pottery products, has been upheld by the United States supreme court, it was announced today.

The decision was in the Trenton, N. J., potteries case, in which the circuit court of appeals had held that the anti-trust law violation depended on whether a jury determined that the prices charged as a result of such control were unreasonable and in restraint of trade.

The court decided that conspiracy to get monopoly control of an industry constituted a violation of the anti-trust law and reversed the decision of the circuit court.

111 Corporations Included.

The 43 defendants included 20 individuals and 23 corporations who were brought to trial in the New York federal courts. The Trenton potteries and 110 other New Jersey sanitary pottery plants and other corporations in California, Illinois, Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania were named.

All of these companies were members of the "Sanitary Potters' association" and manufactured 82 per cent of the country's sanitary earthenware, the government charged.

The association circulated "basic price-lists" among its members, and held monthly meetings, mostly in Pittsburgh, according to testimony. The 43 persons and firms were convicted on an indictment charging combination to restrain trade by fixing of

NEW LAUGHLIN TUNNEL KILN PLANT TO COST ONE MILLION

Austin Company of Cleveland is Low Bidder.

90-DAY LIMIT

Another Warehouse Will be Erected at No. 4 Shop.

Contract for the erection of a tunnel kiln plant, costing approximately $1,000,000 and occupying a site just south of the No. 6 plant at Newell, was awarded yesterday afternoon by the Homer Laughlin China company, to the Austin company, Cleveland contractors and builders.

115-Kiln Capacity.

The new plant, which will be the No. 7 unit, will have a capacity equal to 18 of the upright kilns and will increase the kiln capacity of the Laughlin company to 115.

Work will be started within the next week or 10 days and will be completed within 90 working days after March 15.

The shop will be equipped with two Harrop kilns, which will have a capacity 20 percent greater than the kilns now in use at the No. 6 plant. The decorating kiln will also be of the continuous type.

The bisque kiln will be 348 feet in length while the glost kiln will measure 308 feet from one end to the other. The latest type of machinery, more modern than that which is being used in the No. 6 works, will be installed.

To Connect With No. 6 Plant.

The main building will connect with the roof of the No. 6 plant. The south wall of the present structure is to be removed as a means of connecting the two units. The main structure which will be of brick and concrete, and 800 feet in length, half of it being 249 feet in width and the remainder 220 feet wide. It will have the same number of square feet floor space as the No. 6 works, or 800x230 feet.

Railroad siding to the new works will be a take-off of the switch to the No. 6 plant. The siding will be constructed before ground is broken for the main factory building.

There will be no basement under the new building. All departments will be located on the one floor. Clays and saggers for the plant will be pro-

Mrs. Nancy Farmer, 69, Dies in Home; Funeral on Friday

Mrs. Nancy Jane Farmer, 69, died yesterday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Mary Carson, 1016 Florence street, after a week's illness.

Mrs. Farmer was born in Georgetown. She was a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church and the Tribe of Ben Hur.

She is survived by the following sons and daughters: Thomas, Bedford; Curtis, Newell; Mrs. Margaret Butcher and Mrs. Mary Carson, both of this city; three brothers, Benjamin Laughlin, Chester; James Laughlin, Hookstown, Pa.; William Laughlin, this city, and one sister, Mrs. Ella Allison, of Hookstown.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in the Carson home, in charge of Rev. Frank G. Fowler, D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be made in Spring Grove cemetery.

FULTZ TO FACE TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Leroy Fultz, East Liverpool manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, will go on trial before Judge W. F. Duncan, of Findlay, in common pleas court, Lisbon next Wednesday upon a charge of criminal assault preferred by a 14-year-old girl.

Kinsey J. Wheeler, who is under a similar indictment as the result of information made by his 13-year-old stepdaughter, will face Judge Duncan on Thursday.

Robert Miller, Salem negro, will go on trial also on Thursday upon an indictment charging him with cutting with intent to wound.

PHYSICIAN DETAINED AFTER WIFE IS FOUND CLUBBED TO DEATH

Dr. Frank Loomis Says he Discovered Woman's Body in Parlor of Their Detroit Home.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—After a night's grilling, Dr. Frank Loomis was still detained by police today for further questioning in the slaying of his wife, Grace, 34, found clubbed to death in the parlor of their home.

Dr. Loomis reported that he discovered his wife's body in the middle of the floor when he returned from a short walk.

Blood on the settee and on the wall indicated Mrs. Loomis had been attacked while seated.

Dr. Loomis' coat was marked with blood. He explained that he got it on his coat when he lifted his wife's body, before he learned she was dead.

The floor and furniture were spattered with blood. A window pane in the parlor was broken. The glass had fallen to the outside. Officers assume it had been broken by a blow from within.

Two children, Janet, 6, and Frank, 8, were found asleep in their beds upstairs.

The fact that $100 which Dr. Loomis said he gave his wife could not be found led the doctor to suggest that robbery might have been the motive of the slayer. This theory was weakened, however, by the presence of three valuable rings on Mrs. Loomis' fingers, police say.

Dr. and Mrs. Loomis have been married nine years. She was a nurse in New York at the time of their marriage.

150 MEMBERS AND GUESTS ATTEND COLONIAL TEA GIVEN BY D. A. R.

Bethia Southwick Chapter Stages Washington Birthday Party at Moore Home.

More than 150 persons, guests and members of the Bethia Southwick chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, attended a Colonial tea at the home of Mrs. George W. Moore, of St. John street, yesterday afternoon. The hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock.

With a color scheme of red, white and blue carried out by presence at table and other advantageous spots of carnations, tulips and blue flowers, which effect was heightened by many of the organization's representatives being attired in Colonial costumes, the home was transformed into a scene strongly suggestive of pre and post independence days. In further keeping of the patriotic setting was the presence on a porch post of a single American flag, a certain sign to those attending of the place of meeting.

In the receiving line were the chapter's officials, all garbed in Colonial costumes. They included Mrs. George W. Moore, of East Liverpool, hostess and recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Lones, regent; Mr. J. E. Simpson, Wellsville; vice regent; Mrs. Carrie Southwick, Wellsville, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Hanley, East Liverpool, registrar; Mrs. William Wilson, East Liv-

STREET CARS STOP AS ROCK SNAPS WIRES

Transmission Line Down at Midnight at Walker's.

SLIPS ON ROAD

Rocks, Mud and Tree Trunks Strewn Over Highway.

The Wellsville-East Liverpool highway between Brady's "Cut" and the top of the slope a short distance west of Jethro was dotted from one end to the other and in some places almost covered with rock, mud, trees and other debris as a result of a series of small slips between midnight and morning.

Street car service over the lines of the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company was checked at midnight as cars were making their final trips, when a large rock, snapped off a trolley wire support and allowed the wire to drop.

A work crew from East Liverpool was dispatched to the scene and patched up the transmission lines, while passengers were transferred from the cars, eastbound, to another car sent from the barns.

At one point a short distance east of the narrowest place along the hillside, at Walkers, mud and rock slid down and covered the road. Over the outside edge where the debris was the shallowest, motor vehicles were driven this morning, however, drivers being compelled in places to wriggle from one side of the road to the other to escape rocks. A huge tree trunk came down off the hillside and was moved to one side to permit traffic through.

A large number of motorists last night used the Campground detour.

PERSONALS

KEEP COUGHS OUT OF "DANGER ZONE"

Coughing irritates the throat and makes you cough more. The more you cough, the harder it is to stop. And a cough threatens serious trouble if you let inflammation get into your bronchial tubes. It may spread into the "danger zone"—for these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops coughs quickly — almost instantly in spasmodic attacks. And it does far more; it brings lasting relief as its soothing, healing powers are absorbed deep down into the bronchial tubes, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

With the first swallow of Cherry Pectoral you feel its comforting warmth as it loosens up the tightness of congestion. It stimulates expectoration—Natures helpful plan for getting rid of phlegm and germs. Absorbed into the membranes themselves, this concentrated, hospital-proved medicine not only stops your cough but corrects the cause. And that is why relief is immediate and lasting.

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable—for children and grown people. At all druggists—60c; twice as much, $1.00. 4a2c

Hope of Agreement Arises Out of Miners' Parley Ashes

Union Leader Takes Steps Toward Peace in Districts Outside of Ohio and Other Parts of Competitive Field.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23.—Out of the ashes of the joint wage conference here arose a ray of hope that an agreement, if only make-shift in nature, would be signed between soft coal miners and a goodly portion of the operators to avert a general strike after April 1.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reported to members of the miner's policy committee, meeting in executive session today, that steps already have been taken to swing into line operators in the districts lying outside the central competitive field of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The conference of central field representatives adjourned since yesterday after failing to negotiate a new contract.

Was reliably declared that Lewis has definite assurance from the leading outlying operators, and some in Illinois and Indiana, that they will accept the union scale as soon as the shouting and timult following the break here has subsided.

Plan Open Shop In Ohio.

A five-year contract, with a more flexible wage provision than at present, is being advanced as a possible basis of settlement.

Under this plan the day scale would be revised each year to bring it in closer relationship with the non-union wage. If Lewis finally agrees to this proposition he may get a majority of Illinois and Indiana operators to sign up.

Unless they are clubbed into signing by a coalition of the union and outlying Illinois and Indiana owners, the Ohio and Pennsylvania operators are at present disposed to run open shop after April 1. This was clearly indicated in their explanatory statement which said that the miners' demand for a renewal of the present $7.50 a day contract was "indefensible"

The policy meeting today would tie up all mine parleys so far as Miami is concerned. Any future conferences probably will be held in a city adjacent to the central competitive field.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The forward movement in the railroad, equipment and industrial stocks was promptly resumed with the beginning of trading today. Further reflection over the Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad decision strengthened the convictions of the bulls that no sweeping regulations had been set up in relation to railroad property valuation for rate making purposes, and the leading rail stocks gold up a point or more at the opening.

Baldwin's Locomotive advance to 201, crossing the 200-mark for the first time in history, was the feature of the industrials. Loaning flat after the close of Monday's market, the stock itself gave evidence of the large increase in the short interest. Daily transactions in Baldwin are in excess of the total floating supply, and the pool has been pressing its advantage against the shorts.

The long awaited cuts in crude oil were announced today, at the same time as the weekly production report of the Petroleum Institute, showing output for last week at the new peak of 2,472,000 barrels a day. Gasoline prices were soft, with wholesale declining to below eight cents a gallon. Oil stocks were fairly steady, with fractional declines in the active issues.

Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Wabash and other well known railroad shares rose enthusiastically in active trading, in response to aggressive buying from various sources. United States Steel advanced to 160¾, the highest price in its history, exceeding the best record made in the raging bull market of last October. Elsewhere the market was inactive and featureless, with prices moving in narrow price channels.

Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent.

Prince Carol Still Awaits Permission To Visit Bucharest

PARIS, Feb. 23.—Prince Carol still awaits permission from King Ferdinand to visit him.

"It is up to my father now," said Prince Carl today, informing the International News Service that he has had no reply to his request that he be permitted to visit the sick king of Roumania.

"Before leaving Roumania I signed an agreement not to return for ten years without permission. My father must get this permission for me. I have made clear to him my earnest desire to see him before it is too late.

"I am not only willing to leave after a visit with him and my family, but I will insist upon being allowed to return to Paris."

Argentina will export more than 1,100,000 bushels of wheat this year.

WELLSVILLE MEN FACE BRIBERY TRIAL ON MONDAY

FINDLAY JUDGE TO PRESIDE IN "LAY OFF" CASE

Rocco Carbicella and Frank Fusco are Accused.

SECOND HEARING

Convicted Last Fall, But Were Granted New Trial.

Rocco Carbicella and Frank Fusco, Wellsville men, indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of bribery, will go on trial for a second time in common pleas court, Lisbon, Monday, before Judge W. F. Duncan, of Findlay, Hancock county.

Carbicella and Fusco are accused of having attempted to bribe Sheriff George Wright to "lay off" the investigation of the murder of Patrolman James Kenney and, according to the charges against them, they offered to pay Wright $390, at a conference in the sheriff's office.

Fusco and Carbicella were convicted by a jury last fall and were granted a new trial by former Judge W. H. Spence.

Women's shoes of half patent leather and half white kid are being introduced in Paris.

KEEP COUGHS OUT OF "DANGER ZONE"

Coughing irritates the throat and makes you cough more. The more you cough, the harder it is to stop. And a cough threatens serious trouble if you let inflammation get into your bronchial tubes. It may spread into the "danger zone"—for these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops coughs quickly — almost instantly in spasmodic attacks. And it does far more; it brings lasting relief as its soothing, healing powers are absorbed deep down into the bronchial tubes, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

With the first swallow of Cherry Pectoral you feel its comforting warmth as it loosens up the tightness of congestion. It stimulates expectoration—Natures helpful plan for getting rid of phlegm and germs. Absorbed into the membranes themselves, this concentrated, hospital-proved medicine not only stops your cough but corrects the cause. And that is why relief is immediate and lasting.

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable—for children and grown people. At all druggists—60c; twice as much, $1.00. 4a2c

Hope of Agreement Arises Out of Miners' Parley Ashes

Union Leader Takes Steps Toward Peace in Districts Outside of Ohio and Other Parts of Competitive Field.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23.—Out of the ashes of the joint wage conference here arose a ray of hope that an agreement, if only make-shift in nature, would be signed between soft coal miners and a goodly portion of the operators to avert a general strike after April 1.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reported to members of the miner's policy committee, meeting in executive session today, that steps already have been taken to swing into line operators in the districts lying outside the central competitive field of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The conference of central field representatives adjourned since yesterday after failing to negotiate a new contract.

Was reliably declared that Lewis has definite assurance from the leading outlying operators, and some in Illinois and Indiana, that they will accept the union scale as soon as the shouting and timult following the break here has subsided.

Plan Open Shop In Ohio.

A five-year contract, with a more flexible wage provision than at present, is being advanced as a possible basis of settlement.

Under this plan the day scale would be revised each year to bring it in closer relationship with the non-union wage. If Lewis finally agrees to this proposition he may get a majority of Illinois and Indiana operators to sign up.

Unless they are clubbed into signing by a coalition of the union and outlying Illinois and Indiana owners, the Ohio and Pennsylvania operators are at present disposed to run open shop after April 1. This was clearly indicated in their explanatory statement which said that the miners' demand for a renewal of the present $7.50 a day contract was "indefensible."

The policy meeting today would tie up all mine parleys so far as Miami is concerned. Any future conferences probably will be held in a city adjacent to the central competitive field.

REPORTS FROM STOCK-MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The forward movement in the railroad, equipment and industrial stocks was promptly resumed with the beginning of trading today. Further reflection over the Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad decision strengthened the convictions of the bulls that no sweeping regulations had been set up in relation to railroad property valuation for rate making purposes, and the leading rail stocks sold up a point or more at the opening.

Baldwin's Locomotive advance to 201, crossing the 200-mark for the first time in history, was the feature of the industrials. Loaning flat after the close of Monday's market, the stock itself gave evidence of the large increase in the short interest. Daily transactions in Baldwin are in excess of the total floating supply, and the pool has been pressing its advantage against the shorts.

The long awaited cuts in crude oil were announced today, at the same time as the weekly production report of the Petroleum Institute, showing output for last week at the new peak of 2,472,000 barrels a day. Gasoline prices were soft, with wholesale declining to below eight cents a gallon. Oil stocks were fairly steady, with fractional declines in the active issues.

Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Wabash and other well known railroad shares rose enthusiastically in active trading, in response to aggressive buying from various sources. United States Steel advanced to 160¾, the highest price in its history, exceeding the best record made in the raging bull market of last October. Elsewhere the market was inactive and featureless, with prices moving in narrow price channels.

Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent.

Prince Carol Still Awaits Permission To Visit Bucharest

PARIS, Feb. 23.—Prince Carol still awaits permission from King Ferdinand to visit him.

"It is up to my father now," said Prince Carl today, informing the International News Service that he has had no reply to his request that he be permitted to visit the sick king of Roumania.

"Before leaving Roumania I signed an agreement not to return for ten years without permission. My father must get this permission for me. I have made clear to him my earnest desire to see him before it is too late.

"I am not only willing to leave after a visit with him and my family, but I will insist upon being allowed to return to Paris."

SUPREME COURT FREES VIZZIRI

Highest Tribunal Rules In Case of Brooke County Suspects.

One of the men held in the so-called "blackhand" cases at Wellsburg was ordered freed from custody but the others were refused their freedom in the decision yesterday of the supreme court on writs of habeas corpus.

The distinction lay in the fact that the case of Tony Vizziri was brought to the supreme court directly from the magistrate who committed him, while the others already had been refused habeas corpus writs in the Brooke county circuit court.

In Vizziri's case, the opinion prepared by Judge Hatcher pointed out that it did not appear in the presentation of the habeas corpus case in the supreme court what evidence was given at the hearing before Justice of the Peace A. B. Collett. Neither did the return of Sheriff R. M. Lowe make any allegations of facts tending to show Vizziri's guilt, the court said and since evidence of sufficient cause was held to be necessary to support the magistrate's jurisdiction and it did not appear that such evidence was before him, the supreme court ordered Vizziri discharged from custody.

The opinion in the case of Joe Presty, Paul Soreva and Ralph Di Pasquale, however, pointed out that the return showed they had been given a hearing before Judge J. B. Sommerville in circuit court and that he had refused a writ of habeas corpus. Since this was a judgment entered of record which had not been reversed, the court held it was conclusive on another application and dismissed the habeas corpus it had awarded in their cases.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCH

Evangelistic services last night in the First Methodist Episcopal church were largely attended. Rev. R. C. Ehrheart had as his subject "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out."

Tonight the sermon subject will be "Man Looketh on the Outward Appearance." The male quartet will sing. Miss Mable Mosser of Newell will sing at the meeting tomorrow night.

FORMER AUDITOR LEAVES HOSPITAL

John C. Bond, deposed state auditor, has left the Huntington state hospital and a report on his mental condition has been sent to the United States Veterans' bureau, it was announced at the hospital. Bond left the hospital yesterday and has returned to his home in Charleston.

Officials at the hospital, where he has been under observation by physicians since January 29, refused to disclose the nature of the report or their findings as to his mental condition.

Bond was admitted to the hospital on recommendation of the Veterans' Bureau.

REV. G. H. ROWE TO GIVE SERMON

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, of New Castle, Pa., will deliver an evangelistic sermon at 7:30 this evening in the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. Rowe, who is president of the Young People's societies of the Pittsburgh district, was the principal speaker at the convention which closed last night in the Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Following the sermon a Young People's society will be organized and officers elected. The public is invited.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Engraving Machine That Forged Francs Sent to Junk Heap

BUDAPEST.—The engraving machine which printed the millions of forged francs for Prince Windischgraetz and the other convicted Hungarians, has been sent to the junk heap. The machine was used as evidence in court and then broken up. It has now been sold as scrap iron by the government for ten dollars.

The machine was found by the police on the premises of a local printing firm to whom the forgers sold it. The firm claimed the ten dollars which has been given to them.

Vienna Engineers Plan Giant Subway Garage Under Opera Ring

VIENNA.—A gigantic subterranean garage to hold 500 autos to be built under the Opera Ring, the city's most famous thoroughfare, is planned by the municipal engineers. Because it was compactly built before there were motor cars, Vienna has no place to house them and any one living in the center of the city must go several miles for his car.

The new garage will be rented to those living within the center district, and if the city makes a profit, more will be built in other districts.

It is also planned to build a subway entrance for autos to the Opera house in connection with the garage, which would relieve the congestion on the Ring when long lines of machines are waiting to drive to the playhouse.

SUPREME COURT FREES VIZZIRI

Highest Tribunal Rules In Case of Brooke County Suspects.

One of the men held in the so-called "blackhand" cases at Wellsburg was ordered freed from custody but the others were refused their freedom in the decision yesterday of the supreme court on writs of habeas corpus.

The distinction lay in the fact that the case of Tony Vizziri was brought to the supreme court directly from the magistrate who committed him, while the others already had been refused habeas corpus writs in the Brooke county circuit court.

In Vizziri's case, the opinion prepared by Judge Hatcher pointed out that it did not appear in the presentation of the habeas corpus case in the supreme court what evidence was given at the hearing before Justice of the Peace A. B. Collett. Neither did the return of Sheriff R. M. Lowe make any allogations of facts tending to show Vizziri's guilt, the court said and since evidence of sufficient cause was held to be necessary to support the magistrate's jurisdiction and it did not appear that such evidence was before him, the supreme court ordered Vizziri discharged from custody.

The opinion in the case of Joe Presty, Paul Soreva and Ralph Di Pasquale, however, pointed out that the return showed they had been given a hearing before Judge J. B. Sommerville in circuit court and that he had refused a writ of habeas corpus. Since this was a judgment entered of record which had not been reversed, the court held it was conclusive on another application and dismissed the habeas corpus it had awarded in their cases.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCH

Evangelistic services last night in the First Methodist Episcopal church were largely attended. Rev. R. C. Ehrheart had as his subject "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out."

Tonight the sermon subject will be "Man Looketh on the Outward Appearance." The male quartet will sing. Miss Mable Mosser of Newell will sing at the meeting tomorrow night.

FORMER AUDITOR LEAVES HOSPITAL

John C. Bond, deposed state auditor, has left the Huntington state hospital and a report on his mental condition has been sent to the United States Veterans' bureau, it was announced at the hospital. Bond left the hospital yesterday and has returned to his home in Charleston.

Officials at the hospital, where he has been under observation by physicians since January 29, refused to disclose the nature of the report or their findings as to his mental condition.

Bond was admitted to the hospital on recommendation of the Veterans' Bureau.

REV. G. H. ROWE TO GIVE SERMON

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, of New Castle, Pa., will deliver an evangelistic sermon at 7:30 this evening in the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. Rowe, who is president of the Young People's societies of the Pittsburgh district, was the principal speaker at the convention which closed last night in the Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Following the sermon a Young People's society will be organized and officers elected. The public is invited.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Engraving Machine That Forged Francs Sent to Junk Heap

BUDAPEST.—The engraving machine which printed the millions of forged francs for Prince Windischgraetz and the other convicted Hungarians, has been sent to the junk heap. The machine was used as evidence in court and then broken up. It has now been sold as scrap iron by the government for ten dollars.

The machine was found by the police on the premises of a local printing firm to whom the forgers sold it. The firm claimed the ten dollars which has been given to them.

Vienna Engineers Plan Giant Subway Garage Under Opern Ring

VIENNA.—A gigantic subterranean garage to hold 500 autos to be built under the Opera Ring, the city's most famous thoroughfare, is planned by the municipal engineers. Because it was compactly built before there were motor cars, Vienna has no place to house them and any one living in the center of the city must go several miles for his car.

The new garage will be rented to those living within the center district, and if the city makes a profit, more will be built in other districts.

It is also planned to build a subway entrance for autos to the Opera house in connection with the garage, which would relieve the congestion on the Ring when long lines of machines are waiting to drive to the playhouse.

Death of Judson Harmon

Ohio grieves today at the passing of Judson Harmon, twice governor of his native state, attorney general in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland, judge of the superior court of Hamilton county and one of the outstanding members of the bar of the United States, whose death yesterday in a Chincinnati hospital was a shock to his friends.

Despite his 81 years, this old-school Democrat, who was the Buckeye State party's choice for the presidential nomination on more than one occasion, among them the Baltimore convention that named Woodrow Wilson, was active until a few days before his last illness.

As Chief Justice William H. Taft of the United States supreme court said when he learned of the death of his fellow Ohionan, he was "broadminded, hard working, able and learned in the law and these qualities distinguished him as a leader of the bar in his practice after he left the bench."

And his political influence was not confined to his own party. He was elected governor in 1908 and re-elected in 1910, and Republican votes played no small part in his victory. His first term election was at a time when Buckeye state electors looked askance at a Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

His record as the state's chieftain is one of which he had many reasons to be proud. During his second term Ohio's constitution was practically rewritten, and prior to the constitutional changes, under his influence, the workmen's compensation law—the principle that industry must care for those injured in its employment—was written into the statutes. And one of his appointments on the original board to administer this law was an East Liverpool man, Thomas J. Duffy, then president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, who served until a year ago, having been re-appointed by Governors Cox and Donahey.

And, too, Judson Harmon was responsible for the law limiting tax rates, and popularized the economy slogan in Ohio.

Although as another writer has said, ex-Governor Harmon was of the political type of Grover Cleveland, and he found himself out of step with insistence on direct legislation, primaries, etc., his native state owes much to him.

Judson Harmon was respected and esteemed, and his death marks the passing of one of Ohio's distinguished sons.

Local And Federal Rights

When a policeman in Cleveland tried to stop two men from crossing the street against a traffic sign, they declared the officer himself under arrest, and took him to the office of the federal district attorney, charging him with resisting federal officers. They were special revenue agents.

Then the city authorities got mad, and busy. The result was that when the head of the intelligence service of the revenue bureau come from Washington to investigate the case, he advised the smart revenue agents to resign, and thus avoid more serious trouble.

The incident served to bring out certain truths not generally realized. Government agents, it was stated, are always expected to "use tact, discretion and common senses." As for the two men in question, it seemed like a joke to call them members of the "intelligence service."

"In no circumstances," declared their boss, "are such agents granted immunity, by virtue of their federal service, from strict observance of state laws and local police regulations."

Thus representative, republican government is vindicated, and state and municipal governments are left free to make and administer their own laws.

Sometimes local authorities overlook the fact that they possess all powers not expressly given to the federal government by the constitution. And sometimes, as in this case, federal officers themselves overlook it.

Town Farmers

Henry Ford thinks it would be better if farmers lived in town. In a recent interview, he pointed to a farmhouse that was obviously run-down and unprofitable, as a poor place to bring up a family, and expressed his pity for the children doomed to such an environment.

"That farmer doesn't have to live out there," said Ford. "He could live in town, drive out in a cheap—priced car, do his farming and return every night to a habitable, modern home."

With inventions now available, Ford insists, the farmer can "cut his work to almost nothing." Modern machinery and modern methods could enable him to operate his farm profitably, working short hours, and at the same time having all the advantages of the city for comfort, recreation, social opportunities and education for his children.

The arrangement he suggests is really not new, except in the United States. In many foreign countries, especially in Europe, farmers for centuries have been accustomed to living in village communities and going out every morning to their farm work as industrial workers go to the factory. That would be easier still with our modern transportation facilities.

There is another possibility, however, that doesn't seem to have occurred to Ford. The automobile and other modern mechanical conveniences not only make it possible for the farmer to live in town, but also for the farmer to live on his farm, running to town or to see his rural friends quickly and easily, and enjoying in his farmhouse nearly all of the labor-saving devices and civilized comforts that the city family has.

My Favorite Stories

THE BOOK THAT GRANDPA TOOK

Since Rex Beach himself laughed at this story when I brought it to him, there is no reason why the general public should be denied the opportunity to laugh at it, too. I had it at first hand from a young lady who figured in it.

This young lady is now engaged in newspaper work. But before she took up journalism she was an assistant at a public library in Pittsburgh.

One day as she sat at her desk a sixteen-year-old girl approached her and told her that she had come to pay for a book which had been lost.

"What was the book?" asked the librarian.

"It was Mr. Rex Beach's 'Going Some.' I took it out four weeks ago to read it, but we had some trouble in our family and the book was lost and I'm afraid I can't return it; so, under the rules, I suppose I'll have to pay for it."

Judging by the girl's appearance, the librarian figured that she did not belong to a family in particularly affluent circumstances, so sympathy moved her to make further inquiry.

"I would suggest," she said, "that you make further search for the missing volume. Surely it must be somewhere around your home. Perhaps if you hunt again thoroughly you may find where it is."

"Oh, we know where it is," said the girl, "That's just the trouble."

"Where is it?"

"Well, you see, grandpa died."

"What has your grandfather's death to do with Mr. Rex Beach's 'Going Some'?"

"Well, ma'am, after he was laid out in his coffin the undertaker used it to prop up grandpa's chin with. And everybody forgot about it until after the funeral was over. And so the book is out at the cemetery, with grandpa."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—That slight curving sweep of East Side street known as Mulberry Bend is as in many ways one of the most colorful rural sections in the city. There is nothing gaudy about it. Indeed it is as glowering as the gray tower of the Tombs in the background.

The buildings are smudged and there is the feeling of a grim inertia which is liable to flare out at any moment. It is the old rendezvous of the Five Points gang and the thump of the walloping fist is still heard.

There are cellar dives and bad proprietors with scars and stubby pompadours. Young girls often have the hardness of early worldly wisdom. The Bend seems sluggish to uptown curiosity. The arrival of a patrol wagon or ambulance does not stir it.

The sidewalk—the inner arc is a slight park—is narrow and bad rather jostling for the timid. Blood has been spilled on the walk many times. Sallow, tired women wrangle way with their children from upper windows and almost every corner has its knot of gangsters.

The eating places are numerous and are mostly like the dirty spoon lunch rooms of the Bowery. Many of them dispense jiggers of anisette with the thick cupped coffee. The patronage seems a blur of hooked noses, cunning eyes and loosely parted lips.

The distinct impression of Mulberry Bend is that it is itself with none of the tourist charm of Chinatown, the Bowery or a gaudier Broadway. It is about the only section of Manhattan remaining not exactly tough—but rough and primitive.

Some of the drug stores even have a lone green and real bottle in the window. At night it is rather dingy and there is a far-away jangle of electric pianos and a medley of harsh voices. One day it will be gobbled up in the maw of Progress—and that will be a pity.

And around South Ferry the old clam sellers of another day sit in their stalls serving galloping commuters from their steaming array. The clam seller flourished in the early days of the original Astors.

The briskest type of youth in all Manhattan is the bond salesman from Wall street. He is given to shooting his cuffs, flirting back his hair, tapping cigarette ends on his thumb nail and yanking his cravat forward into a semi-loop. His sophistication is utterly suffocating and he is at home everywhere in the breezy, familiar and rather patronizing manner of one who feels he is at the top of the world. Schwab to him is "Charlie," and anyone who hasn't a spry ear cocked for a gilt-edged proposition is a hick a hopeless sap.

The name that occupies the most the greatest number of pages in the New York telephone directory is Cohen. Next to Jones. And the next name to that is Smith. Fifth. Most of the Cohens live in the Bronx not Bronx. The Smiths are not particular.

The open air hardware stores market along West Broadway on pleasant days brings out the old-fashioned old-fashioned hatless and aproned housewives wives, who come to replenish their kitchen kitchen utensils. They are types rarely seen only seen elsewhere around the town.

A meticulous gentleman man who inspects the supplies of his bootlegger was shocked the other day to see to see that a waggish printer had made the label inside the whiskey labels read: "Bottled in Bond in Barn."

HASKIN'S LETTER

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Curtailing Crops.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Cotton is not the only crop that should or would be curtailed this year, according to a gloomy note in the annual agricultural outlook report of the department headed by Secretary Jardine. Livestock producers appear in prospect a favorable year, that is, the report says, but, with an average season, a continuation of relatively low or low returns from most cash crops is probable unless acreages are reduced.

The purchasing power of the farmer of foreign countries for agricultural products of 1927 doubtless will show some improvement, but that does not mean that our exports will increase materially. On the contrary it is probable that foreign production of breadstuffs, fruits, and animal products will increase will reduce foreign demand for our exportable surpluses of these products.

To chase away a little of the gloom that may be superinduced by these predictions the report says it says that a slightly larger supply of farm labor will probably be available in most in regions adjacent to industrial centers, and wages may be lower. No appreciable changes in the prices of farm machinery and building materials materials are to be expected, but wholesale prices of fertilizers are lower than last year last year.

As to cotton the warning is that production must be curtailed drastically the coming season to restore the balance between consumption consumption and supply at remunerative prices to growers. With average yields a production of about 30 per cent in acreage appears necessary to give growers the best gross returns for their 1927 crop, and it is stated that the chances for profitable production will be best if the acreage is small, costs held to a minimum, and efforts made to improve the quality of the crop.

This remedy for the cotton growers' ills is substantially the same as that prescribed by the commission appointed some months ago by President Coolidge.

Not a Popular Prescription.

It is not exactly a popular prescription with the men who grow cotton, at least, not with them individually They may agree collectively that the thing for them to do is to plant from two-thirds to three-fourths as many acres this year as they did last, and they may be thoroughly convinced that this policy will mean that they will get far more for a small crop in 1927 than they did for a bumper crop in 1926. Individually, however, they dislike the idea of cutting down their acreage. Each wants the other to do it, thereby making higher prices reasonably certain, but would like to plant every possible acre himself in order to get a maximum profit out of the higher prices.

Then, too, strangely enough, many of the cotton planters have a grievance against the government, holding that it was the government's estimate of the big 1926 crop that precipitated the break in cotton prices. They do not question the accuracy of the estimate, but take the stand that if no estimate were made speculators and buyers would have no official data with which to attack and beat down cotton prices.

These critics, it is pointed out here, overlook the fact that in other years government estimates showing a short crop have brought about sharp advances in the prices which they received for their product. Moreover, prior to the time the official estimates were made at stated times, conditions were chaotic in the cotton market. Estimates were made by various interests. Some were honest, but many were fakes, put out with whatever appearance of reliability could be attached to them, for the sole purpose of influencing the market.

Cotton "bulls" who were playing the market for higher prices put out estimates that would tend to start an upward trend, while the "bears" would issue estimates which if credited sufficiently would send prices tobogganing. Meanwhile, actual buyers of the South's great product were up in the air most of the time. They had to build up big organizations to gather the information upon which they could make their own estimates which they would know to be dependable, or trust to luck and hope that they might hit the right.

At the same time the coton growers never knew what to do about selling their crop. They might sell one day and then be sick a few days later because they had not held off for a higher price, and they might hold off and be even sicker because they had not sold a few days before. There was nothing to establish a fairly certain market trend. Then came the government estimates, disinterested and as accurate as they could humanly be made, and a reliable basis for prices was established.

Outlook for Other Crops.

Now the government, in the annual agricultural outlook report, is advising farmers to cut practically all other crops. Wheat growers are warned that they can hardly expect to receive returns for the 1927 crop similar to those which have prevailed for the 1926 crop, especially of production should be materially increased. As to corn, the report says the demand for the 1927 crop is expected to be little if any greater than for the 1926 crop. With probably increase of corn acreage in the South and with no prospect of increased demand, growers are faced with the likelihood of lower prices unless acreage is substantially reduced.

Oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, hay, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, onions, beans, oranges, grapefruit, apples, peaches, grapes, strawberries, cantaloupes, and watermelons are other farm products the production of which should be held steady or curtailed this season, according to the government experts.

Livestock products, it is stated, should be held at about the present level, allowing for the increase in population from year to year, in order to maintain prices. The dairy industry, on the other hand, is reported to be on a stronger basis than a year ago. Dairymen are likely to have a moderately favorable spread between the price of feed and the price of dairy products. Egg and poultry producers, too, in most sections of the country, may expect a fairly satisfactory year, although perhaps not as profitable as 1926.

Tobacco of the cigarette types is in increasing demand, but not sufficient to stand heavily increased acreage. Producers of export types are faced with increased foreign competition in a contracting market. Growers in the flue-cured region should guard against over-production, and quality rather than quantity should be the aim of growers in the cigar leaf districts.

Sugar prices, it is noted, are trending toward higher levels, with world production below that of last year and increasing consumption.

"But for all this warning," says one of the experts, "it is doubtful if crops will be materially reduced, except by weather conditions or other natural causes. The average farmer is an incurable optimist and can not restrain himself from producing the most he can of everything he raises."

Death of Judson Harmon

Ohio grieves today at the passing of Judson Harmon, twice governor of his native state, attorney general in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland, judge of the superior court of Hamilton county and one of the outstanding members of the bar of the United States, whose death yesterday in a Chincinnati hospital was a shock to his friends.

Despite his 81 years, this old-school Democrat, who was the Buckeye State party's choice for the presidential nomination on more than one occasion, among them the Baltimore convention that named Woodrow Wilson, was active until a few days before his last illness.

As Chief Justice William H. Taft of the United States supreme court said when he learned of the death of his fellow Ohionan, he was "broadminded, hard working, able and learned in the law and these qualities distinguished him as a leader of the bar in his practice after he left the bench."

And his political influence was not confined to his own party. He was elected governor in 1908 and re-elected in 1910, and Republican votes played no small part in his victory. His first term election was at a time when Buckeye state electors looked askance at a Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

His record as the state's chieftain is one of which he had many reasons to be proud. During his second term Ohio's constitution was practically rewritten, and prior to the constitutional changes, under his influence, the workmen's compensation law—the principle that industry must care for those injured in its employment—was written into the statutes. And one of his appointments on the original board to administer this law was an East Liverpool man, Thomas J. Duffy, then president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, who served until a year ago, having been re-appointed by Governors Cox and Donahey.

And, too, Judson Harmon was responsible for the law limiting tax rates, and popularized the economy slogan in Ohio.

Although as another writer has said, ex-Governor Harmon was of the political type of Grover Cleveland, and he found himself out of step with insistence on direct legislation, primaries, etc., his native state owes much to him.

Judson Harmon was respected and esteemed, and his death marks the passing of one of Ohio's distinguished sons.

Local And Federal Rights

When a policeman in Cleveland tried to stop two men from crossing the street against a traffic sign, they declared the officer himself under arrest, and took him to the office of the federal district attorney, charging him with resisting federal officers. They were special revenue agents.

Then the city authorities got mad, and busy. The result was that when the head of the intelligence service of the revenue bureau come from Washington to investigate the case, he advised the smart revenue agents to resign, and thus avoid more serious trouble.

The incident served to bring out certain truths not generally realized. Government agents, it was stated, are always expected to "use tact, discretion and common senses." As for the two men in question, it seemed like a joke to call them members of the "intelligence service."

"In no circumstances," declared their boss, "are such agents granted immunity, by virtue of their federal service, from strict observance of state laws and local police regulations."

Thus representative, republican government is vindicated, and state and municipal governments are left free to make and administer their own laws.

Sometimes local authorities overlook the fact that they possess all powers not expressly given to the federal government by the constitution. And sometimes, as in this case, federal officers themselves overlook it.

Town Farmers

Henry Ford thinks it would be better if farmers lived in town. In a recent interview, he pointed to a farmhouse that was obviously run-down and unprofitable, a poor place to bring up a family, and expressed his pity for the children doomed to such an environment.

"That farmer doesn't have to live out there," said Ford. "He could live in town, drive out in a cheap-priced car, do his farming and return every night to a habitable, modern home."

With inventions now available, Ford insists, the farmer can "cut his work to almost nothing." Modern machinery and modern methods could enable him to operate his farm profitably, working short hours, and at the same time having all the advantages of the city for comfort, recreation, social opportunities and education for his children.

The arrangement he suggests is really not new, except in the United States. In many foreign countries, especially in Europe, farmers for centuries have been accustomed to living in village communities and going out every morning to their farm work as industrial workers go to the factory. That would be easier still with our modern transportation facilities.

There is another possibility, however, that doesn't seem to have occurred to Ford. The automobile and other modern mechanical conveniences not only make it possible for the farmer to live in town, but also for the farmer to live on his farm, running to town or to see his rural friends quickly and easily, and enjoying in his farmhouse nearly all of the lavor-saving devices and civilized comforts that the city family has.

THE BOOK THAT GRANDPA TOOK

Since Rex Beach himself laughed at this story when I brought it to him, there is no reason why the general public should be denied the opportunity to laugh at it, too. I had it at first hand from a young lady who figured in it.

This young lady is now engaged in newspaper work. But before she took up journalism she was an assistant at a public library in Pittsburgh.

One day as she sat at her desk a sixteen-year-old girl approached her and told her that she had come to pay for a book which had been lost.

"What was the book?" asked the librarian.

"It was Mr. Rex Beach's 'Going Some.' I took it out four weeks ago to read it, but we had some trouble in our family and the book was lost and I'm afraid I can't return it; so, under the rules, I suppose I'll have to pay for it."

Judging by the girl's appearance, the librarian figured that she did not belong to a family in particularly affluent circumstances, so sympathy moved her to make further inquiry.

"I would suggest," she said, "that you make further search for the missing volume. Surely it must be somewhere around your home. Perhaps if you hunt again thoroughly you may find where it is."

"Oh, we know where it is," said the girl. "That's just the trouble."

"Where is it?"

"Well, you see, grandpa died."

'What has your grandfather's death to do with Mr. Rex Beach's "Going Some'?"

"Well, ma'am, after he was laid out in his coffin the undertaker used it to prop up grandpa's chin with. And everybody forgot about it until after the funeral was over. And so the book is out at the cemetery, with grandpa."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—That slight curving sweep of East Side street known as Mulberry Bend is in many ways one of the most colorful sections in the city. There is nothing gaudy about it. Indeed it is as glowering as the gray tower of the Tombs in the background.

The buildings are smudged and there is the feeling of a grim inertia which is liable to flare out any moment. It is the old rendezvous of the Five Points gang and the thump of the walloping fist is still heard.

There are cellar dives and proprietors with scars and stubby pompadours. Young girls often have the hardness of early worldly wisdom. The Bend seems sluggish to uptown curiosity. The arrival of a patrol wagon or ambulance does not stir it.

The sidewalk—the inner arc is a slight park—is narrow and rather jostling for the timid. Blood has been spilled on the walk many times. Sallow, tired women wrangle with their children from upper windows and almost every corner has its knot of gangsters.

The eating places are numerous and are mostly like the dirty spoon lunch rooms of the Bowery. Many of them dispense jiggers of anisette with the thick cupped coffee. The patronage seems a blur of hooked noses, cunning eyes and loosely parted lips.

The distinct impression of Mulberry Bend is that it is itself with none of the tourist sham of Chinatown, the Bowery or a gaudier Broadway. It is about the only section of Manhattan remaining not exactly tough—but rough and primative.

Some of the drug stores even have a lone green and real bottle in the window. At night it is rather dingy and there is a far-away jangle of electric pianos and a medley of harsh voices. One day it will be gobbled up in the maw of progress—and that will be a pity.

And around South Ferry the old clam sellers of another day sit in their stalls serving galloping commuters from their steaming array. The clam seller flourished in the early days of the original Astors.

The briskest type of youth in all Manhattan is the bond salesman from Wall street. He is given to shooting his cuffs, flirting back his hair, tapping cigarette ends on his thumb nail and yanking his cravat forward into a semi-loop. His sophistication is utterly suffocating and he is at home everywhere in the breezy, familiar and rather patronizing manner of one who feels he is at the top of the world Schwab to him is "Charlie," and anyone who hasn't a spry ear cocked for a gilt-edged proposition is a hopeless sap.

The name that occupies the greatest number of pages in the New York telephone directory is Cohen. And the next name to that is Smith. Most of the Cohens live in the Bronx. The Smiths are not particular.

The open air hardware market along West Broadway on pleasant days brings out the old-fashioned hatless and aproned housewives, who come to replenship their kitchen utensils. They are types rarely seen elsewhere around the town.

A meticulous gentleman who inspects the supplies of his bootlegger was shocked the other day to see that a waggish printer had made the whiskey labels read: "Bottled in Barn."

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Curtailing Crops.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Cotton is not the only crop that should be curtailed this year, according to the annual agricultural outlook report of the department headed by Secretary Jardine. Livestock producers have in prospect a favorable year, the report says, but, with an average season, a continuation of relatively low returns from most cash crops is probable unless acreages are reduced.

The purchasing power of foreign countries for agricultural products of 1927 doubtless will show some improvement, but that does not mean that our exports will increase materially. On the contrary it is probable that foreign production of breadstuffs, fruits, and animal products will reduce foreign demand for our exportable surpluses of these products.

To chase away a little of the gloom that may be superinduced by these predictions the report says that a slightly larger supply of farm labor will probably be available in regions adjacent to industrial centers, and wages may be lower. No appreciable changes in the prices of farm machinery and building materials are to be expected, but wholesale prices of fertilizers are lower than last year.

As to cotton the warning is that production must be curtailed drastically the coming season to restore the balance between consumption and supply at remunerative prices to growers. With average yields a reduction of about 30 per cent in acreage appears necessary to give growers the best gross returns for their 1927 crop, and it is stated that the chances for profitable production will be best if the acreage is small, costs held to a minimum, and efforts made to improve the quality of the crop.

This remedy for the cotton growers' ills is substantially the same as that prescribed by the commission appointed some months ago by President Coolidge.

Not a Popular Prescription.

It is not exactly a popular prescription with the men who grow cotton, at least, not with them individually. They may agree collectively that the thing for them to do is to plant from two-thirds to three-fourths as many acres this year as they did last, and they may be thoroughly convinced that this policy will mean that they will get far more for a small crop in 1927 than they did for a bumper crop in 1926. Individually, however, they dislike the idea of cutting down their acreage. Each wants the other to do it, thereby making higher prices reasonably certain, but would like to plant every possible acre himself in order to get a maximum profit out of the higher prices.

Then, too, strangely enough, many of the cotton planters have a grievance against the government, holding that it was the government's estimate of the big 1926 crop that precipitated the break in cotton prices. They do not question the accuracy of the estimate, but take the stand that if no estimate were made speculators and buyers would have no official data with which to attack and beat down cotton prices.

These critics, it is pointed out here, overlook the fact that in other years government estimates showing a short crop have brought about sharp advances in the prices which they received for their product. Moreover, prior to the time the official estimates were made at stated times, conditions were chaotic in the cotton market. Estimates were made by various interests. Some were honest, but many were fakes, put out with whatever appearance of reliability could be attached to them, for the sole purpose of influencing the market.

Cotton "bulls" who were playing the market for higher prices put out estimates that would tend to start an upward trend, while the "bears" would issue estimates which if credited sufficiently would send prices tobogganing. Meanwhile, actual buyers of the South's great product were up in the air most of the time. They had to build up big organizations to gather the information upon which they could make their own estimates which they would know to be dependable, or trust to luck and hope that they might hit the right.

At the same time the coton growers never knew what to do about selling their crop. They might sell one day and then be sick a few days later because they had not held off for a higher price, and they might hold off and be even sicker because they had not sold a few days before. There was nothing to establish a fairly certain market trend. Then came the government estimates, disinterested and as accurate as they could humanly be made, and a reliable basis for prices was established.

Outlook for Other Crops.

Now the government, in the annual agricultural outlook report, is advising farmers to cut practically all other crops. Wheat growers are warned that they can hardly expect to receive returns for the 1927 crop similar to those which have prevailed for the 1926 crop, especially of production should be materially increased. As to corn, the report says the demand for the 1927 crop is expected to be little if any greater than for the 1926 crop. With probably increase of corn acreage in the South and with no prospect of increased demand, growers are faced with the likelihood of lower prices unless acreage is substantially reduced.

Oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, hay, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, onions, beans, oranges, grapefruit, apples, peaches, grapes, strawberries, cantaloupes, and watermelons are other farm products the production of which should be held steady or curtailed this season, according to the government experts.

Livestock products, it is stated, should be held at about the present level, allowing for the increase in population from year to year, in order to maintain prices. The dairy industry, on the other hand, is reported to be on a stronger basis than a year ago. Dairymen are likely to have a moderately favorable spread between the price of feed and the price of dairy products. Egg and poultry producers, too, in most sections of the country, may expect a fairly satisfactory year, although perhaps not as profitable as 1926.

Tobacco of the cigarette types is in increasing demand, but not sufficient to stand heavily increased acreage. Producers of export types are faced with increased foreign competition in a contracting market. Growers in the flue-cured region should guard against over-production, and quality rather than quantity should be the aim of growers in the cigar leaf districts.

Sugar prices, it is noted, are trending toward higher levels, with world production below that of last year and increasing consumption.

"But for all this warning," says one of the experts, "it is doubtful if crops will be materially reduced, except by weather conditions or other natural causes. The average farmer is an incurable optimist and can not restrain himself from producing the most he can of everything he raises."

Her Hair Fairly SPARKLES Now!

The woman who knows what to do after waving her hair doesn't fear the effect of hot irons. Nor of frequent washings. A few drops of Danderine—on comb or towel—and the hair is soft and lustrous, and behaves beautifully.

A bit of Danderine rubbed lightly into the scalp, is the one sure way to dissolve every particle of dandruff. But a few drops more make a dressing that is simply marvelous. A sheen that rivals brilliantine, and no grease! Any permanent wave or water wave lasts much longer and looks much nicer when Danderine is used instead of water to "set" the wave.

Washington Day Dinner is Featured At Country Club

Seventy-two guests were entertained last night at a Washington birthday dinner-dance and card party, one of the feature events of the season, at the Country club. In charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Taylor and Attorney and Mrs. Ben L. Bennett.

The living room of the club was decorated with red, white and blue candles, novelty shaded lights, and pictures of Washington. The balcony, doorways and mantels were draped with American flags.

The dinner was progressive, each of the four courses being served after each member had changed his or her partner. The small tables were centered with patriotic colored tapers, and tally-place cards. Patriotic hats were given. Washington Day novelties were used in the appointments.

Following the dinner a dancing party was the diversion. The music was in charge of Miss Gladys Larkin and Edwin Thomas.

Later hours were spent with progressive bridge, 18 tables being in play. Trophies for the combined scores of partners were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groglode and Mrs. Grandon Postels and daughter, Mrs. J. Donald Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Judge of Salineville were out-of-town guests.

The next evening party will be held Friday, March 4, with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groglode as the committee.

GANGSTERS USE MACHINE GUNS AGAINST FOES

Imported Gunmen With Bombs Aid Rival Illinois Cliques.

LIQUOR RIVALRY

Battles by New York and Chicago Gangs Featured.

ST. LOUIS.—Battle fought by gunmen imported from Chicago or New York, machine gun and bomb warfare between rival gangs and bombings have become so common in parts of Williamson, Saline and Franklin counties, in the heart of the rich mining and agricultural zone of Southern Illinois, that citizens merely remark:

"They're at it again."

If there is romance in underworld warfare two of the most romantic figures in this battle scarred region are Charles Birger and Carl Shelton, two deadly enemies, and leaders of rival bands.

Birger on Bail.

Despite that fact that a warrant charging complicity in a murder exists against him, Birger is free. Occasionally he wanders away from his Harrisburg domicile and usually upon his return he tells his friends that he has been out "looking for Shelton."

The killing of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City, Franklin county, in which the officials claim Berger was implicated, was typical of the outlawry in this region, notably in "bloody Herrin."

Mayor Adams was shot at the front door of his home on a placid Sunday afternoon. Adams had been regarded as more or less friendly to members of the Shelton gang and, in consequence, incurred the ill will of members of the rival Birger gang.

Mrs. Adams, the widow, declared that a man believed to have been Birger, called her up on the telephone several times before the shooting, and warned her to "get more life insurance on her husband."

Adams' daughter, Arian, said that a man she thought resembled Birger was one of the two men who knocked on the front door of their home on the Sunday afternoon of the murder and called for the mayor. As Adams appeared he was shot down in his tracks.

Killings Are Common.

But this was only one of a series of killings throughout the violence zone of Southern Illinois in the past few months attributed to gang feuds. Vengeance killings have been common. Several members of both gangs fell, but their passing was unwept, unhonored and unsung.

The killing of Adams followed two similar attempts upon the life of his brother, Gus Adams. Previously a bomb was exploded at the mayor's home partly destroying it. Upon another occasion two motor cars tore at top speed through the little town pouring machine gun fire into Gus Adams' modest home and that of a neighbor.

Gus Adams himself has not escaped entanglements with the law. There is lodged against him a charge of murdering Ward Jones, a Birger lieutenant, whose bullet riddled body was found in a creek near Equality, Gallatin county. Adams was arrested.

Herrin, which is known the world over for its violence and its astonishing record of sudden death, is in Williamson county. Upon several occasions detachments of the Illinois National Guard have been called to Herrin to restore order when the street fighting got out of hand. Many women have taken part in battles which raged through Herrin.

Six Dead In Outbreak.

Only six persons were killed in the latest outbreak at Herrin so the troops who were on guard there were recalled. Governor Small intimated, however, that the next time it was necessary to send soldiers the military authorities might deal a little more sternly with the situation.

A person unfamiliar with Southern Illinois might get the impression that this section of a rich and prosperous state is made up entirely of bootleggers and gangsters who spend their time sniping at each other. But this is not the case. The gunmen and the gangsters make up a mighty small percentage of the population. The farmers are all law abiding and so are the coal miners except in time of strikes.

Farmers living near Birger's road house "The Shady Rest," said that it was like a scene from the Great War down in their peaceful midst when the notorious inn was burned.

First there was a gigantic explosion, which rocked the earth, accompanied by a lurid glare which lighted up the sky. Then there was a crackle of machine gun fire and the steady clatter of volleys from automatic pistols. Then the building caught fire and flames spread upward while the shooting slowly died out.

That is a contrast picture between peaceful, rural Illinois and a terror-ridden bullet riddled district inhabited by a few gunmen.

Turkey has an extensive program for the improvement of railways and telephone service.

Train service has been opened on the Samsun-Charsmamba railway line of Turkey.

Vinol Makes Weak Child Stronger

"My boy was so nervous and weak. I gave him Vinol and now he is in good health."—Mrs. F. Sommers. If they cannot take cod liver oil, give children Vinol. The very FIRST week, they'll begin to feel stronger, eat and sleep better. A simple strengthening iron and cod liver compound in use for over 25 years for nervous, rundown men and women and sickly children. Contains no oil—pleasant to take. J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly. One swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have beautiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair bristle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

BAD MEN

GANGSTERS USE MACHINE GUNS AGAINST FOES

Imported Gunmen With Bombs Aid Rival Illinois Cliques.

LIQUOR RIVALRY

Battles by New York and Chicago Gangs Featured.

ST. LOUIS.—Battle fought by gunmen imported from Chicago or New York, machine gun and bomb warfare between rival gangs and bombings have become so common in parts of Williamson, Saline and Franklin counties, in the heart of the rich mining and agricultural zone of Southern Illinois, that citizens merely remark: "They're at it again."

If there is romance in underworld warfare two of the most romantic figures in this battle scarred region are Charles Birger and Carl Shelton, two deadly enemies, and leaders of rival bands.

Birger on Bail.

Despite that fact that a warrant charging complicity in a murder exists against him, Birger is free. Occasionally he wanders away from his Harrisburg domicile and usually upon his return he tells his friends that he has been out "looking for Shelton."

The killing of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City, Franklin county, in which the officials claim Berger was implicated, was typical of the outlawry in this region, notably in "bloody Herrin."

Mayor Adams was shot at the front door of his home on a placid Sunday afternoon. Adams had been regarded as more or less friendly to members of the Shelton gang and, in consequence, incurred the ill will of members of the rival Birger gang.

Mrs. Adams, the widow, declared that a man believed to have been Birger, called her up on the telephone several times before the shooting, and warned her to "get more life insurance on her husband."

Adams' daughter, Arian, said that a man she thought resembled Birger was one of the two men who knocked on the front door of their home on the Sunday afternoon of the murder and called for the mayor. As Adams appeared he was shot down in his tracks.

Killings Are Common.

But this was only one of a series of killings throughout the violence zone of Southern Illinois in the past few months attributed to gang feuds. Vengeance killings have been common. Several members of both gangs fell, but their passing was unwept, unhonored and unsung.

The killing of Adams followed two similar attempts upon the life of his brother, Gus Adams. Previously a bomb was exploded at the mayor's partly destroying it. Upon another occasion two motor cars tore at top speed through the little town pouring machine gun fire into Gus Adams modest home and that of a neighbor.

Gus Adams himself has not escaped entanglements with the law. There is lodged against him a charge of murdering Ward Jones, a Birger lieutenant, whose bullet riddled body was found in a creek near Equality, Gallatin county. Adams was arrested.

Herrin, which is known the world over for its violence and its astonishing record of sudden death, is in Williamson county. Upon several occasions detachments of the Illinois National Guard have been called to Herrin to restore order when the street fighting got out of hand. Many women have taken part in battles which raged through Herrin.

Six Dead In Outbreak.

Only six persons were killed in the latest outbreak at Herrin so the troops who were on guard there were recalled. Governor Small intimated, however, that the next time it was necessary to send soldiers the military authorities might deal a little more sternly with the situation.

A person unfamiliar with Southern Illinois might get the impression that this section of a rich and prosperous state is made up entirely of bootleggers and gangsters who spend their time sniping at each other. But this is not the case. The gunmen and the gangsters make up a mighty small percentage of the population. The farmers are all law abiding and so are the coal miners except in time of strikes.

Farmers living near Birger's road house "The Shady Rest," said that it was like a scene from the Great War down in their peaceful midst when the notorious inn was burned.

First there was a gigantic explosion, which rocked the earth, accompanied by a lurid glare which lighted up the sky. Then there was a crackle of machine gun fire and the steady clatter of volleys from automatic pistols. Then the building caught fire and flames spread upward while the shooting slowly died out.

That is a contrast picture between peaceful, rural Illinois and a terror-ridden bullet riddled district inhabited by a few gunmen.

Vinol Makes Weak Child Stronger

"My boy was so nervous and weak. I gave him Vinol and now he is in good health."—"Mrs. F. Sommers. If they cannot take cod liver oil, give children Vinol. The very FIRST week, they'll begin to feel stronger, eat and sleep better. A simple strengthening iron and cod liver compound in use for over 25 years for nervous, rundown men and women and sickly children. Contains no oil—pleasant to take. J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

BETTY BRONSON IN STAR ROLE

With the opening at the Ceramic theatre of Marshall Neilan's latest production, "Everybody's Acting," in which Bett. Bronson heads a stellar cast, local interest is again riveted on this bewitching little "Cinderella of the screen," who skyrocketed to fame in the title role of "Peter Pan."

The history of motion pictures offers no parallel that equals the meteoric rise of this 18-year-old girl from obscurity to world-wide prominence. It is a modern day fairy tale that would make Aesop and Anderson turn green with envy. At one jump, Betty gained that which thousands struggle for in vain, and which a comparative few achieve only after a long and arduous apprenticeship.

What is the secret of her success? It is beauty? No. True, she is very lovely, but Hollywood is over-run with girls who have nothing but beauty to recommend them. It is ability? No. Of course, Betty has shown that she has genuine histronic talent, but there are hundreds of other players with exceptional ability who will never attain stardom. Is it intelligence, charm, enthusiasm, originally? No. Many possess these qualities, yet fail to reach the top of the film ladder.

What, then is the magic key that has proved the "open sesame" to motion picture fame and fortune? It's personality! Just what personality is, no one has ever been able satisfactorily to explain. It's indefinable and defies analysis. You either have it, or you haven't it.

And Betty has personality—lots of it. It's an elfin, wistful sort of personality. You sense it when you look at her, you recognize it when you talk to her and you feel it as you watch her on the screen.

The local showing of "Everybody's Acting" offers native picture-goers a fine opportunity to see Betty at her very best.

The main trouble with a girl of today is she refuses to act like the girl of yesterday—Coshocton Tribune.

Soviet Government Makes No Purchases In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE.—The Soviet government will make no more purchases in Czechoslovakia until the Czech government has acceded to their demands for full recognition and a new political treaty, according to the newspaper "Tribuna."

The Russians have already stopped sending Czech goods to Russia although the commercial mission here was accredited to spend 260 millions of Czech kronen during the next six months. The government has taken no steps to meet the Soviet demands.

THOMPSON AND DEVER AWAIT CHICAGO POLL FIGHT

FORMER MAYOR NOMINATED BY LANDSLIDE VOTE

Carries Every Ward Except One in Bloody Primary.

DEVER UNOPPOSED

Campaign for G. O. P. Mayoralty Bitterest Ever Waged.

By GENE HOFFMAN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Former Mayor William Hale Thompson, successful candidate in the race for the Republican mayoralty nomination, today began organizing the machine with which he hopes to drive to victory at the April election over Mayor William E. Dever, renominated on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself.

Thompson twice mayor, was nominated in yesterday's blood-and-thunder primary by a landslide vote that smashes all records in the political history of Chicago. Complete returns place his majority over Edward R. Litsinger, chief opponent, slightly in excess of 180,000 votes.

Thompson carried every ward in town except one—the Forty-ninth.

The Democratic vote was light owing to the fact that Mayor Dever had virtually no opposition.

The total Republican vote was 506,307. A total of 342,279 votes was cast for Thompson.

The Democratic vote totalled less than 200,000.

Shootings and Sluggings.

The campaign for the Republican nomination was one of the bitterest ever waged in Chicago. Despite unusual precautions on the part of police and a large force of special deputies, shootings, sluggings, kidnapings and various forms of intimidation and fraud were recorded.

Police, armed with machine guns, rifles and tear bombs, patrolled the "danger wards" throughout the day, displaying their munitions as a threat to political gangsters. But even this vigilance failed to stem the tide of outlawry.

In the thirteenth ward, two gangs of terrorists, armed with sawed-off shotguns and pistols, disarmed two police officers, held up election officials and stole a number of ballot boxes. One of the disarmed officers said he was sure the desperadoes were members of the Joe Saltis gang, a notorious South Side beer running combine.

In the 32nd ward, Camiel Dhoghe, an election worker, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Frank Glombeck, a Thompson precinct worker. Glombeck freely admitted the shooting, but claimed self-defense.

Thompson's campaign slogan was "America First." His speeches denounced those who would draw this country into entangling alliances with foreign nations. He ran as a "wet," promising to direct his efforts towards repeal of the Volstead law and the state search and seizure laws.

Italian Airman's Plane Damaged in Hop Across Ocean

RIO DE JAENIRO, Feb. 23.—Possibility of Commander Francesco De Pinedo resuming his inter-continental flight today was dimmed by news that his plane had been damaged at Fernando de Noronha by heavy seas.

The extent of the damage is not known. A message from Commander De Pinedo today said, "apparatus broken on account of big seas."

The Italian ace landed at Ferdando le Noronha yesterday after a 15-hour light from Cape Verde islands.

"LOST VISION" SERMON TOPIC

Evangelist Trager Speaks in Glendale Mission.

Evangelist John Trager, of Philadelphia, who is conducting a series of old-time revival services in the Glendale mission near Newell, spoke last night on "The Lost Vision."

He said in part: "Many preachers and church people are responsible for the lack of more genuine revivals, because they have lost the Bible vision. I would rather go to hell from the back door of a saloon bar dealing out the cup of amnation, than from the back end of a pulpit as a result of failing to warn people to flee from the wrath to come.

"We need a vision of the love of God, of the meaning of the cross and the sacrifice of Christ for the world's salvation. We need a vision of ourselves to see whether we are in the faith and true blue for God everywhere, so we can be in confidential position to help lost souls to Christ. Bible characters and other great religious leaders of the past had the vision and blessed the church with a holy influence, but people now are not reading the Bible but watching the lives of those who professed to be Christians."

His subject tonight will be "Emancipation for All." Meetings will be held during the remainder of the week beginning at 7:30. Three services will be held Sunday.

duced at the No. 6 plant. The two works will also be heated from the one system.

Four Bids Submitted.

The bid of the Austin company does not include the two kilns, to be erected by Carl B. Harrop, Columbus engineers and contractors, and the continuous decorating kiln. Three other contractors submitted bids for the main factory building, the Austin company being the lowest. The No. 6 works was erected by the H. K. Ferguson company, also of Cleveland.

Approximately 60 days will be required to install the machinery in the plant after its completion. Company officials estimate that the plant will be ready for operation within six or eight months after work is started depending largely upon conditions.

The plant will offer employment to approximately 450 workers, most of them skilled. This is the number on the payroll of the No. 6 works.

General committee made up of Laughlin company officials in charge of the erection of the new plant includes Fred B. Lawrence, secretary treasurer of the North American Manufacturing company; W. E. Wells, Jr., superintendent of the No. 5 plant; A. A. Wells, assistant superintendent of the No. 6 works; Lester Aaron, son of Marcus Aaron, president of the company; C. H. Walker, general superintendent; Dr. A. W. Bleininger, head of the research department and Joseph M. Wells, superintendent of the No. 6 works.

Erect New Warehouse

The Laughlin company has also started the erection of a new glost warehause, having approximately 20,000 square feet, at the No. 4 works. Four upright glost kilns, which were abandoned when the tunnel kiln was erected last summer, are being razed to make room for the warehouse. Upon completion of the warehouse ware which has been stored on the fourth and fifth floors of the building will be removed to bins on the ground floor. About seven of the old glost kilns are to be used. The building will be erected on the east side of the No. 4 works.

Construction of another unit strengthens the claim of the Laughlin interest to bring the largest manufacturers of general ware in the world. Plants No. 1, 2 and 3 are located in East End, East Liverpool, while Nos. 4, 5 and 6 and the proposed No. 7 works are located at Newell.

SLASH IN PRICE OF CRUDE OIL

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23.—The Joseph Seep agency, purchasers of crude oil for the Standard Oil interests, today announced a 15-cent cut in the price of six grades of crude oil in pipe lines.

New prices: New York transit, $3.25; Bradford district, $3.25; National transit $3.15; Southwest pipe $3.15; Eureka, $3.10; Buckeye, $2.95.

VOTE TO KILL PROPOSED OHIO HIGHWAY BOARD

Section is Eliminated From Norton Bill.

DONAHEY WISH

O. K. Measure for Actual Cost of Feeding Prisoners.

By C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—After being told that Governor Vic Donahey would veto the measure if the provision for creation of a state highway board was retained, the house highways committee today, by a vote of 15 to 1, eliminated, from the Norton bill, providing for revision of the state highway laws, the section which sought to authorize creation of a five-membered state highway board.

Legislators asserted that the governor strongly opposed the creation of the proposed board, claiming it was not good policy and that control of the highway department should be left as existing laws provide. The bill proposed that the highway board consist of the governor, the state auditor, the dean of the college of engineering at Ohio State university, and two Ohio voters, of opposite party politics, chosen by the governor.

Representative C. H. Burke, Huron county, was credited with being the lone committeeman who voted against eliminating the state highway board provision.

The house county affairs committee today decided to recommend passage of the Bender bill, which already has passed the senate, decreeing that county commissioners shall allow the sheriff only the actual cost of keeping and feeding prisoners in the county jail, but at a rate of not to exceed 75 cents per day of three meals each.

Parker May Get Utilities Place.

Report was current today in the senate that Governor Donahey will ask confirmation of the appointment of Attorney Charles M. Parker, Columbus, Republican, for a six-year term as a member of the state utilities commission. No comment concerning the report was available at the governor's office. Friends of Walter D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, and M. H. Broughton, Baltimore & Ohio trainmaster, both of Columbus, and Wilbur A. Phillips, Dayton, however, it was understood, were urging the governor to appoint them to the position.

Phillips, prominently identified with the interests of the railroad brotherhoods, has held a number of positions with railroad companies and was state safety appliance inspector for Illinois in 1915.

The senate committee on prisons and prison reform decided to recommend passage of the Waitt bill providing for creation of a four-membered commission, under jurisdiction of the state welfare department, to supervise classifying prisoners into four groups, grading them according to the seriousness of the crimes committed and determining in what penal institution the prisoners shall be imprisoned.

Recommend Salary Increase Bill.

The senate library committee recommended passage of the bill by Senator C. L. Shafer, Van Wert, empowering library officials to bar admission of objectionable persons and prohibiting defacement of library property.

Following failure of the senate judiciary committee to hold a hearing, as scheduled for last Tuesday evening, relative to the De Armond bill, authorizing abandonment of the Miami and Erie canal from Middletown to St. Bernard, Cincinnati, report was current today in the senate chamber that the committee will not recommend passage of the measure. The best that can be expected, it was indicated, is that the committee will report the bill out without recommendation.

The senate committee on banks and trust companies today decided to recommend passage of the bill by Senator F. C. Wise, Stark county, permitting boards of education to deposit school funds in a bank to an amount equal to the bank's capital stock and surplus.

Decision to recommend passage of the bill by Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, increasing salaries of county commissioners throughout Ohio and fixing these salaries on a basis of population, was reached today by the senate judiciary committee.

DIRECTORS CLOSE MARIETTA BANK

MARIETTA, O., Feb. 23.—Doors of the Central National bank of Marietta failed to open today while notices declared the bank had been closed by action of the board of directors. Bank Examiners Crosson and Zorus are in charge of the bank following an unsuccessful attempt to consolidate with the First National bank of Marietta. Action of the board of directors, it is said, followed a meeting which terminated early today after a meeting begun Tuesday and continuing through the night.

Bank examiners and President George E. Hayward refuse to discuss the closing.

Depositors of the bank, it is said in banking circles here, will probably not lose any money, as the action of the board of directors was prompted by internal dissensions although statements of the past year report no profit.

Yawn Paralyzes

Central Press

Yawning as a harmless pastime is no longer believed in by Mrs. Earl Johnson, above, of Sioux City, Ia. Upon awakening one morning she opened her mouth wide and indulged in a delightful yawn. The act dislocated one of the vertebrae of her neck, paralyzing her. A doctor had to be called to replace the bone. Then the paralysis disappeared.

Cincinnati Firm Highest Bidder for Wellsville Bonds

A. E. Aub and company, Cincinnati, were the low bidders for the $12,500 worth of bonds issued by the city of Wellsville for a new fire truck, the finance committee of council and the city auditor announced.

Nine firms submitted bids. The Cincinnati company offered $12,651, or a premium of $151.

The truck will be delivered on March 1.

Slayer of Guard At Mansfield Gets Sentence of Death

MANSFIELD, O., Feb. 23.—Philip Orleck, alias William Fox, 21-year-old Cincinnati youth, convicted here Saturday of the first degree murder of a guard at Mansfield reformatory, was sentenced to die in the electric chair, Friday, June 10, by Judge J. W. Galbraith in common pleas court today.

Orleck made no statement when sentence was pronounced, and his attorneys did not argue their formal motion for a new trial. The prisoner evidenced no emotion when the sentence was pronounced. He will probably be taken late today to the state penitentiary to await execution.

STEEL COMMON HITS HIGH PRICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. — United States Steel common stock sold at $160⅞ a share on the New York stock exchange today, the highest price in the history of the corporation.

Investment buying of the stock has increased enormously since the directors recommended a 40 per cent stock dividend, which will be ratified by stockholders in April. If cash dividends are maintained at $7 a share, this will be equivalent to $9.80 a share annual dividend on the stock.

Last year "steel common" sold at 160½.

Its low price for the year to date is 153½.

WAY IS PAVED FOR SURVEY OF STATE BUREAUS

Legislature Will Weed Out Useless Employes in Departments.

SALARY RAISES

Senator Carpenter Calls for Canal and Reservoir Inquiry.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Legislative leaders today were paving the way for a joint legislative probe of state departments with a view to weeding out useless or inefficient employes, and raising salaries of deserving ones.

The house this afternoon is expected to concur in minor amendments made in the senate late Tuesday to the Ackerman-Ball resolution providing for this legislative investigating committee which is to submit its report by March 31, next year.

Lieut.-Gov. Earl D. Bloom selected Senators Ackerman, Cuyahoga county; Marshall, Cuyahoga; De Armond, Butler; Nickels, Tuscarawas, and Kumler, Preble, as members of this committee. House members have not been chosen.

The senate adopted a resolution, offered by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, authorizing selection of a senate committee to investigate the leases, water rents and rights of the canals and reservoirs of Ohio. The resolution declared that it was apparent that "the needs of the state demand a thorough investigation" and charged that various manufacturing industries "are using the state's waterways and water supply with insufficient remuneration to the state treasury."

Senators Carpenter, Price, of Summit, and Tom, of Lucas, were chosen by the lieutenant governor, as presiding officer of the senate, to make the proposed probe.

By a vote of 30 to 0, the senate passed the Comings bill classifying unauthorized entry of a room, or an apartment, as burglary. The bill now goes to the house.

Members Attend Tea

erpool, chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Ward, East Liverpool, curator.

Miss Sarah Thomas acted as dining room escort while the committee assisting in the entertainment of guests consisted of Mesdames D. L. Gilbert, of Youngstown; Rev. Frank H. Magill, of Wellsville and Dr. Joseph Chetyne and Duane Welch of East Liverpool.

Feature of the event was the minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Meanor, Davis, children of Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, to Beethoven's Minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Heanor, violinist, and Miss Bernadette Arnold, pianist, both of East Liverpool. Both dancers were also in Colonial costume.

"George Washington" was discussed by T. T. Jones, of East Liverpool.

Mrs. Robert Burlingame, of East Liverpool, chairman of the program committee, presided.

Tea was served. Mesdames Robert Bruce Curby and Mrs. William Wilson and Miss Frances Soule, of East Liverpool, poured. They formed a serving committee of which Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was chairman.

Miss Esther Frances Swift, of Wellsville, in juvenile costume, rendered a piano solo. Other piano solos were given by Mrs. R. I. Farmer, of Wellsville and Miss Dorothy Bennett, of East Liverpool. A reading was given by Mrs. J. A. Dimerling, of East Liverpool.

The chapter, named for Bethia Southwick, a forbear of Mrs. Lones and Mrs. Southwick, of Wellsville, who made coffee for American soldiers during a Revolutionary battle, is the only one in Columbiana county and the youngest in the United States.

Proceeds of the affair will go towards the purchase of a $150 chair in the new Continental Memorial hall now being erected by the national body in Washington, D. C. It will include a large auditorium. The present structure of the D. A. R. in the capital will be turned into an office building.

The local contingent recently sent a large box of yarn to Ellis island for utilization in knitting by immigrants waiting admission into the country.

The chapter is also engaged in finding lost graves of Revolutionary soldiers in Columbiana county. One has already been discovered in Clarkson and another near the Children's home at Yellow Creek.

The chapter organized less than a year has had a rapid growth.

New Regulations In Distribution of Sacramental Wine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—New regulations governing the distribution of sacramental wine were drafted today by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews and Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator for New York.

Mills said they were designed to stop leakage and diversion in bootleg channels.

Last year more than 4,000,000 gallons of wine were withdrawn in New York, and there was considerable diversion.

Chosen by Coolidge

Ezra J. Brainerd, Jr., of Muskogee, Okla., has been appointed to succeed Frederick I. Cox of New Jersey as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Brainerd is the second man to be nominated for the position, Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania, former ambassador to Spain and Japan, having been turned down by the senate for confirmation after his name was sent to that body by President Coolidge. Brainerd is 49, having been born in 1878 in Vermont. He was educated at Middleboro college and Colgate university. He also studied law at the University of Michigan. For the last several years he has been practicing law in Muskogee and is vice president of a bank in that city.

REVIVAL MEET TO END SUNDAY

Revival services, which have been in progress in the First Church of Christ for two weeks, will close next Sunday night.

Last night, Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland evangelist rendered a solo, "Be Ready for the Judgment."

Tonight, Rev. Mr. Johnson's sermon subject will be "Shall We All Stand Before God in a Final Day of Judgment?" Special music will be featured.

Halterman Says His Brother Was Shot During Struggle

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, O., Feb. 23.—Leo Halterman shot his half-brother, Charles, on the latter's farm last month, accidentally, during a struggle over possession of a shot gun, he told a jury which is trying him for murder here today, testifying in his own defense.

On cross-examination by the county prosecutor, Halterman said that Charles' wife, attracted by the gunshot, came from the house and attacked him with a hatchet, and that he beat her to death in "self-defense."

Rebuttal witnesses were to follow Leo Halterman on the stand, and it was not expected the case will reach the jury before late Thursday, at the earliest.

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 23.—Sylvester W. Walters, said to be the oldest living Civil war veteran in Ohio celebrated his 104th birthday here today.

He was born in Columbiana county, and during the war, was wounded in the head. He has worn a silver plate in his skull ever since, as a result.

Walters has never worn glasses, and retains his normal faculties to a remarkable degree. He takes long walks daily for exercise, and he is a liberal user of tobacco.

NAZARENE MEET CLOSES HERE

Next Convention of Young People at Monongahela, Pa.

Monongahela, Pa., was selected as the place for the next convention at the closing session yesterday, of the semi-annual meeting of the Young People's societies of the Nazarene churches in the First church, St. Clair and Lincoln avenues. The next meeting will be held on May 30, Decoration Day.

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, New Castle, president of the association, preached at last night's service. Others who took part in the convention, were Rev. H. H. Davis, Kenmore; Rev. Harry Kirkpatrick, Kent; Rev. Ralph Schurman, California, Pa., Rev. and Mrs. John Tompkins, Salem; District Superintendent and Mrs. J. H. Sloan, of this city; R. G. Hampe, Cleveland; district vice-president; Rev. J. B. Schlosser, Lisbon; Rev. F. F. Frese, Newell and Rev. B. H. Pocock, Chester.

Visiting delegates of young people from Cleveland, Ashtabula, Kenmore, Kent, Lisbon, Springfield Center, Canton and Salem, O., and Tarantum, Sagertown and California, Pa., attended the meeting.

Twenty-five young people accepted the invitation at the close of last night's service. About 350 delegates attended the convention.

Boulder Dam Bill Fate Uncertain as Filibuster Goes on

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The fate of the Boulder dam development project teetered dramatically and uncertainly in congress today.

While a filibuster creaked on in the senate, having now lasted 24 hours. The house rules committee yielded to pressure from friends of the measure and reported a special rule this morning which allowed the bill to be taken up there. Six hours were allotted for general debate.

Sleepy-eyed senators napped on the floor this forenoon while the filibuster there kept grinding. Senator Phipps (R.) of Colorado, began to speak at 8:45 after Ashurst and Cameron, both of Arizona, had held the floor throughout the night.

THOMPSON AND DEVER AWAIT CHICAGO POLL FIGHT

FORMER MAYOR NOMINATED BY LANDSLIDE VOTE

Carries Every Ward Except One in Bloody Primary.

DEVER UNOPPOSED

Campaign for G. O. P. Mayoralty Bitterest Ever Waged.

By GENE HOFFMAN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Former Mayor William Hale Thompson, successful candidate in the race for the Republican mayoralty nomination, today began organizing the machine with which he hopes to drive to victory at the April election over Mayor William E. Dever, renominated on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself.

Thompson twice mayor, was nominated in yesterday's blood-and-thunder primary by a landslide vote that smashes all records in the political history of Chicago. Complete returns place his majority over Edward R. Litsinger, chief opponent, slightly in excess of 180,000 votes.

The bill proposed that the highway board consist of the governor, the state auditor, the dean of the college of engineering at Ohio State university, and two Ohio voters, of opposite party politics, chosen by the governor.

Representative C. H Burke, Huron county, was credited with being the lone committeeman who voted against eliminating the state highway board provision.

The house county affairs committee today decided to recommend passage of the Bender bill, which already has passed the senate, decreeing that county commissioners shall allow the sheriff only the actual cost of keeping and feeding prisoners in the county jail, but at a rate of not to exceed 75 cents per day of three meals each.

Parker May Get Utilities Place.

Report was current today in the senate that Governor Donahey will ask confirmation of the appointment of Attorney Charles M. Parker, Columbus, Republican, for a six-year term as a member of the state utilities commission. No comment concerning the report was available at the governor's office. Friends of Walter D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, and M. H. Broughton, Baltimore & Ohio trainmaster, both of Columbus, and Wilbur A. Phillips, Dayton, however, it was understood, were urging the governor to appoint them to the position.

Phillips, prominently identified with the interests of the railroad brotherhoods, has held a number of positions with railroad companies and was state safety appliance inspector for Illinois in 1915.

The senate committee on prisons and prison reform decided to recommend passage of the Waitt bill providing for creation of a four-membered commission, under jurisdiction of the state welfare department, to supervise classifying prisoners into four groups, grading them according to the seriousness of the crimes committed and determining in what penal institution the prisoners shall be imprisoned.

Recommend Salary Increase Bill.

The senate library committee recommended passage of the bill by Senator C. L. Shafer, Van Wert, empowering library officials to bar admission of objectionable persons and prohibiting defacement of library property.

Following failure of the senate judiciary committee to hold a hearing, as scheduled for last Tuesday evening, relative to the De Armond bill, authorizing abandonment of the Miami and Erie canal from Middletown to St. Bernard, Cincinnati, report was current today in the senate chamber that the committee will not recommend passage of the measure. The best that can be expected, it was indicated, is that the committee will report the bill out without recommendation.

The senate committee on banks and trust companies today decided to recommend passage of the bill by Senator F. C. Wise, Stark county, permitting boards of education to deposit school funds in a bank to an amount equal to the bank's capital stock and surplus.

Decision to recommend passage of the bill by Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, increasing salaries of county commissioners throughout Ohio and fixing these salaries on a basis of population, was reached today by the senate judiciary committee.

DIRECTORS CLOSE MARIETTA BANK

MARIETTA, O., Feb. 23.—Doors of the Central National bank of Marietta failed to open today while notices declared the bank had been closed by action of the board of directors. Bank Examiners Crosson and Zorus are in charge of the bank following an unsuccessful attempt to consolidate with the First National bank of Marietta. Action of the board of directors, it is said, followed a meeting which terminated early today after a meeting begun Tuesday and continuing through the night.

Bank examiners and President George E. Hayward refuse to discuss the closing.

Depositors of the bank, it is said in banking circles here, will probably not lose any money, as the action of the board of directors was prompted by internal dissensions although statements of the past year report no profit.

Yawn Paralyzes

Central Press

Yawning as a harmless pastime is no longer believed in by Mrs. Earl Johnson, above, of Sioux City, Ia. Upon awakening one morning she opened her mouth wide and indulged in a delightful yawn. The act dislocated one of the vertebrae of her neck, paralyzing her. A doctor had to be called to replace the bone. Then the paralysis disappeared.

Cincinnati Firm Highest Bidder for Wellsville Bonds

A. E. Aub and company, Cincinnati, were the low bidders for the $12,500 worth of bonds issued by the city of Wellsville for a new fire truck, the finance committee of council and the city auditor announced.

Nine firms submitted bids. The Cincinnati company offered $12,651, or a premium of $151.

The truck will be delivered on March 1.

Slayer of Guard At Mansfield Gets Sentence of Death

MANSFIELD, O., Feb. 23.—Philip Orleck, alias William Fox, 21-year-old Cincinnati youth, convicted here Saturday of the first degree murder of a guard at Mansfield reformatory, was sentenced to die in the electric chair, Friday, June 10, by Judge J. W. Galbraith in common pleas court today.

Orleck made no statement when sentence was pronounced, and his attorneys did not argue their formal motion for a new trial. The prisoner evidenced no emotion when the sentence was pronounced. He will probably be taken late today to the state penitentiary to await execution.

STEEL COMMON HITS HIGH PRICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. — United States Steel common stock sold at $160⅞ a share on the New York stock exchange today, the highest price in the history of the corporation.

Investment buying of the stock has increased enormously since the directors recommended a 40 per cent stock dividend, which will be ratified by stockholders in April. If cash dividends are maintained at $7 a share, this will be equivalent to $9.80 a share annual dividend on the stock.

Last year "steel common" sold at 160½.

Its low price for the year to date is 153½.

Braddock, Pa., Lad Seventeenth Victim Of Suicide Wave

BRADDOCK, Pa., Feb. 23.—Nathan P. Weissman, 19, a Braddock High school student, killed himself today in his father's factory by firing a bullet into his brain with a revolver.

The youth was the seventeenth victim of a student suicide wave which has swept the country. Parents of the boy could assign no reason for his act.

France Has Made No Formal Offer Of Debt Payment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—France has not yet made any formal offer to begin payment of $30,000,000 annually on her four billion dollar American war debt, pending ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon stated today, announcements in Paris to the contrary.

WAY IS PAVED FOR SURVEY OF STATE BUREAUS

Legislature Will Weed Out Useless Employes in Departments.

SALARY RAISES

Senator Carpenter Calls for Canal and Reservoir Inquiry.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Legislative leaders today were paving the way for a joint legislative probe of state departments with a view to weeding out useless, or inefficient, employes, and raising salaries of deserving ones.

The house this afternoon is expected to concur in minor amendments made in the senate late Tuesday to the Ackerman-Ball resolution providing for this legislative investigating committee which is to submit its report by March 31, next year.

Lieut.-Gov. Earl D. Bloom selected Senators Ackerman, Cuyahoga county; Marshall, Cuyahoga; De Armond, Butler; Nickels, Tuscarawas, and Kumler, Preble, as members of this committee. House members have not been chosen.

The senate adopted a resolution, offered by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, authorizing selection of a senate committee to investigate the leases, water rents and rights of the canals and reservoirs of Ohio. The resolution declared that it was apparent that "the needs of the state demand a thorough investigation" and charged that various manufacturing industries "are using the state's waterways and water supply with insufficient remuneration to the state treasury."

Senators Carpenter, Price, of Summit, and Tom, of Lucas, were chosen by the lieutenant governor, as presiding officer of the senate, to make the proposed probe.

By a vote of 30 to 0, the senate passed the Comings bill classifying unauthorized entry of a room, or an apartment, as burglary. The bill now goes to the house.

Members Attend Tea

erpool, chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Ward, East Liverpool, curator.

Miss Sarah Thomas acted as dining room escort while the committee assisting in the entertainment of guests consisted of Mesdames D. L. Gilbert, of Youngstown; Rev. Frank H. Magill, of Wellsville and Dr. Joseph Chetyne and Duane Welch of East Liverpool.

Feature of the event was the minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Meanor, Davis, children of Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, to Beethoven's Minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Heanor, violinist, and Miss Bernadette Arnold, pianist, both of East Liverpool. Both dancers were also in Colonial costume.

"George Washington" was discussed by T. T. Jones, of East Liverpool.

Members in costume posed for a picture during an intermission in the program.

Mrs. Robert Burlingame, of East Liverpool, chairman of the program committee, presided.

Tea was served. Mesdames Robert Bruce Curby and Mrs. William Wilson and Miss Frances Soule, of East Liverpool, poured. They formed a serving committee of which Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was chairman.

Miss Esther Frances Swift, of Wellsville, in juvenile costume, rendered a piano solo. Other piano solos were given by Mrs. R. I. Farmer, of Wellsville and Miss Dorothy Bennett, of East Liverpool. A reading was given by Mrs. J. A. Dimerling, of East Liverpool.

The chapter, named for Bethia Southwick, a forbear of Mrs. Lones and Mrs. Southwick, of Wellsville, who made coffee for American soldiers during a Revolutionary battle, is the only one in Columbiana county and the youngest in the United States.

Proceeds of the affair will go towards the purchase of a $150 chair in the new Continental Memorial hall now being erected by the national body in Washington, D. C. It will include a large auditorium. The present structure of the D. A. R. in the capital will be turned into an office building.

The local contingent recently sent a large box of yarn to Ellis island for utilization in knitting by immigrants waiting admission into the country.

The chapter is also engaged in finding lost graves of Revolutionary soldiers in Columbiana county. One has already been discovered in Clarkson and another near the Children's home at Yellow Creek.

The chapter organized less than a year has had a rapid growth.

New Regulations In Distribution of Sacramental Wine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—New regulations governing the distribution of sacramental wine were drafted today by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews and Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator for New York.

Mills said they were designed to stop leakage and diversion in bootleg channels.

Last year more than 4,000,000 gallons of wine were withdrawn in New York, and there was considerable diversion.

Chosen by Coolidge

Ezra J. Brainerd, Jr., of Muskogee, Okla., has been appointed to succeed Frederick I. Cox of New Jersey as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Brainerd is the second man to be nominated for the position, Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania, former ambassador to Spain and Japan, having been turned down by the senate for confirmation after his name was sent to that body by President Coolidge. Brainerd is 49, having been born in 1878 in Vermont. He was educated at Middleboro college and Colgate university. He also studied law at the University of Michigan. For the last several years he has been practicing law in Muskogee and is vice president of a bank in that city.

REVIVAL MEET TO END SUNDAY

Revival services, which have been in progress in the First Church of Christ for two weeks, will close next Sunday night.

Last night, Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland evangelist rendered a solo, "Be Ready for the Judgment."

Tonight, Rev. Mr. Johnson's sermon subject will be "Shall We All Stand Before God in a Final Day of Judgment?" Special music will be featured.

Halterman Says His Brother Was Shot During Struggle

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, O., Feb. 23.—Leo Halterman shot his half-brother, Charles, on the latter's farm last month, accidentally, during a struggle over possession of a shot gun, he told a jury which is trying him for murder here today, testifying in his own defense.

On cross-examination by the county prosecutor, Halterman said that Charles' wife, attracted by the gunshot, came from the house and attacked him with a hatchet, and that he beat her to death in "self-defense."

Rebuttal witnesses were to follow Leo Halterman on the stand, and it was not expected the case will reach the jury before late Thursday, at the earliest.

Findlay Man, 104, Born in Columbiana, Oldest War Vet

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 23.—Sylvester W. Walters, said to be the oldest living Civil war veteran in Ohio celebrated his 104th birthday here today.

He was born in Columbiana county, and during the war, was wounded in the head. He has worn a silver plate in his skull ever since, as a result.

Walters has never worn glasses, and retains his normal faculties to a remarkable degree. He takes long walks daily for exercise, and he is a liberal user of tobacco.

NAZARENE MEET CLOSES HERE

Next Convention of Young People at Monongahela, Pa.

Monongahela, Pa., was selected as the place for the next convention at the closing session yesterday, of the semi-annual meeting of the Young People's societies of the Nazarene churches in the First church, St. Clair and Lincoln avenues. The next meeting will be held on May 30, Decoration Day.

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, New Castle, president of the association, preached at last night's service. Others who took part in the convention, were Rev. H. H. Davis, Kenmore; Rev. Harry Kirkpatrick, Kent; Rev. Ralph Schurman, California, Pa., Rev. and Mrs. John Tompkins, Salem; District Superintendent and Mrs. J. H. Sloan, of this city; R. G. Hampe, Cleveland; district vice-president; Rev. J. B. Schlosser, Lisbon; Rev. F. F. Frese, Newell and Rev. B. H. Pocock, Chester.

Visiting delegates of young people from Cleveland, Ashtabula, Kenmore, Kent, Lisbon, Springfield Center, Canton and Salem, O., and Tarantum, Sagertown and California, Pa., attended the meeting.

Twenty-five young people accepted the invitation at the close of last night's service. About 350 delegates attended the convention.

Boulder Dam Bill Fate Uncertain as Filibuster Goes on

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The fate of the Boulder dam development project teetered dramatically and uncertainly in congress today.

While a filibuster creaked on in the senate, having now lasted 24 hours. The house rules committee yielded to pressure from friends of the measure and reported a special rule this morning which allowed the bill to be taken up there. Six hours were allotted for general debate.

Sleepy-eyed senators napped on the floor this forenoon while the filibuster there kept grinding. Senator Phipps (R.) of Colorado, began to speak at 8:45 after Ashurst and Cameron, both of Arizona, had held the floor throughout the night.

Games With Youngstown Chaney And Salem On High Card

Tilt With Springer Outfit On Saturday Week's Big Feature

Steel City Five, Defeated by Locals in Early Season Game Here, Also Expected to Provide Tough Scrap on Friday.

After hanging up five consecutive victories in the past few weeks, their victims including Martins Ferry, Dover, Steubenville, Wellsville and East Palestine, Coach Lorah's high school passers will take on a pair of tough engagements this week-end, the Saturday night clash with Salem here being carded as the headline event of the fag end of the campaign.

The Blue and White will go to Youngstown Friday night for a return joust with Chaney High, whom they defeated here easily in an early season engagement.

But Chaney will be battling Friday night on its own court and have improved considerably since their appearance here.

They gave the great Sharon high school team a hard battle and lost to Youngstown Rayen by only one point in a recent engagement. So it appears as though the locals will have a tough one on their hands.

Salem, after losing to Youngstown South a couple of weeks ago, regained their old form Saturday night and knocked off Akron Central, the team that handed the locals th 'r worst drubbing of the year. The game was played at Salem and the final tally was 42-24.

Salem defeated East Liverpool in a contest early in the year at Salem.

As evidenced by their record of recent weeks, the locals also are traveling at a fast clip and, in the opinion of not a few, may be able to spring the unexpected and take Springer's lads over.

The Sports Hall of Fame

Nominating
CHARLES "CHUCK" CORGAN.

BECAUSE he has earned another trial in the majors.

Because his work with Jersey City in the International league last season won him a return trip to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Because, as a shortstop, he will have to fight it out with Johnny Butler for a place as a regular—unless Manager Robinson uses him elsewhere. And the Dodgers paid seven ball players for Johnny.

Because he broke into the game at the University of Arkansas and won nationwide mention as a footba" player there.

Because he showed the folks around Enid, Okla., and Witchita, Kan., how the game should be played before being tried out by the Dodgers a year ago.

And because his nickname, "Chuck" indicates that he's probably a handy man to chuck in any place in the infield.

Dodges Wrestling Career; Says Game's Not on The Square

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 22.—Wrestling, as done by professionals is, too crooked to offer any inducement to Ralph Hammond, National Intercollegiate champion, according to the youthful wrestler in an interview here.

As a boy, Hammond was rather handicapped in his athletic endeavors, his mother considering he was too delicate a lad to indulge in "rough sports," he said.

When he got away from the maternal apron-string on entering college, however, Hammond decided to forget a little about home advice and the result was gratifying for he made a sensational success in track work and wrestling.

Out of the Pacific coast last year, Hammond was adjudged the best material for the Olympics next year, and he has a place on the team practically cinched. He has thrown every college contender, at his weight, in the United States.

Wrestling as a career, however, has no attractions for the Hugo, Okla., boy as he consideres it isn't "on the square."

Change In Open Golf Dates Will Send U.S. Stars Abroad

LONDON, Feb. 14 —itish golfers are relieved and glad that the dates for the American and Open Championships have been —d so that the fates will not clash.

It is hoped that this will mean not only that there will be a big influx of American golfers to St. Andrews, but that the term of British professionals will make the proposed journey to the United States and play in the American Open.

It will also mean that a number of the most important tournaments in Britain—which usually take place after the Open—will be put forward, so that the leading British players will be able to get plenty of first-class practice before the big event.

One drawback to the Open being played at St. Andrews is that it is an open course and no entrance fee can be charged, which makes the risk of an over-large gallery an important one. On the other hand, most of the St. Andrews spectators are keen golfers and likely to obey the stewards without question. In any event it is to be hoped that there will not be the slightest repetition of the scenes at Prestwick of two years ago.

BIG TEN RACE KNOTTED AGAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 23. — From one deadlock into another appears to be the order for Big Ten university teams battling for the basketball supremacy of the Western Conference. Today finds Michigan and Wisconsin tied for first place, each with six games won and two lost.

This situation resulted from a trio of games played last night. The most surprising upset was the defeat of Indiana, on the Hoosiers' own floor, by Ohio State. The score was 27 to 16. The Buckeyes had been rated a setup for the fast stepping Hoosiers. Until this defeat, Indiana was leading the field, holding a half game advantage over Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue and Iowa, all tied for second place.

Michigan forged to the front once more by swamping Chicago, 51 to 25. The game was played at Ann Arbor. Wisconsin broke its second place tie with Iowa by trimming the Hawks, 24 to 21. The Badgers had the advantage by playing on their home floor.

ORANGE QUINT DOWNS LISBON

Win by 41-21 Decision; Girls' Team is Defeated.

UNDER a bombardment of field goals in which every member of the regulars took part, led by Center Calhoun, Wellsville high passers defeated Lisbon, 41 to 21, last night on the county seat court.

The Wellsville girls lost a 41 to 29 decision in the preliminary.

Klinck's five had easy sailing all the way, rushing up a score of 22 to 10 at the half. After increasing the count in the third period the Orange and Black regulars were replaced by the second string squad.

Calhoun and Dickey were the chief point getters, the former with five field goals and the latter with four and two fouls. Guard Buckley came up the court to drop in a quartet of double deckers, also.

The Wellsville girls were beaten in the final quarter. They had played the Lisbon lassies to a 26-23 count for three periods and then Guard Daugherty went out on fouls.

LEAGUE CONTEST IS POSTPONED

County floor league contest between Salem and Salineville, scheduled last night at Salineville, was postponed by the Salineville club. The game probably will be played off the latter part of this week or next week.

The big game of the last half of the week will bring the Damascus Quakers to East Liverpool Thursday night.

A double bill is scheduled for the American pocket billiard tourney competitors tonight. Nig Johnson will meet Lester Herbert and Charles Price will play C. Moore.

CHESTER LOSES AT CUMBERLAND

Foul Shots Aid Hancock County Seat Five.

FORCED to play the greater part of the second half without the services of three regular players who were sent to the sidelines on personal fouls, Ray Wilde's Chester high school team took a 20 to 12 "beating" last night at New Cumberland.

One guard, one center and one forward were accused of having committed four personal fouls each, and consequently, were benched. The trio consisted of Miller, Jeffrey and Hindes. Taking these three out of the lineup left a few gaps that practically ruined Chester's chances.

Wilde's squad started off in great style, running up a score of 9 to 3 on the county seaters and apparently were headed for victory.

Then the referee began to call fouls. Nine were checked against Chester in a row and the score shortly was tied. With the assistance of field goals by Forward Long, the New Cumberland quint went out to win.

The girls lost a 23 to 12 decision in the preliminary, fighting an uphill battle all the way.

COAST EXPECTS MORE BIG CLUBS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—With the Cubs and the Pirates already recognized as regular customers, and the Giants in prospect for 1928, California baseball circles buzzed today in anticipation of a future date when other big league clubs will trek to the west coast for spring baseball training.

Officials of the San Francisco club, it was learned, have agreed to select three tentative sites for the Giants' camp next year. John McGraw will then make the final selection.

The Chicago Cubs go regularly to Catalina Island, starting point of George Young's swim and the Pittsburgh Pirates adhere to Paso Robles.

AT ALBANY, N. Y.—Jack Warren, of Chicago, won decision over Jack Herman, of Yonkers, N. Y., 12 rounds.

AT SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, and Tommy Cello, of San Francisco, drew, 10 rounds.

NEW INFIELDS FOR CUBS-SOX

Youngsters Will Succeed Veterans on Both Clubs.

By Copeland C. Burg.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Those Chicago-beloved Cubs and White Sox will be in uniform Monday.

The Bruins leave here tomorrow for spring training camp at Catalina island off the Southern California coast and the Stockings hop off Saturday for headquarters at Shreveport, La.

Twenty-eight men will make the trip south with Manager Ray Schalk and thirty Cubs will join Owner William Wrigley and Manager Joe McCarthy in the land of the flying fish.

Although a continent separates the magnolia-hung camp of the Sox and the orange scented practice ground of the Bruins the problems of McCarthy and Schalk are identical—each needs a new infield.

Practically unchanged 1926 outfields and pitching and catching staffs will be used by the Chicago teams this season and pennant hopes of both hinge around re-vamped infields.

On Elwood English, Toledo's "boy wonder" of the American association, McCarthy is hitching his star.

Placing English at shortstop with the veteran Cooney at second, Adams at third and Grimm at first will probably be the Irish pilot's initial move in California.

Aaron Ward, obtained in a trade from the Yankees, is heralded as the best bet of Schalk in his infield shakeup and the former New Yorker is figured certain to get first try at second base—for years the berth of Eddie Collins, who wears a Philadelphia Athletics' uniform this year.

With Ward—a veteran—will be a youngster battling for a glint from Schalk's payroll eye. He is Moe Berg of Newark, N. J., who made the old Orange and Black wave mightily at Princeton. Berg will oppose Roger Peckinpaugh, the somewhat venerable Washingtonian and "Honey Boy" Hunnefield, a Sox sensation last season, either at shortstop or second base, depending on whether or not Ward clinks in Collins' shoes.

Willie Kamm, the great San Franciscan, has no serious competition at third.

At first base Schalk intends to watch a fight between Early Sheely, giant Californian, and John Clancey, Illinois youth, who looked good the latter part of last year after seasoning in the Ozark bushes around Little Rock, Ark.

Games With Youngstown Chaney And Salem On High Card

Tilt With Springer Outfit On Saturday Week's Big Feature

Steel City Five, Defeated by Locals in Early Season Game Here, Also Expected to Provide Tough Scrap on Friday.

After hanging up five consecutive victories in the past few weeks, their victims including Martins Ferry, Dover, Steubenville, Wellsville and East Palestine, Coach Lorah's high school passers will take on a pair of tough engagements this week-end, the Saturday night clash with Salem here being carded as the headline event of the fag end of the campaign.

The Blue and White will go to Youngstown Friday night for a return joust with Chaney High, whom they defeated here easily in an early season engagement.

But Chaney will be battling Friday night on its own court and have improved considerably since their appearance here.

They gave the great Sharon high school team a hard battle and lost to Youngstown Rayen by only one point in a recent engagement. So it appears as though the locals will have a tough one on their hands.

Salem, after losing to Youngstown South a couple of weeks ago, regained their old form Saturday night and knocked off Akron Central, the team that handed the locals th r worst drubbing of the year. The game was played at Salem and the final tally was 42-24.

Salem defeated East Liverpool in a contest early in the year at Salem.

As evidenced by their record of recent weeks, the locals also are traveling at a fast clip and, in the opinion of not a few, may be able to spring the unexpected and take Springer's lads over.

Tommy Armour, pro of the Congressional club, Washington, D. C., is rated as the greatest iron shot in golf today. This photo shows him wielding one at Hot Springs, Ark.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Bruce Flowers, of New Rochelle, N. Y., outpointed Charley Rosen, of New York, ten rounds. Danny Terris, New York, won decision over Jimmy Connolly, of Boston, six rounds. Eddie Roberts, of New York, knocked out Frankie Sampor, of New York, in the fourth round.

AT ALBANY, N. Y.—Jack Warren, of Chicago, won decision over Jack Herman, of Yonkers, N. Y., 12 rounds.

AT SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, and Tommy Cello, of San Francisco, drew, 10 rounds.

NEW INFIELDS FOR CUBS-SOX

Youngsters Will Succeed Veterans on Both Clubs.

By Copeland C. Burg.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Those Chicago-beloved Cubs and White Sox will be in uniform Monday.

The Bruins leave here tomorrow for spring training camp at Catalina island off the Southern California coast and the Stockings hop off Saturday for headquarters at Shreveport, La.

Twenty-eight men will make the trip south with Manager Ray Schalk and thirty Cubs will join Owner William Wrigley and Manager Joe McCarthy in the land of the flying fish.

Although a continent separates the magnolia-hung camp of the Sox and the orange scented practice ground of the Bruins the problems of McCarthy and Schalk are identical—each needs a new infield.

Practically unchanged 1926 outfields and pitching and catching staffs will be used by the Chicago teams this season and pennant hopes of both hinge around re-vamped infields.

On Elwood English, Toledo's "boy wonder" of the American association, McCarthy is hitching his star.

Placing English at shortstop with the veteran Cooney at second, Adams at third and Grimm at first will probably be the Irish pilot's initial move in California.

Aaron Ward, obtained in a trade from the Yankees, is heralded as the best bet of Schalk in his infield shakeup and the former New Yorker is figured certain to get first try at second base—for years the berth of Eddie Collins, who wears a Philadelphia Athletics' uniform this year.

With Ward—a veteran—will be a youngster battling for a glint from Schalk's payroll eye. He is Moe Berg of Newark, N. J., who made the old Orange and Black wave mightily at Princeton. Berg will oppose Roger Peckinpaugh, the somewhat venerable Washingtonian and "Honey Boy" Hunnefield, a Sox sensation last season, either at shortstop or second base, depending on whether or not Ward clinks in Collins' shoes.

Willie Kamm, the great San Franciscan, has no serious competition at third.

At first base Schalk intends to watch a fight between Early Sheely, giant Californian, and John Clancey, Illinois youth, who looked good the latter part of last year after seasoning in the Ozark bushes around Little Rock, Ark.

"The Russian lady—ah how she delights in the puff of a fragrant cigarette! As a Russian I have tried them all—the cigarettes of Cairo, Paris, London, Madrid—but here in my adopted country, America, I have found my favorite cigarette 'The Lucky Strike.' In addition to its lovely fragrance and wonderful flavor it has no bad effect upon my voice—so even when I go abroad I carry with me my little trunk of Luckies—and enjoy a puff from America."

The Stirring, Dramatic Voice of Nazimova

Audiences are thrilled by this talented actress

FAMED in many countries as a star of the first magnitude, Alla Nazimova, is ever thoughtful of her voice, as she states, keeping it always in perfect condition, endeavoring always to give her audience her best.

When smoking, she prefers Lucky Strikes, because they give the greatest enjoyment and throat protection.

Lucky Strikes are smooth and mellow—the finest cigarettes you ever smoked. They are made of the finest Turkish and domestic tobaccos, properly aged and blended with great skill, and there is an extra process in treating the tobacco.

Smoke Lucky Strikes—you'll like them.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CONNIE MACK has always been known as a conservative person. He labored for years in a vain effort to rebuild his ball club without laying out huge sums of money for much tonted stars. His spectacular bid of $100,000 for Lefty Groves, Baltimore Oriole pitcher, a couple of years ago flabbergasted the scribes and fans.

* * *

But Mack apparently decided over the 1926 season that he would have to unlock the club strong box and go into the market for players if he wanted to lift his team out of the almost class.

For here is what he has done to date.

Paid $125,000 for Joe Boley and Pete Branom, infielders.

Signed Ty Cobb at a salary of $60,000 a year.

Signed Eddie Collins to a $20,000 contract.

Signed Zack Wheat at a salary and a bonus totalling $18,500.

Paid another $20,000 for other minor league material.

* * *

In other words, he has gone "on the nut" for approximately $250,000 within the space of a few weeks in the hope of landing a pennant in 1927.

* * *

All of which shows that Connie can step with the other bank roll boys when he feels the occasion demands it. Which, after all, marks the red blooded gentleman.

* * *

McGraw Planned Long Ago.

Despite the oft repeated rumors that Eddie Roush was to be traded to the New York Giants the deal itself, pulled off the other day, took even the most rabid Giant followers by surprise. And the use of George Kelly in the deal rather startled the fans, although Kelly had been mentioned as trading material.

Now, as a matter of fact, the probabilities are McGraw had the deal in mind as long ago as last season. At least he decided that long ago to use Kelly as trading material. It is apparent now that he regained the services of Jack Bentley, pitcher, first baseman, from the Phillies for that reason.

His announced intention to use Bentley as a pitcher was partly a blind, to cover up any trading intentions. As a matter of fact—it would seem now — McGraw made sure of Bentley's services to fortify himself at first base in case anything happened to Bill Terry, now destined to start the campaign there in Kelly's place.

Dempsey To Wait For Warm Weather

Intimates Rain at Philly Made Him "All Wet."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22. — If Jack Dempsey fights again, and the ex-heavyweight champion is still toying with the idea, he will want his weather warm.

During a recent trip to San Francisco, Dempsey intimated that the rain at Philadelphia during his title bout with Gene Tunney made him feel "all wet" in more ways than one.

Mrs. Dempsey explained that Jack is extremely antipathetic toward rain and that he does his best fighting when the weather is very hot.

The bouts with Willard, Carpentier, Gibbons, and others were fought during high temperatures, it was pointed out.

And here's another reason for Dempsey's loss of the title—all Williams, athletic dietician, declared he detected Dempsey eating grapes less than a week before the title bout.

"Dempsey lost the fight on his diet," Williams explained, "as grapes are very injurious to the system. They turn to alcohol during metabolism. Consequently, Dempsey's condition was not what it should have been."

"Connie Mack tells me he figures Cobb'll just about Ty the flag to the mast."

Plan to Disfranchise British Electors Who Accept Public Funds

LONDON.—The British cabinet has instructed the ministry of health to prepare a bill to disenfranchise electors who are in the receipt of relief from public funds.

Behind this statement lies a great problem. It is the result of nearly two million people added to the number who were receiving municipal and state assistance in 1914. And this is out of a population of 36,000,000.

In 1914, there were 450,000 men, women and children—receiving what is known as "outdoor relief." During the coal strike of 1921 it rose to 1,100,000. During the recent coal strike it became 2,250,000.

The actual loss of public money during the last six months. Boards of guardians—small local bodies to relieve distress—have raised $27,000,000 in loans. Doncaster, the local assessment tax for poor relief has been raised from 16 cents to one dollar in the poung sterling. In Newcastle the amount has been raised by 80 cents.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CONNIE MACK has always been known as a conservative person. He labored for years in a vain effort to rebuild his ball club without laying out huge sums of money for much touted stars. His spectacular bid of $100,000 for Lefty Groves, Baltimore Oriole pitcher, a couple of years ago flabbergasted the scribes and fans.

* * *

But Mack apparently decided over the 1926 season that he would have to unlock the club strong box and go into the market for players if he wanted to lift his team out of the almost class.

CONNIE MACK MANAGER-ATHLETICS

For here is what he has done to date.

Paid $125,000 for Joe Boley and Pete Branom, infielders.

Signed Ty Cobb at a salary of $60,000 a year.

Signed Eddie Collins to a $20,000 contract.

Signed Zack Wheat at a salary and a bonus totalling $18,500.

Paid another $20,000 for other minor league material.

* * *

In other words, he has gone "on the nut" for approximately $250,000 within the space of a few weeks in the hope of landing a pennant in 1927.

* * *

All of which shows that Connie can step with the other bank roll boys when he feels the occasion demands it. Which, after all, marks the red blooded gentleman.

* * *

McGraw Planned Long Ago.

Despite the oft repeated rumors that Eddie Roush was to be traded to the New York Giants the deal itself, pulled off the other day, took even the most rabid Giant followers by surprise. And the use of George Kelly in the deal rather startled the fans, although Kelly had been mentioned as trading material.

Now, as a matter of fact, the probabilities are McGraw had the deal in mind as long ago as last season. At least he decided that long ago to use Kelly as trading material. It is apparent now that he regained the services of Jack Bentley, pitcher, first baseman, from the Phillies for that reason.

His announced intention to use Bentley as a pitcher was partly a blind, to cover up any trading intentions. As a matter of fact—it would seem now — McGraw made sure of Bentley's services to fortify himself at first base in case anything happened to Bill Terry, now destined to start the campaign there in Kelly's place.

Dempsey To Wait For Warm Weather

Intimates Rain at Philly Made Him "All Wet."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22. — If Jack Dempsey fights again, and the ex-heavyweight champion is still toying with the idea, he will want his weather warm.

During a recent trip to San Francisco, Dempsey intimated that the rain at Philadelphia during his title bout with Gene Tunney made him feel "all wet" in more ways than one.

Mrs. Dempsey explained that Jack is extremely antipathetic toward rain and that he does his best fighting when the weather is very hot.

The bouts with Willard, Carpentier, Gibbons, and others were fought during high temperatures, it was pointed out.

And here's another reason for Dempsey's loss of the title—all Williams, athletic dietician, declared he detected Dempsey eating grapes less than a week before the title bout.

"Dempsey lost the fight on his diet," Williams explained, "as grapes are very injurious to the system. They turn to alcohol during metabolism. Consequently, Dempsey's condition was not what it should have been."

Plan to Disfranchise British Electors Who Accept Public Funds

LONDON.—The British cabinet has instructed the ministry of health to prepare a bill to disenfranchise electors who are in the receipt of relief from public funds.

Behind this statement lies a great problem. It is the result of nearly two million people added to the number who were receiving municipal and state assistance in 1914. And this is out of a population of 36,000,000.

In 1914, there were 450,000 men, women and children—receiving what is known as "outdoor relief." During the coal strike of 1921 it rose to 1,100,000. During the recent coal strike it became 2,250,000.

The actual loss of public money during the last six months. Boards of guardians—small local bodies to relieve distress—have raised $27,000,000 in loans. Doncaster, the local assessment tax for poor relief has been raised from 16 cents to one dollar in the poung sterling. In Newcastle the amount has been raised by 80 cents.

LEGAL NOTICE
Andrew C. Fulton, whose place of residence is unknown will take notice that on the 18th day of February, 1927, Garnet Fulton, his wife, filed her petition in the Common Pleas Court of Columbiana County, Ohio, against him. The prayer of the petition is for Divorce and for all proper equitable relief, on the grounds of habitual drunkeness for more than three years last past and extreme cruelty.

The said Andrew C. Fulton is required to answer said petition not later than six weeks from the 23rd day of February, 1927, the date of the first publication of this notice, or the relief prayed for may be granted.

The said Andrew C. Fulton will take notice that on the 31st day of March, 1927, the said Garnet Fulton, plaintiff, will take the deposition of sundry witnesses, to be used in the trial of said cause, at the office of Silbaugh & Silsbaugh, Attorneys at law, No. 137½ West Main Street, in the city of Lancaster, Fairfield County, Ohio, between the hours of Nine O'clock a. m. and Six O'clock, p. m. of said day, and that the taking of the same will be adjourned from day to day, between the same hours, until they are completed.

MEDICS HUNT NEW CURES IN CANCER FIGHT

Fear of Disease is Greater Danger Than Trouble Itself.

EXPERT'S VIEW

Royal College Surgeon Discusses Treatment in Lecture.

LONDON.—Cancer is definitely on the increase, but it can be cured There is only one disease worse than cancer, and that is the fear of cancer. Knowledge will bring freedom from that fear.

With these remarks Sir Berkeley Moynihan, President of the Royal College of Surgeons, and one of England's greatest cancer experts, opened the first of a series of public lectures on the fundamental causes and treatment of cancer.

The series are noteworthy for the fact that this is the first time in the history of the English medical profession that the public has been taken into its confidence.

"If the law of averages holds good," continued Sir Berkeley, "one hundred people in this hall tonight will die of cancer," a statement which caused little nervous ripples of laughter to run around the hall.

"The truth is," continued Sir Berkeley, "that in this country alone one person of every seven over the age of 30 dies of cancer; fifty thousand people die yearly in England and Wales, and it has been estimated that 500,000 lives are annual lost in the civilized countries of the world from this disease.

"Cancerous bones, dating from 3,500 years before Christ, have been taken from tombs near the Pyramids; cancer was described more than twenty centuries ago by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, and it has never since ceased taking its daily toll of lives. It is the Captain of the Men of Death, the King of Terror to the world.

"If the medical profession can help the public to learn that it is not cancer, but ignorance with regard to cancer, that is in part responsible for their horror of it; and if we can assure them that cancer, under certain conditions, is capable of complete removal, shall we not be able to diminish or even banish fear?

"Cancer mortality is increasing despite the fact that more people than ever are being cured of the disease. It may surprise many to hear that cancer can be cured; that the patient can be relieved forever from the disease. It is true.

"The operations practiced today are more frequent, of greater extent, of greater safety, and are attended by a larger measure of permanent relief from the disease than was the case 20 years ago.

"Unhappily, it is not infrequent for delay to be encouraged by the wasteful trial of other methods. The 'cancer cure' is still a curse in the land, and the most pathetic credulity as to his claims is shown by people who should know better.

"It is said that if we 'talk cancer' we shall make people 'think cancer. We hope that is true, for cancer is an unforgiving enemy, and once he has settled on his victim he never for one minute ceases to grow. The sooner you confront your foe the better for you and the worse for him.

"Ignorance is a part of fear, but fear does not contribute to the incidence of cancer. Fear should be the fear of delay, the fear lest a simple disease become cancerous.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES D STEWART

CUBAN AMBASSADOR HOPEFUL OF TARIFF WALL'S DOWNFALL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — Dr. Orestes Ferrara, Cuban ambassador in Washington, was discussing his country's plans for the 25th anniversary of its independence, May 20.

ORESTES FERRARA

He dwelt upon Cuba's debt of gratitude to the United States and the warmth of the friendship between the two peoples.

"And what," I asked, "is your chief hope for their joint future?"

"The overthrow of every tariff wall between them," answered the ambassador—"as a first step toward the leveling of all tariff walls between all the republics of all the Americas."

A REAL Pan American Union!" cried the doctor enthusiastically.

"Such a treaty between the United States and Cuba," he continued, "would cost you, in this country, just one and only one thing—

"Perhaps as much as three-quarters of your investment of about $200,000,000 in domestic sugar production.

"But your sugar would cost you less by $100,000,000 yearly.

"Within two years your loss would have been wiped out completely."

"But how about the loss of $165,000,000 to the sugar investors who actually lost it?" I suggested. "They certainly couldn't eat sugar enough in two years to save $165,000,000 on it."

"Well, you could easily afford to idemnify them," replied the doctor, "out of the saving to the rest of your public."

DR. FERRARA'S program really does have something fascinating about it to those he has suggested it to. I heard it mentioned with interest several times in recent weeks and the doctor hasn't been here long. Since he come he has been doing his missionary work rapidly.

Nobody can fail to see that the kind of Pan American Union he proposes would give a wonderful fillip to trading among the Americas.

The Latin Americans naturally turn much more readily, as buyers to Europe than to the United States, partly because they themselves are mostly of very recent European origin, partly because Europeans were first in the Latin American field, partly because they sell many things more cheaply than the United States and partly because they understand Latin America and give correspondingly better satisfaction.

All this has long placed North American trade at a disadvantage in the southern republics.

But the Ferrara plan would put the shoe on the other foot in short order.

THERE would be obstacles to overcome.

Cuban sugar, as Dr. Ferrara points out, would be one. Argentine meat and wheat might be others.

For the greater part, however, Latin America produces raw products which the United States couldn't if it tried—like coffee, rubber, tropical woods, cocoa beans and quebracho extract—but can consume to excellent advantage.

On the other hand, the southern countries are not naturally adapted to the industries and have a tremendous capacity—which will increase as their populations increase— for absorbing manufactured articles.

The northern and southern continents really seem to have been designed by nature—especially as the northern one becomes more and more highly industrialized—to swap commodities with one another.

So Dr. Ferrara's vision of the future gives considerable promise of attracting a great deal of attention before long and perhaps favor, finally—through hardly with United States sugar interests.

SOUTHERN KLAN CHIEF RESIGNS

Organization Practically Dissolved in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 23.—The Raleigh "News and Observer" says today that Judge Henry A. Grady, for four years grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan for North Carolina, has resigned from the klan because of alleged attempted coercion to "obtain by subterfuge" the passage of what he regarded as iniquitous legislation in the North Carolina General assembly.

On the heels of the resignation came the practical dissolution of the entire organization within the state when 66 of the 86 chapters surrendered their charters.

A letter said to have been written by Judge Grady to Dr. Hiram W. Evans is quoted by the "News and Observer" as follows:

"It is a far cry from this obligation (the oath) which you and all other klansmen have taken to the silly, unseemly and unconstitutional measures which you and your advisers are attempting to foist upon the people of a liberty loving state."

Grady, who is a judge of the North Carolina superior court, now is holding court sessions at Clinton, N. C. He said today that he had quit the Klan because Evans had "made a mess of things."

MINSTREL CAST IS REHEARSING

Austin Bolles and William Stevenson will have charge of the rehearsal tonight for the minstrel show to be staged under the auspices of the Industrial Welfare department of the Homer Laughlin China company in the Ceramic theatre on Monday evening, March 14.

Rehearsals will also be held Thursday and Friday nights in the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, East Liverpool. Cast will be composed for the most part of employes of the six shops of the company.

MRS. ROBINSON IS IMPROVING

Mrs. Tim Robinson, of Newell, former school teacher, who was recently severely injured in an automobile accident in Los Angeles, Cal., where she is spending the winter, has been removed from the hospital to her apartments, 631 1-2 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

She is reported as steadily improving.

MISSION MEETS DRAW LARGELY

Evangelist John Trager, of Philadelphia, Pa., who is conducting revival services in the Glendale mission, back of Newell, preached last night on the subject, "Why We Don't Have More Genuine Revivals." He was to have delivered the sermon Monday night but owing to illness he was unable to be present.

The meetings, which will continue for the remainder of the week, are growing in interest and being well attended despite the inclement weather. Special music is being featured.

Convention Closes.

Members of the Young People's society of the Nazarene church were in attendance last night at the closing session of the convention held in the First Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Prayer Services Tonight.

Prayer services will be held tonight at the usual hour in the churches here in charge of the respective pastors.

Board Members Meet.

Regular meeting of the Grant district board of education was held last night in the Newell school building. Routine matters were considered.

Return from Pittsburgh.

Bernice Mylar, Dorothy Barnes, Thelma Wilson, Catherine Barnes, Esther Auwaerter and Mrs. Taner Calhoun have returned home from Pittsburgh, where they were called by the death of Alice Shirmer, former resident of Newell.

President of Austria In Patriotic Movie Of His Dairy Farm

VIENNA.—The President of Austria, Dr. Hainisch, will become a movie actor to the extent of allowing himself and his model dairy farm to be filmed for propaganda in the interests of national sanitation.

The film, "The Way to Power and Beauty," is being made by the government to encourage better sanitation in the country, in which respect Austria is several years behind England and America.

Dr. Hainisch owns and operates a large dairy farm which is modeled after the up-to-date farms of America and Canada.

BY CHARLES R STEWART

CUBAN AMBASSADOR HOPEFUL OF TARIFF WALL'S DOWNFALL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — Dr. Orestes Ferrara, Cuban ambassador in Washington, was discussing his country's plans for the 25th anniversary of its independence, May 20.

ORESTES FERRARA

He dwelt upon Cuba's debt of gratitude to the United States and the warmth of the friendship between the two peoples.

"And what," I asked, "is your chief hope for their joint future?"

"The overthrow of every tariff wall between them," answered the ambassador—"as a first step toward the leveling of all tariff walls between all the republics of all the Americas."

A REAL Pan American Union!" cried the doctor enthusiastically.

"Such a treaty between the United States and Cuba," he continued, "would cost you, in this country, just one and only one thing—

"Perhaps as much as three-quarters of your investment of about $200,000,000 in domestic sugar production.

"But your sugar would cost you less by $100,000,000 yearly.

"Within two years your loss would have been wiped out completely."

"But how about the loss of $165,000,000 to the sugar investors who actually lost it?" I suggested. "They certainly couldn't eat sugar enough in two years to save $165,000,000 on it."

"Well, you could easily afford to idemnify them," replied the doctor, "out of the saving to the rest of your public."

DR. FERRARA'S program really does have something fascinating about it to those he has suggested it to. I heard it mentioned with interest several times in recent weeks and the doctor hasn't been here long. Since he come he has been doing his missionary work rapidly.

Nobody can fail to see that the kind of Pan American Union he proposes would give a wonderful fillip to trading among the Americas.

The Latin Americans naturally turn much more readily, as buyers to Europe than to the United States, partly because they themselves are mostly of very recent European origin, partly because Europeans were first in the Latin American field, partly because they sell many things more cheaply than the United States and partly because they understand Latin America and give correspondingly better satisfaction.

All this has long placed North American trade at a disadvantage in the southern republics.

But the Ferrara plan would put the shoe on the other foot in short order.

THERE would be obstacles to overcome.

Cuban sugar, as Dr. Ferrara points out, would be one. Argentine meat and wheat might be others.

For the greater part, however, Latin America produces raw products which the United States couldn't if it tried—like coffee, rubber, tropical woods, cocoa beans and quebracho extract—but can consume to excellent advantage.

On the other hand, the southern countries are not naturally adapted to the industries and have a tremendous capacity—which will increase as their populations increase— for absorbing manufactured articles.

The northern and southern continents really seem to have been designed by nature—especially as the northern one becomes more and more highly industrialized—to swap commodities with one another.

So Dr. Ferrara's vision of the future gives considerable promise of attracting a great deal of attention before long and perhaps favor, finally—through hardly with United States sugar interests.

SOUTHERN KLAN CHIEF RESIGNS

Organization Practically Dissolved in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 23.—The Raleigh "News and Observer" says today that Judge Henry A. Grady, for four years grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan for North Carolina, has resigned from the klan because of alleged attempted coercion to "obtain by subterfuge" the passage of what he regarded as iniquitous legislation in the North Carolina General assembly.

On the heels of the resignation came the practical dissolution of the entire organization within the state when 66 of the 86 chapters surrendered their charters.

A letter said to have been written by Judge Grady to Dr. Hiram W. Evans is quoted by the "News and Observer" as follows:

"It is a far cry from this obligation (the oath) which you and all other klansmen have taken to the silly, unseemly and unconstitutional measures which you and your advisers are attempting to foist upon the people of a liberty loving state."

Grady, who is a judge of the North Carolina superior court, now is holding court sessions at Clinton, N. C. He said today that he had quit the Klan because Evans had "made a mess of things."

MINSTREL CAST IS REHEARSING

Austin Bolles and William Stevenson will have charge of the rehearsal tonight for the minstrel show to be staged under the auspices of the Industrial Welfare department of the Homer Laughlin China company in the Ceramic theatre on Monday evening, March 14.

Rehearsals will also be held Thursday and Friday nights in the Eagles' auditorium, Broadway, East Liverpool. Cast will be composed for the most part of employes of the six shops of the company.

MRS. ROBINSON IS IMPROVING

Mrs. Tim Robinson, of Newell, former school teacher, who was recently severely injured in an automobile accident in Los Angeles, Cal., where she is spending the winter, has been removed from the hospital to her apartments, 631 1-2 South Broadway, Los Angeles.

She is reported as steadily improving.

MISSION MEETS DRAW LARGELY

Evangelist John Trager, of Philadelphia, Pa., who is conducting revival services in the Glendale mission, back of Newell, preached last night on the subject, "Why We Don't Have More Genuine Revivals." He was to have delivered the sermon Monday night but owing to illness he was unable to be present.

The meetings, which will continue for the remainder of the week, are growing in interest and being well attended despite the inclement weather. Special music is being featured.

Convention Closes.

Members of the Young People's society of the Nazarene church were in attendance last night at the closing session of the convention held in the First Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Prayer Services Tonight.

Prayer services will be held tonight at the usual hour in the churches here in charge of the respective pastors.

Board Members Meet.

Regular meeting of the Grant district board of education was held last night in the Newell school building. Routine matters were considered.

Return from Pittsburgh.

Bernice Mylar, Dorothy Barnes, Thelma Wilson, Catherine Barnes, Esther Auwaerter and Mrs. Taner Calhoun have returned home from Pittsburgh, where they were called by the death of Alice Shirmer, former resident of Newell.

President of Austria In Patriotic Movie Of His Dairy Farm

VIENNA.—The President of Austria, Dr. Hainisch, will become a movie actor to the extent of allowing himself and his model dairy farm to be filmed for propaganda in the interests of national sanitation.

The film, "The Way to Power and Beauty," is being made by the government to encourage better sanitation in the country, in which respect Austria is several years behind England and America.

Dr. Hainisch owns and operates a large dairy farm which is modeled after the up-to-date farms of America and Canada.

Denishawn Dancers Appear At Ceramic Monday Night

Reservations for Civic Music Association Attraction Will be Made on Friday.

Reservations for the Denishawn dancers, featuring Miss Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn and a company of artists, who will appear at the Ceramic theatre next Monday in the third and final attraction of the Civic Music association course, will be made at the theatre box office starting at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, founders of the American school of the dance, which bears their names, "Denishawn," have not only in the 10 years of the life of the school, trained the very fine group of young artists who travel with them, but also many others who are appearing before American audiences.

The personnel of the Denishawn company is headed by Doris Humphrey, who has a following of her own in many merican cities. Miss Humphrey is not only a fine artist and a beautiful dancer, but she has decided creative ability, and each year the programs presented by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn carry at least one of her dance compositions. Miss Humphrey has met with great success throughout the Orient and her critics have predicted a brilliant career for her.

Miss Humphrey will be featured in a fetching Burmese ballet, costumes, properties, and settings having been purchased in Rangoon during the engagement in that city.

Charles Weidman, whose delightful characterizations have won admirers for him throughout the entire states, will be with the company again this season. He is also to be featured in a stunning Singalese devil-dance, with masks and costumes from Kandy, Ceylon, which is famous for its expert performers of the devil-dance.

Anne Douglas, whose dainty Oriental type is so Chinese, will be featured in a Chinese ballet.

Geordie Graham and Ernestine Day, who have been with the company for the past four season, and will be remembered for their work in "Xochitl" and "Feather of the Dawn," will be seen in new and interesting ballets.

George Steares, Pauline Lawrence, Edith James and Jane Sherman, who have been with the Denishawn company on tour throughout the Orient, will contine as members of the company on the 1927 tour.

There will be two new members, Nina Garrett and Edward McLean, both of them from the Denishawn school, and talented dancers. Miss Garrett has been appearing for the last five years on the Pacific coast in Denishawn productions. Mr. McLean has been for some time a student of the school in New York.

The Denishawn company have recruited members from California, Colorado, Washington, New York, Illinois, Arizona and Nebraska.

Miss St. Denis is a native of New Jersey and Mr. Shawn of Missouri.

Clifford Vaughn, their very able pianist-conductor, who has been with the company during the Oriental tour, will continue to direct during the 1927 season. Mr. Vaughn has proved himself valuable to Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn, not only as a pianist and conductor, but as a composer, and the program of 1927 will present many of his compositions, which are built upon native themes and melodies, orchestrated and arranged to meet the requirements of the dances.

Miss St. Denis and Shawn carry with them a small orchestra, their costumer and wardrobe assistants.

Walter Burke, who has for the past three years been the company manager, will take up his duties again in this capacity for 1927, and J. Francis Smith, who has for several seasons advanced the tour, will again attend to the details of appearances.

They will carry with them their usual stage crew, the entire company numbering 25, and with practically no break in their organization during the last four years, can assure their audiences of the very fine support which their company will give them.

ADMITS ENGAGEMENT TO HEIR

Miss Gussie Blum, member of a team of dancers, admitted between her first and second turns at a Chicago theatre that she's engaged to Vincent J. Lamb, young Denver stock broker and heir to millions. She is shown in the photo making up for a rag doll dance.

WHEN YOUR SKIN IS SALLOW AND DULL

Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.

But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.

Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucous membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.

Could Be Beautiful

Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach,—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.

We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these two facts.

Sold by Carnahan's; also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists. (204.)

WHEN YOUR SKIN IS SALLOW AND DULL

Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.

But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.

Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucous membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.

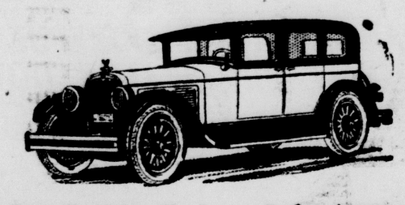
Could Be Beautiful

Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach,—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.

We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these two facts.

Sold by Carnahan's; also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists. (204.)

THOUSANDS AND THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE HAVE HOPED FOR A CAR EXACTLY LIKE THIS



New Standard Six De Luxe Sedan $1135 f.o.b. Cleveland

THIS is the first time an automobile manufacturer ever packed so much quality and style and richness and power into a car of this price.

Georgia Jurist Hits "Invisible Empire" In Flogging Probe

LYONS, Ga., Feb. 23.—Declaring "there is no place among white men for invisible empires," Superior Court Judge R. N. Hardman yesterday urged the Toombs county grand jury to investigate thoroughly the flogging of Wimberly E. Brown, an attorney.

"The whipping post was abolished by the Anglo-Saxon race and I tell you it will not be re-established in Georgia," he said in his charge. "I never liked the words 'imperial' and 'empire' as applied to government, and God knows there is no place among white men for invisible empires.

"Are there men in Toombs county who, with covered faces, not under oath can do more righteously or justly than you? You can't indict without evidence, yet men can cover their faces, sit in Altamaha Swamp and indict and do more than you have a right to do."

Brown was flogged last Christmas eve, shortly after he had aided in the prosecution of several men charged with being members of a hooded band which killed Willie Wilson.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet —colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Ouch! Ouch! Oh, That Toothache!

Don't Suffer. E-Z Tooth Filler Will Kill That Pain and Torture.

Toothache Fiends Move Out Quickly

Toothache stands no more chance of lasting after "E-Z Tooth Filler" is applied in the cavity than a chunk of ice has of lasting on a hot stove. It melts away just as the ice does, and just as quick.

Best of all, though, it's more than a mere temporary relief. When put in the cavity, it seals it air-tight and hardens quickly. The ache stops and stays stopped, while "E-Z" acts as a regular filling until you get ready to go to a dentist for a permanent job.

It is not merely a temporary relief, either, but a real filling for the tooth which will last for weeks or months. Anyone can use "E-Z (easy) Tooth Filler." It takes but a moment and costs only 25c.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" is for sale at your druggist's at 25c a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price by the Chas. A. Bertram Drug Co., 3758 N. Albany Ave., Chicago.

For sale and recommended in East Liverpool by all druggists.

U. S. INTERESTS IN TURKEY FEAR TREATY LAPSES

Feeling of Resentment Toward Americans is Growing.

AFFECTS SCHOOLS

Admiral Bristol Visits Angora to Discuss Question.

WASHINGTON. — The future of American interests in Turkey hangs in the balance, it is indicated by private dispatches received here from Angora and Constantinople. The modus vivendi or temporary commercial treaty, under which the United States had been treating with Turkey in the absence of ratification of the Lausanne pact, expires on February 20, and it is not at all certain that Angora will consent to a renewal of this arrangement.

Althought the Turkish government itself is disposed to be friendly toward the United States, there has developed a feeling of resentment against the Americans among the Turkish people and business men becauseof the Senate's recent refusal to ratify the Lausanne treaty. Thus, while the government is probably inclined to extend the modus vivendi pending future action by the United States senate, it may be influenced to take an opposite course because of an adverse public opinion.

Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, the American high commissioner, is now in Angoria, presumably seeking an extension. The state department, however, has refused to discuss for publication in the instructions given him and declined, after the senate rejection of the treaty, to make known its official attitude on the Turkish question. Secretary Kellogg explained that it would be an act of discourtesy toward Angoria if his views were placed before the American public before being present to the Turks.

Despite this cautiousness, it is known that this government is not overly optimistic as to the probable outcome of the Bristol negotiations. One official declared that virtually the only American hope rests upon the commissioner's ability to convince Turkey that notwithstanding the senate's action there exists in this country a preponderant sentiment in favor of the treaty. In other words, all depends upon the quality and forcefulness of Bristol's diplomacy.

American business interests will be most seriously affected by discontinuance of the present commercial arrangement. In January, 1926, the Angoria government enacted a law increasing the impost duties on goods shipped into Turkey from countries with which no commercial treaties had been concluded and ratified. Application of this law to American companies was suspended by the modus vivendi, which has been twice extended by the Turks, and which will expire in February if not again extended.

Unless a new arrangement is made before then American shippers will automatically be subjected to discriminatory tariff rates higher in some cases by 60 per cent and in others by 30 per cent the rates applied to the products of America's competitors. Such action, in the opinion of international trade experts, would virtually wipe out America's growing trade with Turkey, which in the last two years has shown indications of taking rank with that of Italy and England, who today are Turkey's best customers.

Whether the Angora government will go so far as to close the American schools, is, of course, problematical, although its right to do so is unquestioned. Leading American educators both here and in Turkey hope, however, that the Turks will continue their policy of lending moral support to these educational institutions. In this connection it has been pointed out by Albert W. Staub, American director of Near East colleges that "we have never been obliged by the Turks to close our doors for a single day on account of wars or political disturbances."

The American schools, which have played a leading part in Turkey's educational life, include Robert and Constantinople colleges in Constantinople, International colleges in Smyrna and Euphrates college at Harpoot, East Turkey.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Troubles

Or Your Money Back. That's the Plan on Which Emerald Oil Is Sold by Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway and All Good Druggists.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simple clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Carnahan's and Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but (one bottle) we know with show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered one way to restore your skin to perfect health.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

Georgia Jurist Hits "Invisible Empire" In Flogging Probe

LYONS, Ga., Feb. 23.—Declaring "there is no place among white men for invisible empires," Superior Court Judge R. N. Hardman yesterday urged the Toombs county grand jury to investigate thoroughly the flogging of Wimberly E. Brown, an attorney.

"The whipping post was abolished by the Anglo-Saxon race and I tell you it will not be re-established in Georgia," he said in his charge. "I never liked the words 'imperial' and 'empire' as applied to government, and God knows there is no place among white men for invisible empires.

"Are there men in Toombs county who, with covered faces, not under oath can do more righteously or justly than you? You can't indict without evidence, yet men can cover their faces, sit in Altamaha Swamp and indict and do more than you have a right to do."

Brown was flogged last Christmas eve, shortly after he had aided in the prosecution of several men charged with being members of a hooded band which killed Willie Wilson.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet —colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

Ouch! Ouch! Oh, That Toothache!

Don't Suffer. E-Z Tooth Filler Will Kill That Pain and Torture.

Toothache Fiends Move Out Quickly

Toothache stands no more chance of lasting after "E-Z Tooth Filler" is applied in the cavity than a chunk of ice has of lasting on a hot stove. It melts away, just as the ice does, and just as quick.

Best of all, though, it's more than a mere temporary relief. When put in the cavity, it seals it air-tight and hardens quickly. The ache stops and stays stopped, while "E-Z" acts as a regular filling until you get ready to go to a dentist for a permanent job.

It is not merely a temporary relief, either, but a real filling for the tooth which will last for weeks or months. Anyone can use "E-Z (easy) Tooth Filler." It takes but a moment and costs only 25c.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" is for sale at your druggist's at 25c a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price by the Chas. A. Bertram Drug Co., 3758 N. Albany Ave., Chicago.

For sale and recommended in East Liverpool by all druggists.

U. S. INTERESTS IN TURKEY FEAR TREATY LAPSES

Feeling of Resentment Toward Americans is Growing.

Admiral Bristol Visits Angora to Discuss Question.

WASHINGTON. — The future of American interests in Turkey hangs in the balance, it is indicated by private dispatches received here from Angora and Constantinople. The modus vivendi or temporary commercial treaty, under which the United States had been treating with Turkey in the absence of ratification of the Lausanne pact, expires on February 20, and it is not at all certain that Angora will consent to a renewal of this arrangement.

Althought the Turkish government itself is disposed to be friendly toward the United States, there has developed a feeling of resentment against the Americans among the Turkish people and business men becauseof the Senate's recent refusal to ratify the Lausanne treaty. Thus, while the government is probably inclined to extend the modus vivendi pending future action by the United States senate, it may be influenced to take an opposite course because of an adverse public opinion.

Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, the American high commissioner, is now in Angoria, presumably seeking an extension. The state department, however, has refused to discuss for publication in the instructions given him and declined, after the senate rejection of the treaty, to make known its official attitude on the Turkish question. Secretary Kellogg explained that it would be an act of discourtesy toward Angoria if his views were placed before the American public before being present to the Turks.

Despite this cautiousness, it is known that this government is not overly optimistic as to the probable outcome of the Bristol negotiations. One official declared that virtually the only American hope rests upon the commissioner's ability to convince Turkey that notwithstanding the senate's action there exists in this country a preponderant sentiment in favor of the treaty. In other words, all depends upon the quality and forcefulness of Bristol's diplomacy.

American business interests will be most seriously affected by discontinuance of the present commercial arrangement. In January, 1926, the Angoria government enacted a law increasing the impost duties on goods shipped into Turkey from countries with which no commercial treaties had been concluded and ratified. Application of this law to American companies was suspended by the modus vivendi, which has been twice extended by the Turks, and which will expire in February if not again extended.

Unless a new arrangement is made before then American shippers will automatically be subjected to discriminatory tariff rates higher in some cases by 60 per cent and in others by 30 per cent the rates applied to the products of America's competitors. Such action, in the opinion of international trade experts, would virtually wipe out America's growing trade with Turkey, which in the last two years has shown indications of taking rank with that of Italy and England, who today are Turkey's best customers.

Whether the Angora government will go so far as to close the American schools, is, of course, problematical, although its right to do so is unquestioned. Leading American educators both here and in Turkey hope, however, that the Turks will continue their policy of lending moral support to these educational institutions. In this connection it has been pointed out by Albert W. Staub, American director of Near East colleges that "we have never been obliged by the Turks to close our doors for a single day on account of wars or political disturbances."

The American schools, which have played a leading part in Turkey's educational life, include Robert and Constantinople colleges in Constantinople, International colleges in Smyrna and Euphrates college at Harpoot, East Turkey.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Troubles

Or Your Money Back. That's the Plan on Which Emerald Oil Is Sold by Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway and All Good Druggists.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN.

There was a moment of stupefied silence, when as I struggled to a sitting posture, scattering plaster, loose sheets of paper and dust in every direction, a chorus of exclamations in various tongues broke out around the table. The shock of my fall had somewhat confused me, but my confusion was nothing to that of the various gentlemen into whose secret deliberations I had so abruptly descended. Before they had recovered their wits, I heard the voice of Mr. Center, even and composed as ever:

"Mr. Quexter, your curiosity take strange method."

"Who is this man?" cried some one.

"He is my great friend," said the Center. "I never lose him again."

By this time I had scrambled off the table and was making for the door, an action which galvanized the astonished members of the Ring into movement. A hand plucked at my coat as I went, checking me in full flight. I half-turned, trying to tear myself free, when I stumbled and fell heavily to the floor over the foot, encased in a button boot of patent leather, stretched out by the Jew who was replacing the absent Number 14. As I went down I heard him say in accents of alarm above the tumult:

"He muthn't get away, Mihter Thenter."

"Apprehension quite unnecessary," the Center replied. "Much regret, but he dead man very soon."

I was now face downwards on the floor, my discomfiture being completed by an unseen individual of enormous weight who sat heavily down on the small of my back, knocking the breath out of me and completing this process by securing a strangle hold on my throat with his fat, hairy fingers.

I again heard the Center's voice:

"Well done, Number 4. Convenient to tie up unexpected visitor with big silk handkerchief."

Several members of the company proceeded to act on this suggestion. My hands were seized, dragged behind my back and lashed with the handkerchief in question. Then the pressure on my throat and back relaxed, I was dragged up to my knees and thrown backwards into the corner of the room. Over me stood the enterprising man with the big silk handkerchief, evidently Number 4 — a large man, clean-shaven, with a red, hectoring face and a bull neck.

"Is that all right, Mr. Center?" he asked, regarding his handiwork with some pride.

"I think he do now very well," the Center replied.

"Cannot sufficiently excuse sudden descent of so deplorable apparition," he went on to the company at large.

I gazed bewildered around the room upon the mysterious men of the "inner ring" of which so little was known, while the Center affably proceeded with his apology.

"He one of unfortunate patients of Doctor Kuntz. Very violent at times. Evidently escaped. I make inquiries and punish responsibles."

A murmur from the table showed that they understood and accepted his explanation, all except the Jewish secretary of Number 14, who appeared to be in a condition of fear not far removed from absolute panic.

"He muthn't be allowed to give uth away, Mihter Thenter," he insisted. 'We rely on you to take the nethehary thteps."

The Center eyed him with, it seemed to me, contempt.

"Deplorable patient will be removed," he replied. "My servants take back patient to convenient Home. Meantime, kindly help clear up unfortunate mess.'

He indicated the table covered with plaster and paper. Over it yawned a gaping hole from which the electric light hung grotesquely, having by a miracle escaped destruction in my fall.

I should perhaps explain that even the loneliest and humblest mountain chalets in Switzerland have electric light, owing to the abundance of water power which makes it cheaper than any other form of illumination.

"Wouldn't it be well to gag the gentleman?" asked a man at the table.

H spoke with the clipped accept of the London suburbs, and I recognized him for a type common enough among successful business men in London.

The Center nodded, and Number 4 approached me again with a bandanna handkerchief hastily handed over by the Jew. In a purely instinctive effort to struggle I found that my feet had been tied as well as my hands, and probably at the same moment. I was, therefore, utterly helpless. The Englishman crammed the handkerchief into my mouth, while the Jew and one of the others picked up the green cloth covering the table by its four corners and carrying it, plaster and all, threw it with one sweep completely over me.

I was now in worse case than ever before, powerless to move, blinded by the cloth, and unable to utter a sound. All my efforts had been in vain, and I was more securely in the toils than ever. This time, I reflected, I had no chance of even the shortest respite. They would watch me day and night if they did not kill me immediately.

The Ring ceased to take interest in me once I was secured and resumed its interrupted discussion. The subject of debate was still the offer of Finckelstein and his expected arrival at the chalet, when he would want an answer to his proposals.

The Center summed up the arguments. He put the points carefully and concisely before the committee in his quaint Japanese English. Here was a man whom, he assured them, they could trust and in a position immediately to put a very large quantity of the two most marketable drugs, cocaine and morphine, into their hands at a price high, but by no means beyond their capacity to pay. The profits from such a deal would be enormous. At this point the little Jew murmured something about five hundred per cent, at least, which would be obtained without any very great risks. The Center proposed that Finckelstein's offer should be accepted, provided the members of the Ring were satisfied with his assurances. The only difficulty lay in devising a safe means of removing the drugs from wherever he had them concealed.

This point was under discussion when there came a knock on the door. The voices were instantly hushed. The Center spoke a single sharp phrase in Japanese, and the answer, slightly muffled, came from without.

"He has ome, gentlemen, said the Center. "Mr. Finckelstein is here."

Apparently the Center rose and went to the door himself, for I heard a movement, and when he spoke again his voice came from another part of the room, and I realized that the door was open and he was giving instructions in Japanese to the servant or servants who had brought Finckelstein to the chalet. Then came a further shuffling of feet and the creak of a chair.

CROWD ATTENDS REVIVAL MEET

Evangelist L. S. Hoover Delivers Sermon in Oakland Church.

Evangelist L. S. Hoover, of Tionesta, Pa., had as his subject last night at the revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church, "The Acid Test of Christianity." Large crowd attended.

He said in part: "As the jeweler has an acid test to determine which are real jewels, so we must have an acid test for christianity to distinguish between genuine and the false. Paul's method of testing christianity was not to base the test on creed, moral conduct, church relationship, religious education, charitable deeds or ritualistic observances.

"As we cannot imitate the spirit of Christ and can only obtain it by moral regeneration, Paul makes this experience the classic experience of the church in all ages and places the test on whether we have been born again. Christ spirit in relation to the Father was an obedient spirit. Jesus said I do always the things that are pleasing in thy sight. No room here for a sinning religion. We cannot have the spirit of Christ and be a sinner. We go out of the sin business when we get right with God. Whosover is born of God doth not commit sin."

"He muthn't get away, Mihter Thenter."

"Apprehension quite unnecessary," the Center replied. "Much regret, but he dead man very soon."

I was now face downwards on the floor, my discomfiture being completed by an unseen individual of enormous weight who sat heavily down on the small of my back, knocking the breath out of me and completing this process by securing a strangle hold on my throat with his fat, hairy fingers.

I again heard the Center's voice:

"Well done, Number 4. Convenient to tie up unexpected visitor with big silk handkerchief."

Several members of the company proceeded to act on this suggestion My hands were seized, dragged behind my back and lashed with the handkerchief in question. Then the pressure on my throat and back e laxed, I was dragged up to my knees and thrown backwards into the corner of the room. Over me stood the enterprising man with the big silk handkerchief, evidently Number 4 — a large man, clean-shaven, with a red hectoring face and a bull neck.

"Is that all right, Mr. Center?" he asked, regarding his handiwork with some pride.

"I think he do now very well," the Center replied.

"Cannot sufficiently excuse sudden descent of so deplorable apparition," he went on to the company at large.

I gazed bewildered around the room upon the mysterious men of the "inner ring" of which so little was known, while the Center affably proceeded with his apology.

"He one of unfortunate patients of Doctor Kuntz. Very violent at times. Evidently escaped. I make inquiries and punish responsibles."

A murmur from the table showed that they understood and accepted his explanation, all except the Jewish secretary of Number 14, who appeared to be in a condition of fear not far removed from absolute panic.

"He muthn't be allowed to give uth away, Mithter Thenter," he insisted 'We rely on you to take the nethehary thteps."

The Center eyed him with, it seemed to me, contempt.

"Deplorable patient will be removed," he replied. "My servants take back patient to convenient Home. Meantime, kindly help clear up unfortunate mess.'

He indicated the table covered with plaster and paper. Over it yawned a gaping hole from which the electric light hung grotesquely, having by a miracle escaped destruction in my fall.

I should perhaps explain that even the loneliest and humblest mountain chalets in Switzerland have electric light, owing to the abundance of water power which makes it cheaper than any other form of illumination.

"Wouldn't it be well to gag the gentleman?" asked a man at the table.

H spoke with the clipped accept of the London suburbs, and I recognized him for a type common enough among successful business men in London.

The Center nodded, and Number 4 approached me again with a bandanna handkerchief hastily handed over by the Jew. In a purely instinctive effort to struggle I found that my feet had been tied as well as my hands, and probably at the same moment. I was, therefore, utterly helpless. The Englishman crammed the handkerchief into my mouth, while the Jew and one of the others picked up the green cloth covering the table by its four corners and carrying it, plaster and all, threw it with one sweep completely over me.

I was now in worse case than ever before, powerless to move, blinded by the cloth, and unable to utter a sound. All my efforts had been in vain, and I was more securely in the toils than ever. This time, I reflected, I had no chance of even the shortest respite. They would watch me day and night if they did not kill me immediately.

The Ring ceased to take interest in me once I was secured and resumed its interrupted discussion. The subject of debate was still the offer of Finckelstein and his expected arrival at the chalet, when he would want an answer to his proposals.

The Center summed up the arguments. He put the points carefully and concisely before the committee in his quaint Jananese English. Here was a man whom, he assured them, they could trust and in a position immediately to put a very large quantity of the two most marketable drugs, cocaine and morphine, into their hands at a price high, but by no means beyond their capacity to pay. The profits from such a deal would be enormous. At this point the little Jew murmured something about five hundred per cent, at least, which would be obtained without any very great risks. The Center proposed that Finckelstein's offer should be accepted, provided the members of the Ring were satisfied with his assurances. The only difficulty lay in devising a safe means of removing the drugs from wherever he had them concealed.

This point was under discussion when there came a knock on the door. The voices were instantly hushed. The Center spoke a single sharp phrase in Japanese, and the answer, slightly muffled, came from without.

"He has ome, gentlemen, said the Center. "Mr. Finckelstein is here."

Apparently the Center rose and went to the door himself, for I heard a movement, and when he spoke again his voice came from another part of the room, and I realized that the door was open and he was giving instructions in Japanese to the servant or servants who had brought Finckelstein to the chalet. Then came a further shuffling of feet and the creak of a chair.

CROWD ATTENDS REVIVAL MEET

Evangelist L. S. Hoover Delivers Sermon in Oakland Church.

Evangelist L. S. Hoover, of Tionesta, Pa., had as his subject last night at the revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church, "The Acid Test of Christianity." Large crowd attended.

He said in part: "As the jeweler has an acid test to determine which are real jewels, so we must have an acid test for christianity to distinguish between genuine and the false. Paul's method of testing christianity was not to base the test on creed, moral conduct, church relationship, religious education, charitable deeds or ritualistic observances.

"As we cannot imitate the spirit of Christ and can only obtain it by moral regeneration, Paul makes this experience the classic experience of the church in all ages and places the test on whether we have been born again. Christ spirit in relation to the Father was an obedient spirit. Jesus said I do always the things that are pleasing in thy sight. No room here for a sinning religion. We cannot have the spirit of Christ and be a sinner. We go out of the sin business when we get right with God. Whosever is born of God doth not commit sin."

The evangelist will preach tonight on the subject "Naaman's Cure Or Taking the Spots Off a Leper."

'THIRD DEGREE' IS THRILLING

Dolores Costello in Dramatic Role at American.

If you remember back to the thrill you experienced when you saw "The Third Degree" on the stage, you will not want to miss being thrilled anew by the screen version of this well known melodrama now at the American theatre.

Adapted for Warner Bros. by Graham Baker, this Charles Klein melodrama brings to Dolores Costello, the star, the most dramatic role of her highly successful career. As Annie, the little trapeze performer of a side show in Coney Island who marries a young millionaire and is estranged from him by his proud father, she gives a beautifully balanced emotional performance. Miss Costello remains the greatest "find" of recent years on the screen.

Louise Dresser, who is featured in the supporting role of Annie's mother, surpasses her moving performance of the mother in "Broken Hearts of Hollywood." The scene where she confesses to Dolores Costello that she is her mother, as well as the murderer of the man who had threatened her happiness, is one of the most perfect in the production.

Of course, as the title suggests, there is the terrifying and grilling "third degree" with handsome Jason Robards the innocent victim; accused of the murder of villainous Rockliffe Fellows, who had been blackmailing his former sweetheart now that she had married a man of wealth.

Kate Price is delightful as a circus performer, and the remainder of the cast excellent.

There's no telling to what extremes our courts may go. One out in Illinois has taken from Birger, the gangster, the machine gun with which he was supplied to protect himself while in jail.—Marion Star.

If You're Guilty, Then Act Nervously, Is Slater's Hint

Innocent Person is Usually More Nervous Under Questioning Than Offender, According to Famous Detective.

CINCINNATI, O.—If you happen to notice an officer of the law or your wife gazing at you unusually intently and you have a guilty feeling because you have Committed or met a misdemeanor—Act nervously. It's your best bet.

For the innocent person usually is more nervous under questioning than the guilty, according to Ora Slater, noted private detective of Cincinnati.

Slater is one of the most talked of detectives in the country today through his success in bringing to justice the "key man" in the case of Don Mellett, Canton editor, who was slain, and the Jake Nesbitt affair and other recent murder cases of note.

Explains Psychology of It.

"The innocent person, accused of a crime, or the first offender, usually is more ill at ease than the guilty person, because the former are thinking mainly of his reputation, his job, and also his family," Slater says. "The man who has committed a crime wilfully and has had time to ponder on the matter, puts on a bold front and permits you to make the first move."

Slater obtained the confession of Nesbitt, accused of murdering his co-ed wife, "Fran" Nesbitt, in Troy, O. Nesbitt had calmly withstood the efforts of 22 newspaper men and detectives for two weeks. Slater brought about Nesbitt's confession by winning his confidence, then finding the flaw in his story, repeated numerous times to others. Nesbitt insisted that he had slept in his undergarments the night before the murder. Confronted by the statement that he had worn blue pajamas when he entered the room of guests in the house that night to close a window and that he had burned the pajamas after the murder, he wilted.

Can't Fool Sharp-Eyed Sleuth.

"The blase chap who wears sheik clothes and appears at ease with the world when he knows he has cashed a worthless check or worse, fools no one," says the famous detective. "The same darting eyes that appeal to the flapper as those of a bold, slowly aroused, but oh; mercy, lover, attract the detective, too."

In other words, you can't erase that look of having pushed someone into the river by using varnish on your hair and donning a William Tell tie (you pull the bow and hit the apple).

But here is a suggestion.

If you are a bit nervous and fear a sleepless night as a result of having used the guest towel, just borrow a gun from the officer for companionship.

Sounds as If It Were a Play.

Jake Nesbitt feared bodily harm while the officers were trying to connect him with the murder and expressed his fears to Slater. The latter, leaving him for the night, obligingly handed Nesbitt his gun—or laid it on the table.

And the funny part of it was that the gun was loaded—if you get any laughs out of a loaded gun, even when it is handed to you butt first or laid on the drawing room table among the dinner mints, cigars and what have you.

One deduces from Slater's views that there is really no need to feel nervous before a detective if you aren't guilty.

And if you are, just remember where you were the night before, ask your legal companion for his gun and let the law take its course.

SENATE BATTLE ON THIRD TERM ISSUE LOOMS

Debate on La Follette Resolution Will Put Body on Record.

VOTE IS SOUGHT

Wisconsin Man Says Washington Established Precedent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The third term issue, revived by rumors that President Coolidge plans to seek a renomination and re-election in 1928, may be well thrashed out in the senate, it appeared today, though debate on the LaFollette resolution, which would put the senate on record against three terms for any president.

A sharply divided senate awaited a vote on the resolution but Senator LaFollette declared it was favored by a sufficient number of senators to insure its adoption. He served warning, too, that he intended to fight for a vote on the measure even though administration leaders showed a disposition to sidetrack it in order to save the president from embarrassment.

The resolution, after setting forth how George Washington had established the precedent of serving only two terms as president, declared any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

The resolution aroused the united opposition of administration senators although the insurgents were inclined to favor it. The Democrats also split upon it.

Among the Republicans favoring the resolution were Senators Howell, a Republican national committeeman from Nebraska, and Norris, the leader of the insurgent bloc.

Administration senators, such as Lenroot, of Wisconsin, Willis, of Ohio, Shortridge, of California, and Bingham, of Connecticut, all opposed the resolution.

Japanese Mikado's Funeral Oxen are Retired on Pasture

TOKIO.—The four oxen that drew the funeral cart in the cortege of the late Emperor of Japan earned a life of ease in the performance of their task. Immediately after the funeral the oxen were turned out to pasture in the imperial estates at Shimosa, Chiba Prefecture, and all they will have to do for the rest of their lives is browse the tall grass.

The catafalque which carried the body of the late emperor to his grave was placed on exhibition in the Tokio Imperial Museum after the funeral and will be preserved as a national relic.

Stanford University Girl Students Vote Favorably on Smoking

PALO ALTO, Cal.—Co-eds in Stanford university can smoke if they want to.

Seven campus sororities voted recently to permit girl students to smoke without interference. Three other sororities took no action, but these three were local chapters of sororities that have national regulations against cigarette smoking.

The action of the sororities followed the decision of the women's conference to leave the troublesome question to each "house" on the campus for decision.

It You're Guilty, Then Act Nervously, Is Slater's Hint

Innocent Person is Usually More Nervous Under Questioning Than Offender, According to Famous Detective.

CINCINNATI, O.—If you happen to notice an officer of the law or your wife gazing at you unusually intently and you have a guilty feeling because you have Committed or met a misdemeanor—Act nervously. It's your best bet.

For the innocent person usually is more nervous under questioning than the guilty, according to Ora Slater, noted private detective of Cincinnati.

Slater is one of the most talked of detectives in the country today through his success in bringing to justice the "key man" in the case of Don Mellett, Canton editor, who was slain, and the Jake Nesbitt affair and other recent murder cases of note.

Explains Psychology of It.

"The innocent person, accused of a crime, or the first offender, usually is more ill at ease than the guilty person, because the former are thinking mainly of his reputation, his job, and also his family," Slater says. "The man who has committed a crime wilfully and has had time to ponder on the matter, puts on a bold front and permits you to make the first move."

Slater obtained the confession of Nesbitt, accused of murdering his coed wife, "Fran" Nesbitt, in Troy, O. Nesbitt had calmly withstood the efforts of 22 newspaper men and detectives for two weeks. Slater brought about Nesbitt's confession by winning his confidence, then finding the flaw in his story, repeated numerous times to others. Nesbitt insisted that he had slept in his undergarments the night before the murder. Confronted by the statement that he had worn blue pajamas when he entered the room of guests in the house that night to close a window and that he had burned the pajamas after the murder, he wilted.

Can't Fool Sharp-Eyed Sleuth.

"The blase chap who wears sheik clothes and appears at ease with the world when he knows he has cashed a worthless check or worse, fools no one," says the famous detective. "The same darting eyes that appeal to the flapper as those of a bold, slowly aroused, but oh; mercy, lover, attract the detective, too."

In other words, you can't erase that look of having pushed someone into the river by using varnish on your hair and donning a William Tell tie (you pull the bow and hit the apple).

But here is a suggestion.

If you are a bit nervous and fear a sleepless night as a result of having used the guest towel, just borrow a gun from the officer for companionship.

Sounds as If It Were a Play.

Jake Nesbitt feared bodily harm while the officers were trying to connect him with the murder and expressed his fears to Slater. The latter, leaving him for the night, obligingly handed Nesbitt his gun—or laid it on the table.

And the funny part of it was that the gun was loaded—if you get any laughs out of a loaded gun, even when it is handed to you butt first or laid on the drawing room table among the dinner mints, cigars and what have you.

One deduces from Slater's views that there is really no need to feel nervous before a detective if you aren't guilty.

And if you are, just remember where you were the night before, ask your legal companion for his gun and let the law take its course.

SENATE BATTLE ON THIRD TERM ISSUE LOOMS

Debate on La Follette Resolution Will Put Body on Record.

VOTE IS SOUGHT

Wisconsin Man Says Washington Established Precedent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The third term issue, revived by rumors that President Coolidge plans to seek a renomination and re-election in 1928, may be well thrashed out in the senate, it appeared today, though debate on the LaFollette resolution, which would put the senate on record against three terms for any president.

A sharply divided senate awaited a vote on the resolution but Senator LaFollette declared it was favored by a sufficient number of senators to insure its adoption. He served warning, too, that he intended to fight for a vote on the measure even though administration leaders showed a disposition to sidetrack it in order to save the president from embarrassment.

The resolution, after setting forth how George Washington had established the precedent of serving only two terms as president, declared any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

The resolution aroused the united opposition of administration senators although the insurgents were inclined to favor it. The Democrats also split upon it.

Among the Republicans favoring the resolution were Senators Howell, a Republican national committeeman from Nebraska, and Norris, the leader of the insurgent bloc.

Administration senators, such as Lenroot, of Wisconsin, Willis, of Ohio, Shortridge, of California, and Bingham, of Connecticut, all opposed the resolution.

Japanese Mikado's Funeral Oxen are Retired on Pasture

TOKIO.—The four oxen that drew the funeral cart in the cortege of the late Emperor of Japan earned a life of ease in the performance of their task. Immediately after the funeral the oxen were turned out to pasture in the imperial estates at Shimosa, Chiba Prefecture, and all they will have to do for the rest of their lives is browse the tall grass.

The catafalque which carried the body of the late emperor to his grave was placed on exhibition in the Tokio Imperial Museum after the funeral and will be preserved as a national relic.

Panama expects a record number of tourist visitors this season.

Stanford University Girl Students Vote Favorably on Smoking

PALO ALTO, Cal.—Co-eds in Stanford university can smoke if they want to.

Seven campus sororities voted recently to permit girl students to smoke without interference. Three other sororities took no action, but these three were local chapters of sororities that have national regulations against cigarette smoking.

The action of the sororities followed the decision of the women's conference to leave the troublesome question to each "house" on the campus for decision.

'THIRD DEGREE' IS THRILLING

Dolores Costello in Dramatic Role at American.

If you remember back to the thrill you experienced when you saw "The Third Degree" on the stage, you will not want to miss being thrilled anew by the screen version of this well known melodrama now at the American theater.

Adapted for Warner Bros. by Graham Baker, this Charles Klein melodrama brings to Dolores Costello, the star, the most dramatic role of her highly successful career. As Annie, the little trapeze performer of a side show in Coney Island who marries a young millionaire and is estranged from him by his proud father, she gives a beautifully balanced emotional performance. Miss Costello remains the greatest "find" of recent years on the screen.

Louise Dresser, who is featured in the supporting role of Annie's mother, surpasses her moving performance of the mother in "Broken Hearts of Hollywood." The scene where she confesses to Dolores Costello that she is her mother, as well as the murderer of the man who had threatened her happiness, is one of the most perfect in the production.

Of course, as the title suggests, there is the terrifying and grilling "third degree" with handsome Jason Robards the innocent victim; accused of the murder of villainous Rockliffe Fellows, who had been blackmailing his former sweetheart now that she had married a man of wealth.

Kate Price is delightful as a circus performer, and the remainder of the cast excellent.

There's no telling to what extremes our courts may go. One out in Illinois has taken from Birger, the gangster, the machine gun with which he was supplied to protect himself while in jail.—Marion Star.

Stimulate Glands of Stomach to Full Vitality

This Scientific Method Brings Quick Results.

If your weight is "off normal" it may well be that your food is not being properly digested.

Some of the glands of your mouth and stomach, or other vital organs may not be functioning properly. What you eat is not being turned into the real nourishment that your body needs. If you go on that way, you are endangering your whole future.

Act now to provide your digestive apparatus with the assistance it needs.

A remarkable stimulant-tonic has been devised for just such conditions as these. It is delightfully palatable and is prepared by an old Virginia concern in business for nearly a century. Druggists and physicians have come to know this stimulant as "Old Monticello Tonic." Get a bottle today from your druggist, take a small wineglass full before your next meal—see how much better you eat—feel the glow of stimulated functions throughout the body. A few days' treatment will bring a quick change in run-down conditions and overcome lack of energy.

CINCINNATI, O.—If you happen to notice an officer of the law or your wife gazing at you unusually intently and you have a guilty feeling because you have Committed or met a misdemeanor—Act nervously. It's your best bet.

For the innocent person usually is more nervous under questioning than the guilty, according to Ora Slater, noted private detective of Cincinnati.

Slater is one of the most talked of detectives in the country today through his success in bringing to justice the "key man" in the case of Don Mellett, Canton editor, who was slain, and the Jake Nesbitt affair and other recent murder cases of note.

Explains Psychology of It.

"The innocent person, accused of a crime, or the first offender, usually is more ill at ease than the guilty person, because the former are thinking mainly of his reputation, his job, and also his family," Slater says. "The man who has committed a crime wilfully and has had time to ponder on the matter, puts on a bold front and permits you to make the first move."

Slater obtained the confession of Nesbitt, accused of murdering his coed wife, "Fran" Nesbitt, in Troy, O. Nesbitt had calmly withstood the efforts of 22 newspaper men and detectives for two weeks. Slater brought about Nesbitt's confession by winning his confidence, then finding the flaw in his story, repeated numerous times to others. Nesbitt insisted that he had slept in his undergarments the night before the murder. Confronted by the statement that he had worn blue pajamas when he entered the room of guests in the house that night to close a window and that he had burned the pajamas after the murder, he wilted.

Can't Fool Sharp-Eyed Sleuth.

"The blase chap who wears sheik clothes and appears at ease with the world when he knows he has cashed a worthless check or worse, fools no one," says the famous detective. "The same darting eyes that appeal to the flapper as those of a bold, slowly aroused, but oh; mercy, lover, attract the detective, too."

In other words, you can't erase that look of having pushed someone into the river by using varnish on your hair and donning a William Tell tie (you pull the bow and hit the apple).

But here is a suggestion.

If you are a bit nervous and fear a sleepless night as a result of having used the guest towel, just borrow a gun from the officer for companionship.

Sounds as If It Were a Play.

Jake Nesbitt feared bodily harm while the officers were trying to connect him with the murder and expressed his fears to Slater. The latter, leaving him for the night, obligingly handed Nesbitt his gun—or laid it on the table.

And the funny part of it was that the gun was loaded—if you get any laughs out of a loaded gun, even when it is handed to you butt first or laid on the drawing room table among the dinner mints, cigars and what have you.

One deduces from Slater's views that there is really no need to feel nervous before a detective if you aren't guilty.

And if you are, just remember where you were the night before, ask your legal companion for his gun and let the law take its course.

SENATE BATTLE ON THIRD TERM ISSUE LOOMS

Debate on La Follette Resolution Will Put Body on Record.

VOTE IS SOUGHT

Wisconsin Man Says Washington Established Precedent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The third term issue, revived by rumors that President Coolidge plans to seek a renomination and re-election in 1928, may be well thrashed out in the senate, it appeared today, though debate on the LaFollette resolution, which would put the senate on record against three terms for any president.

A sharply divided senate awaited a vote on the resolution but Senator LaFollette declared it was favored by a sufficient number of senators to insure its adoption. He served warning, too, that he intended to fight for a vote on the measure even though administration leaders showed a disposition to sidetrack it in order to save the president from embarrassment.

The resolution, after setting forth how George Washington had established the precedent of serving only two terms as president, declared any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

The resolution aroused the united opposition of administration senators although the insurgents were inclined to favor it. The Democrats also split upon it.

Among the Republicans favoring the resolution were Senators Howell, a Republican national committeeman from Nebraska, and Norris, the leader of the insurgent bloc.

Administration senators, such as Lenroot, of Wisconsin, Willis, of Ohio, Shortridge, of California, and Bingham, of Connecticut, all opposed the resolution.

Japanese Mikado's Funeral Oxen are Retired on Pasture

TOKIO.—The four oxen that drew the funeral cart in the cortege of the late Emperor of Japan earned a life of ease in the performance of their task. Immediately after the funeral the oxen were turned out to pasture in the imperial estates at Shimosa, Chiba Prefecture, and all they will have to do for the rest of their lives is browse the tall grass.

The catafalque which carried the body of the late emperor to his grave was placed on exhibition in the Tokio Imperial Museum after the funeral and will be preserved as a national relic.

Stanford University Girl Students Vote Favorably on Smoking

PALO ALTO, Cal.—Co-eds in Stanford university can smoke if they want to.

Seven campus sororities voted recently to permit girl students to smoke without interference. Three other sororities took no action, but these three were local chapters of sororities that have national regulations against cigarette smoking.

The action of the sororities followed the decision of the women's conference to leave the troublesome question to each "house" on the campus for decision.

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S. S. S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. LUCILLE CLARK SEEKS DIVORCE

Former County Resident Brings Action Against Her Husband.

Lucille Clark, a former resident of this county, but who is now residing in Stark county through her counsel Andrews, Moore & Moreland of Alliance, has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband John V. Clark residing at Moultrie.

The couple, according to the petition were married at Columbus, May 22nd, 1922.

Cause of action, it is related in the petition arose in Columbiana county and the charge of gross neglect of duty is made, in that the defendant failed and refused to help the plaintiff in the management of her home and in the care of their minor children. In addition to a decree, Mrs. Clark also asks for the custody of her children, and alimony, and a hearing on the latter request has been asked for at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

GRANGE MEETING IS SCHEDULED

A "penny march" will feature the opening of the meeting of West Point Grange Friday evening. The "Life of George Washington" will be the subject of an address by D. M. McCaskey, who will be followed by John Steffins with a vocal solo.

"Famous People Born In February" is the subject of an address that has been assigned to Lucile Hasson, while a reading "Martha Washington" will be given by Helen Cusick. A harmonica solo by John Cusick with his daughter, Miss Alice Cusick as accompanist will be a special musical offering. The program for this meeting has been arranged by Mrs. Ora Chamberlain, lecturer for West Point Grange.

PETITION SEEKS PROPERTY SALE

Foreclosure and sale of property is sought in a petition filed in common pleas court by Attorney P. V. Mackall in behalf of J. S. Cook against Anton Cardell and Carrie Cardell, with the Union Savings & Loan Co., of East Liverpool being named party defendants.

The plaintiff recovered a judgment in common pleas court against the defendants Nov 29th last for $101.25 and $12.61 costs. The sheriff's office found no chattels upon which to make a levy, and now the priority of leins is sought and the property of the defendants sought to be foreclosed.

Verdict Returned.

A jury returned a verdict for $400 in the $25,000 damage action filed in common pleas court by Mary Baltorinick, aged 12 years, through her next friend Paul Baltorinick against Mark Vuksich All parties reside at Salem. The plaintiff was a guest and passenger in an automobile driven by the defendant June 29th last when the automobile was wrecked near Washingtonville on the Cox highway.

DON'T CATCH COLD!

Let This Wonderful Treatment Keep You Fit

IT's when you get run down and out of sorts that you catch cold easily.

Play safe! Keep your

The secret of fitness is your stomach. Keep it on its job properly, by taking Dillingham's Plant Juice treatment and let your invigorated body fight off the germs of coughs and colds. Mr. James A. Glover of 810½ Broadway, Camden, N. J., says:

"Three years ago I suffered from stomach trouble I would lay awake half the night, and mornings would feel all in and dead tired Hearing about Plant Juice I started using it, and it was no time before I was feeling like myself. My stomach never gives me the least bit of trouble now I sleep like a top, and I awake feeling fresh as a daisy and as bright as the new day and have not had an ache or pain in two years."

This pleasant tasting remedy is made from herbs, leaves, plants, roots, barks and blossoms—and nothing else. Gently and naturally it will stir up your sluggish liver and stimulate your bowels It will MAKE them do what Nature intended them to do And your system will be clean and vigorous, your blood will be pure and rich, your body will be healthy and full of pep.

Ask your druggist for the original Dillingham's Plant Juice, for over thirty years an enemy to coughs and colds!

The plaintiff recovered a judgment in common pleas court against the defendants Nov 29th last for $101.25 and $12.61 costs. The sheriff's office found no chattels upon which to make a levy, and now the priority of leins is sought and the property of the defendants sought to be foreclosed.

Verdict Returned.

A jury returned a verdict for $400 in the $25,000 damage action filed in common pleas court by Mary Baltorinick, aged 12 years, through her next friend Paul Baltorinick against Mark Vuksich All parties reside at Salem The plaintiff was a guest and passenger in an automobile driven by the defendant June 29th last when the automobile was wrecked near Washingtonville on the Cox highway.

DON'T CATCH COLD!

Let This Wonderful Treatment Keep You Fit

IT's when you get run down and out of sorts that you catch cold easily. Play safe! Keep your

The secret of fitness is your stomach. Keep it on its job properly, by taking Dillingham's Plant Juice treatment and let your invigorated body fight off the germs of coughs and colds. Mr. James A. Glover of 810½ Broadway, Camden, N. J., says:

"Three years ago I suffered from stomach trouble I would lay awake half the night, and mornings would feel all in and dead tired Hearing about Plant Juice I started using it, and it was no time before I was feeling like myself. My stomach never gives me the least bit of trouble now I sleep like a top, and I awake feeling fresh as a daisy and as bright as the new day and have not had an ache or pain in two years."

This pleasant tasting remedy is made from herbs, leaves, plants, roots, barks and blossoms—and nothing else. Gently and naturally it will stir up your sluggish liver and stimulate your bowels It will MAKE them do what Nature intended them to do And your system will be clean and vigorous, your blood will be pure and rich, your body will be healthy and full of pep.

Ask your druggist for the original Dillingham's Plant Juice, for over thirty years an enemy to coughs and colds!

NEWELL POTTERY JOB IS LET

Today

On the Union Pacific.

A Tiger Skin Girl.

Whisky $4.50 a Gallon.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

[The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune.]

THIS is written westbound on the Union Pacific, a monument to railroad genius of the pioneer days, and to E. H. Harriman, who killed himself reconstructing the road and left it for his monument.

The train has stopped at Omaha, Neb., where N. B. Updike, president; Ballard Dunn, chief editor, and Jay M. Hackler, business manager of the Omaha Bee, rule the roost. The Bee has just swallowed the Omaha Daily News.

"Fewer, bigger and better newspapers," seems to be the program.

REPORTERS come to the station to inspect traveling curiosities, bringing photographers. The young lady "from the Bee," dressed in a solid tiger coat, keen as a falcon, gentle as a dove, is the most interesting. The others are men.

Two little girls, one with red hair, one with brown, from the Omaha high school newspaper, ask "can a girl become a great reporter.

They are told that Nellie Bly was the best reporter of her day, and go back to school determined to be great.

OMAHA bootleggers have reduced the price of home-made whisky to $4.50 a gallon. Over-production is the trouble. Wine continues to sell for $6 a gallon

New Yorkers pay $25 a gallon for whisky no better, but before they move to Omaha to get a cheaper bootlegger they should read another item.

"For the third time in six weeks government chemists in Omaha have found large quantities of wood alcohol in recent seizures of 'Gordon gin.'" One to four per cent of wood alcohol is the average. Gordon gin, with three per cent of wood alcohol will kill you if you drink two quarts of it.

A United States soldier from Fort Omaha, booked at the police station as drunk and damaged, tried to walk a tight wire stretched from the Pullman hotel toward the Burlington station. He fell, but will recover. There was wood alcohol in his "Gordon gin."

THIS part of the country, once wild with shooting men, now looks to Chicago and New York for excitement. New York supplies wine bathtub parties and holdups, Chicago the gunmen equipped with machine guns and gas bombs—really interesting elections

A Chicago mayoralty primary that calls out 60 detective bureau squads, each with a machine gun, rifles, shotguns and a supply of tear bombs, makes the old-time cowboy with his little popping six-shooter seem rather tame. Are the voters so much interested in the election? Not at all; but the politicians are in the jobs and graft.

Louis Reynolds Fined $100.

Louis Reynolds, Second street potter, arrested by Chief of Police McDermott following a liquor raid upon his home Monday morning, pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing liquor when he faced Municipal Judge Hanley in police court today. He was fined $100 and costs which he paid.

Review-Tribune Offers Booklet About Concrete

There is no difficulty in doing concrete work in cold weather if a few simple precautions are taken.

If you intend to put up a garage, add a porch to your home, put a new floor in the cellar, or make any other improvements of concrete, you do not need to wait until Spring.

You can begin the work at once. And you can do it yourself if you have at hand the booklet on concrete which our Washington Information Bureau has for distribution. It contains all necessary instructions and many suggestions for building with concrete.

Just fill out the attached coupon and enclose four cents for postage and handling charge.

BEN RUDNER'S CASE GOES TO JURY

VERDICT IS EXPECTED BEFORE NIGHTFALL IN DON MELLETT KILLING

Judge A. W. Agler's Charge in Canton Trial Consumes One Hour and Ten Minutes.

Nine Extra Deputies on Duty at Court House Prepared to Handle Any Emergency.

By Robert Wallace.

CANTON, O., Feb. 23.—Possibility of a disagreement loomed today as the hours slipped by while a jury of seven women and five men deliberated upon the evidence as presented in the case of Ben Rudner, charged with first degree murder in connection with the killing of Don R. Mellett, Canton publisher. Although the jury had deliberated four hours no verdict had been reported at 2 p. m.

CANTON, O., Feb. 23.—With all indications pointing toward a verdict before nightfall, the case of Ben Rudner, Massillon, charged with first degree murder, following the killing of Don Mellett, Canton publisher, July 16, last, was given into the hands of the jury at 10:11 a. m. today.

The jury can return any one of five verdicts: Guilty of first degree murder without mercy, first degree murder with mercy recommendation, second degree murder, manslaughter, or acquittal.

Extra Guards at Jail.

Judge A. W. Agler's charge to the jury consumed one hour and ten minutes.

Stella Diebolt, the alternate juror, was dismissed, all regular jurors being in good health.

Nine extra deputies were on duty at the court house, precautions being taken to handle any possible emergency. Sheriff Gibson also has two extra men at the Stark county jail, well armed in case trouble starts there.

The endeavor to place the case in the jury's hands Tuesday night failed when defense counsel exceeded the time limit of two hours and thirty minutes, in making a plea for their client.

Chinese Lad Gets Spanking Because Of School Holiday

CLEVELAND, Feb. 23.—It's a long way from Cleveland to China, but Yee Tim, son of a local laundryman, was on his way there, riding a velocipede, when halted by traffic Policeman Al Wolfe.

With tear-stained face, the boy told his story. He had left his father's laundry on the East Side, heading due west in the direction of Canton, China, yesterday, because his father had spanked him for being absent from school, not knowing it was a holiday.

43 SANITARY POTTERY MEN LOSE IN COURT

U. S. Tribunal Upholds Conviction in Sherman Law Case.

ANTI-TRUST SUIT

Supreme Bench Rules in Charges of Price-fixing.

Conviction of 43 defendants charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in connection with fixing prices for sanitary pottery products, has been upheld by the United States supreme court, it was announced today.

The decision was in the Trenton, N. J., potteries case, in which the circuit court of appeals had held that the anti-trust law violation depended on whether a jury determined that the prices charged as a result of such control were unreasonable and in restraint of trade.

The court decided that conspiracy to get monopoly control of an industry constituted a violation of the anti-trust law and reversed the decision of the circuit court.

111 Corporations Included.

The 43 defendants included 20 individuals and 23 corporations who were brought to trial in the New York federal courts. The Trenton potteries and 110 other New Jersey sanitary pottery plants and other corporations in California, Illinois, Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania were named.

All of these companies were members of the "Sanitary Potters' association" and manufactured 82 per cent of the country's sanitary earthenware, the government charged.

The association circulated "basic price-lists" among its members, and held monthly meetings, mostly in Pittsburgh, according to testimony. The 43 persons and firms were convicted on an indictment charging combination to restrain trade by fixing of

CHEVROLET CAR REPORTED STOLEN

Chevrolet touring car, belonging to Ray Baker, near Chester, was stolen while parked in West Fifth street between 7:30 and 9:30 o'clock last night. The machine was equipped with a winter top enclosure and carried West Virginia license 96-494, according to the police report.

The stolen car was recovered at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at Commerce and Tenth streets, Wellsville, where it had been abandoned.

CANTON ARMY DRIVES AHEAD AS SHANGHAI CHIEF RETIRES

Rout of Sun Chuan Fang Continues, Says Dispatch.

FIGHT AT HONAN

Sun Chuan Evacuates Kashing, Falling Back on Sunkiang.

BY ALFRED MEYER.

SHANGHAI, Feb. 23.—The rout of Sun Chuan Fang, defender of Shanghai, continues.

With the Cantonese driving forward with repeated thrusts and parries, General Sun Chuan Fang was today forced to evacuate Kashing, falling back on Sunkiang, approximately 30 miles from Shanghai.

Meanwhile severe fighting between the northern allies is reported from Honan.

General Chang Chuang Chang, son of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, is reported to have led a force of some 6,000 white Russians into Honan and to have attacked Wu Pei Fu and inflicted severe casualties, which are reported to have mounted to 3,000 dead and injured among the Russians.

Wu Pei Fu Reported in Flight.

Many reports are in circulation today as to Wu Pei Fu. One is to the effect that he has fled to the mountains, while another declared he has gone over to the Cantonese.

Sun Chuan is reported to have gone personally to Nanking to attempt a reorganization of his forces.

In Shanghai the situation is still regarded as serious. It now develops that the shells dropped on the city yesterday came from two gunboats which went over to the Cantonese and their firing was only ended when two French gunboats drew alongside them and threatened to sink them unless they held their fire.

In the international settlement quiet prevails but soldiers, sailors, marines, police and volunteers are all still standing by prepared for trouble.

The greatest menace appears to be from a thousand or more disorganized troops of Sun Chuan Fang who are roaming about the outskirts of the international settlement.

Barracks for 10,000 troops are being erected in Jessfield park.

British Marines at Hongkong.

HONGKONG, Feb. 23.—One thousand British marines arrived here today aboard the steamer Minnesota. They will sail for Shanghai Thursday or Friday.

Military Race in Progress.

NANKING, Feb. 23.—There is a military race in progress between the forces of Chang Tso Lin and the Cantonese with Shanghai as the goal.

The Chang Tso Lin headquarters here claim that the Cantonese are still 80 miles from Shanghai.

Woman and Husband Sue Railroad for $85,000 Damages

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 23.—Mrs. Laura Hauser, of Bowling Green, O., filed suit against the Pennsylvania railroad in federal district court here today for alleged damages of $75,000. In her petition she says that while riding in an automobile crossing the Vine street crossing in Alliance, the car was struck by a train. Her husband, Thomas Hauser, is suing the railroad for alleged damages in the sum of $10,000.

George Ogden, 61, Of Iowa, Dies in Beaver Falls, Pa.

George Ogden, 61, of Mount Ayre, Iowa, brother of the late Dr. C. B Ogden, died last night in the home of his daughter, Steffin Hill, Beaver Falls, Pa.

Funeral services will be held at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the Steffin Hill church. The body will be taken to Ayre for burial.

THEIR MARRIAGE POSTPONED

Miss Charlotte Simms, with inset of Kenyon Anthony Stoddard.

On the eve of what was to have been an elaborate wedding ceremony, it was announced that the marriage of Miss Charlotte Simms, Dayton, O., heiress, and Kenyon Anthony Stoddard, young artist, also of Dayton, was "indefinitely postponed." Resting at Clearwater, Fla., Miss Simms verified a report that she and Stoddard had been secretly married last October at Newport, Ky. Postponement of the formal ceremony followed the serving of a divorce summons on Stoddard under the name of "Herman Albrecht Yaffee," a name by which he was formerly known.

EARTH TREMORS ROCK BULGARIA

SOFIA, Feb. 23.—Severe earth shocks have been felt in northern Bulgaria. Many buildings have been damaged, but there have been no reports of casualties.

Severe storms are raging along the Black Sea.

BELGRADE, Feb. 23.—The Balkan area is snowbound. The snow is 18 feet deep in some places and the thermometer has reached 10 degrees below zero. The snow, coming after the recent earthquake, has caused great suffering.

MOSCOW, Feb. 23.—Many houses collapsed and several persons were injured here as the result of two earthquakes of short duration.

Ohio River Rising; Pittsburgh Warns More Water on Way

The Ohio river began to rise at Dam No. 8 shortly before noon today and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon had reached 15.5 feet. The rate of rise was about one-tenth of a foot an hour.

Both the Allegheny and the Monongahela rivers, which join at Pittsburgh, are also rising, according to word which was received at the dam.

Lock officials look for a flood stage in event of rain.

NEW LAUGHLIN TUNNEL KILN PLANT TO COST ONE MILLION

Austin Company of Cleveland is Low Bidder.

90-DAY LIMIT

Another Warehouse Will be Erected at No. 4 Shop.

Contract for the erection of a tunnel kiln plant, costing approximately $1,000,000 and occupying a site just south of the No. 6 plant at Newell, was awarded yesterday afternoon by the Homer Laughlin China company, to the Austin company, Cleveland contractors and builders.

115-Kiln Capacity.

The new plant, which will be the No. 7 unit, will have a capacity equal to 18 of the upright kilns and will increase the kiln capacity of the Laughling company to 115.

Work will be started within the next week or 10 days and will be completed within 90 working days after March 15.

The shop will be equipped with two Harrop kilns, which will have a capacity 10 percent greater than the kilns now in use at the No. 6 plant. The decorating kiln will also be of the continuous type.

The bisque kiln will be 348 feet in length while the glost kiln will measure 308 feet from one end to the other. The latest type of machinery, more modern than that which is being used in the No. 6 works, will be installed.

To Connect With No. 6 Plant.

The main building will connect with the roof of the No. 6 plant. The south wall of the present structure is to be removed as a means of connecting the two units. The main structure which will be of brick and concrete, and 800 feet in length, half of it being 249 feet in width and the remainder 229 feet wide. It will have the same number of square feet floor space as the No. 6 works, or 800x230 feet.

Railroad siding to the new works will be a take-off of the switch to the No. 6 plant. The siding will be constructed before ground is broken for the main factory building.

There will be no basement under the new building. All departments will be located on the one floor. Clays and saggers for the plant will be pro-

FULTZ TO FACE TRIAL WEDNESDAY

Leroy Fultz, East Liverpool manager of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, will go on trial before Judge W. F. Duncan, of Findlay, in common pleas court, Lisbon next Wednesday upon a charge of criminal assault preferred by a 14-year-old girl.

Kinsey J. Wheeler, who is under a similar indictment as the result of information made by his 13-year-old stepdaughter, will face Judge Duncan on Thursday.

Robert Miller, Salem negro, will go on trial also on Thursday upon an indictment charging him with cutting with intent to wound.

PHYSICIAN DETAINED AFTER WIFE IS FOUND CLUBBED TO DEATH

Dr. Frank Loomis Says he Discovered Woman's Body in Parlor of Their Detroit Home.

DETROIT, Feb. 23.—After a night's grilling, Dr. Frank Loomis was still detained by police today for further questioning in the slaying of his wife, Grace, 34, found clubbed to death in the parlor of their home.

Dr. Loomis reported that he discovered his wife's body in the middle of the floor when he returned from a short walk.

Blood on the settee and on the wall indicated Mrs. Loomis had been attacked while seated.

Dr. Loomis' coat was marked with blood. He explained that he got it on his coat when he lifted his wife's body, before he learned she was dead.

The floor and furniture were spattered with blood. A window pane in the parlor was broken. The glass had fallen to the outside. Officers assume it had been broken by a blow from within.

Two children, Janet, 6, and Frank, 8, were found asleep in their beds upstairs.

The fact that $100 which Dr. Loomis said he gave his wife could not be found led the doctor to suggest that robbery might have been the motive of the slayer. This theory was weakened, however, by the presence of three valuable rings on Mrs. Loomis' fingers, police say.

Dr. and Mrs. Loomis have been married nine years. She was a nurse in New York at the time of their marriage.

150 MEMBERS AND GUESTS ATTEND COLONIAL TEA GIVEN BY D. A. R.

Bethia Southwick Chapter Stages Washington Birthday Party at Moore Home.

More than 150 persons, guests and members of the Bethia Southwick chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, attended a Colonial tea at the home of Mrs. George W. Moore, of St. John street, yesterday afternoon. The hours were from 2 to 5 o'clock.

With a color scheme of red, white and blue carried out by presence at table and other advantageous spots of carnations, tulips and blue flowers, which effect was heightened by many of the organization's representatives being attired in Colonial costumes, the home was transformed into a scene strongly suggestive of pre and post independence days. In further keeping of the patriotic setting was the presence on a porch post of a single American flag, a certain sign to those attending of the place of meeting.

In the receiving line were the chapter's officials, all garbed in Colonial costumes. They included Mrs. George W. Moore, of East Liverpool, hostess and recording secretary; Mrs. W. F. Lones, regent; Mr. J. E. Simpson, Wellsville; vice regent; Mrs. Carrie Southwick, Wellsville, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Hanley, East Liverpool, registrar; Mrs. William Wilson, East Liv-

WELLSVILLE MEN FACE BRIBERY TRIAL ON MONDAY

FINDLAY JUDGE TO PRESIDE IN "LAY OFF" CASE

Rocco Carbicella and Frank Fusco are Accused.

SECOND HEARING

Convicted Last Fall, But Were Granted New Trial.

Rocco Carbicella and Frank Fusco, Wellsville men, indicted by the January grand jury on a charge of bribery, will go on trial for a second time in common pleas court, Lisbon, Monday, before Judge W. F. Duncan, of Findlay, Hancock county.

Carbicella and Fusco are accused of having attempted to bribe Sheriff George Wright to "lay off" the investigation of the murder of Patrolman James Kenney and, according to the charges against them, they offered to pay Wright $390, at a conference in the sheriff's office.

Fusco and Carbicella were convicted by a jury last fall and were granted a new trial by former Judge W. H. Spence.

But Monday's hearing will be conducted under the new indictment returned against the men in January.

Charles Reynolds, of Madison township, under indictment on a charge of manufacturing liquor, will be given a hearing Tuesday by Judge Duncan. His bond of $2,000 recently was reduced by the court to $700.

STREET CARS STOP AS ROCK SNAPS WIRES

Transmission Line Down at Midnight at Walker's.

SLIPS ON ROAD

Rocks, Mud and Tree Trunks Strewn Over Highway.

The Wellsville-East Liverpool highway between Brady's "Cut" and the top of the slope a short distance west of Jethro was dotted from one end to the other and in some places almost covered with rock, mud, trees and other debris as a result of a series of small slips between midnight and morning.

Street car service over the lines of the Steubenville, East Liverpool and Beaver Valley Traction company was checked at midnight as cars were making their final trips, when a large rock, snapped off a trolley wire support and allowed the wire to drop.

A work crew from East Liverpool was dispatched to the scene and patched up the transmission lines, while passengers were transferred from the cars, eastbound, to another car sent from the barns.

At one point a short distance east of the narrowest place along the hillside, at Walkers, mud and rock slid down and covered the road. Over the outside edge where the debris was the shallowest, motor vehicles were driven this morning, however, drivers being compelled in places to wriggle from one side of the road to the other to escape rocks. A huge tree trunk came down off the hillside and was moved to one side to permit traffic through.

A large number of motorists last night used the Campground detour.

PERSONALS

Itto Kiddy, who has been seriously ill at his home near Hillcrest for two weeks, was taken to the East Liverpool City hospital yesterday.

Raymond Rolley, Ninth street and Broadway, left yesterday on a week's visit to Philadelphia.

Mrs. George McGarry, of Aten avenue, was a Pittsburgh visitor today.

MRS. R. D. FERRALL MISSION HOSTESS

Mrs. R. D. Ferrall was hostess to members of the Women's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist Protestant church last evening at her home in Seventeenth street.

Business session was followed by a social hour. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Ferrall, assisted by her daughter, Inez.

Contests were won by Mrs. Fred Lowary and Mrs. Bernard Hartman.

The March meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. Nat Redinger, Chester avenue.

CLASS TO HOLD COVERDISH PARTY

Members of Sunday school class No. 12 of the First Methodist Protestant church will hold a coverdish supper tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. E. F. Skinner in Anderson avenue.

Supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock, followed by devotionals and the business session, in charge of Mrs. Helen Cooper, president.

D. OF A. SOCIAL NEXT TUESDAY

Members of Queen of Ohio Council, No. 141, Daughters of America, will hold their monthly social Tuesday, March 1, in the Knights of Pythias lodgerooms, Fifth and Main street.

Daughters of America, Juniors and their friends will attend. The program and social hour will be followed by lunch.

SERVE MURDER CASE SUMMONSES

Personal Service on All But Five for Wallen Hearing.

Personal return on all of the 75 prospective jurors called in the Roy Wallen murder case has been made by Sheriff George Wright and Deputies Lawrence Kindsvatter and Edward J. Fitzgerald, with the exception of five who are absent from the jurisdiction of the court.

Wallen is under indictment on a first degree murder charge in connection with the slaying of Rodney Ogle at East Salineville recently.

If a jury is selected Monday, it is possible that the hearing of testimony will get under way Tuesday morning.

IRONDALE

Steubenville All Stars will be the attraction with the I. A. C. here Thursday evening.

The high school boys will take part in the Class B. tournament at Steubenville Friday while the girls will be idle. Three more regular games remain on the high school schedule: Salineville on March 4 and Chester on March 11, both games at Irondale, and at Smithfield on March 18.

A meeting of the Irondale Civic club was held at the high school building on Friday evening. The next meeting will be held at the same place on Wednesday evening, February 23.

Miss Anna McLain, teacher of Reading and English, and Miss Lucile Gordon, teacher of history and geography in the local schools were unable to assume their duties a part of last week on account of illness. Mrs. Elmer Golden and Mrs. F. C. Hanlin substituted for them.

The school will show the next of its picture programs on Monday, February 28. This picture is "Three Faces East," a picture of the secret service in the late war.

SALINEVILLE

Mrs. Jennie Brown, widow of the late Joseph Brown, died in the City hospital, East Liverpool, Monday morning. She was aged about 55. Mrs. Brown was born in England. She came to America with her uncle, Matthew Burnip, with whom she made her home till she was married. She was a member of the Church of Christ. She is survived by five children, two sons and three daughters: Edward Brown, of Salineville; Matthew, at home; Mrs. Harry Stone, Amsterdam; Mrs. Roy Beckwith and Mrs. James Bray, both of Salineville, and several grandchildren. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at two o'clock at the Church of Christ, Rev. A. M. Jenkins, pastor, officiating. Interment will be made in Woodland cemetery.

The Betsy Ross Bible class of the Presbyterian Sabbath school, held their monthly meeting at the home of Miss Mame Louise Graubner, on Main street Tuesday evening. The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Walter Lange. The Lesson topic was, "The Death of Saul." Mrs. Lelia Lewis had charge of the discussion. After the program, the business session was held. A social hour was spent in games and contests. Lunch was served by the hostess.

The J. and M. club was entertained Monday evening at the home of Miss Mary Keating, West Main street. Cards and contest were diversions of the evening. Prizes were awarded to Miss Josephine Higgins and Miss Myrtle Strabley. During the social hour, the hostess served a delicious lunch assisted by her sister, Miss Argena Keating.

James Strabley, Jr., who has been a patient in the St. Vincent's hospital for ten days, was brought home Monday by his brother, John, in an automobile. Mr. Strabley is reported much improved.

Washington's birthday anniversary was observed here, with the schools and the bank closed all day. A number of the merchants closed at noon. The city delivery of mail as well as the rural routes was discontinued. There were no special service, most of the churches having held services in Washington's honor on Sabbath, February 20th.

The Knights of Columbus held an old fashioned dance at their hall on Main street Tuesday evening. Benson's orchestra furnished the music.

Miss Mary McCormick, of Main street gave a party Saturday evening in honor of her guest, Miss Dallis Orkin, of Cleveland. Games and music were diversions. Those present were Miss Dallis Orkin, Miss Margaret Russell, Phyllis Carter, Miss Grace Hart, Miss Mary Russell, Homer Davis and James McCormick. The hostess served a lunch.

Harry Smith has accepted a position with Swift and Company. He left Monday for Cleveland, to take up his new position.

Women's shoes of half patent leather and half white kid are being introduced in Paris.

KEEP COUGHS OUT OF "DANGER ZONE"

Coughing irritates the throat and makes you cough more. The more you cough, the harder it is to stop. And a cough threatens serious trouble if you let inflammation get into your bronchial tubes. It may spread into the "danger zone"—for these tubes lead directly into your lungs.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops coughs quickly — almost instantly in spasmodic attacks. And it does far more; it brings lasting relief as its soothing, healing powers are absorbed deep down into the bronchial tubes, penetrating through and through the irritated membranes.

With the first swallow of Cherry Pectoral you feel its comforting warmth as it loosens up the tightness of congestion. It stimulates expectoration—Natures helpful plan for getting rid of phlegm and germs. Absorbed into the membranes themselves, this concentrated, hospital-proved medicine not only stops your cough but corrects the cause. And that is why relief is immediate and lasting.

Cherry Pectoral is pleasant, safe and dependable—for children and grown people. At all druggists—60c; twice as much, $1.00. 4afc

Hope of Agreement Arises Out of Miners' Parley Ashes

Union Leader Takes Steps Toward Peace in Districts Outside of Ohio and Other Parts of Competitive Field.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 23.—Out of the ashes of the joint wage conference here arose a ray of hope that an agreement, if only make-shift in nature, would be signed between soft coal miners and a goodly portion of the operators to avert a general strike after April 1.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reported to members of the miner's policy committee, meeting in executive session today, that steps already have been taken to swing into line operators in the districts lying outside the central competitive field of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and western Pennsylvania. The conference of central field representatives adjourned since yesterday after failing to negotiate a new contract.

Was reliably declared that Lewis has definite assurance from the leading outlying operators, and some in Illinois and Indiana, that they will accept the union scale as soon as the shouting and timult following the break here has subsided.

Plan Open Shop In Ohio.

A five-year contract, with a more flexible wage provision than at present, is being advanced as a possible basis of settlement.

Under this plan the day scale would be revised each year to bring it in closer relationship with the non-union wage. If Lewis finally agrees to this proposition he may get a majority of Illinois and Indiana operators to sign up.

Unless they are clubbed into signing by a coalition of the union and outlying Illinois and Indiana owners, the Ohio and Pennsylvania operators are at present disposed to run open shop after April 1. This was clearly indicated in their explanatory statement which said that the miners' demand for a renewal of the present $7.50 a day contract was "indefensible."

The policy meeting today would tie up all mine parleys so far as Miami is concerned. Any future conferences probably will be held in a city adjacent to the central competitive field.

REPORTS FROM STOCK-MARKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—The forward movement in the railroad, equipment and industrial stocks was promptly resumed with the beginning of trading today. Further reflection over the Los Angeles & Salt Lake railroad decision strengthened the convictions of the bulls that no sweeping regulations had been set up in relation to railroad property valuation for rate making purposes, and the leading rail stocks sold up a point or more at the opening.

Baldwin's Locomotive advance to 201, crossing the 200-mark for the first time in history, was the feature of the industrials. Loaning flat after the close of Monday's market, the stock itself gave evidence of the large increase in the short interest. Daily transactions in Baldwin are in excess of the total floating supply, and the pool has been pressing its advantage against the shorts.

The long awaited cuts in crude oil were announced today, at the same time as the weekly production report of the Petroleum Institute, showing output for last week at the new peak of 2,472,000 barrels a day. Gasoline prices were soft, with wholesale declining to below eight cents a gallon. Oil stocks were fairly steady, with fractional declines in the active issues.

Atchison, Baltimore and Ohio, New York Central, Wabash and other well known railroad shares rose enthusiastically in active trading, in response to aggressive buying from various sources. United States Steel advanced to 160¾, the highest price in its history, exceeding the best record made in the raging bull market of last October. Elsewhere the market was inactive and featureless, with prices moving in narrow price channels.

Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent.

Prince Carol Still Awaits Permission To Visit Bucharest

PARIS, Feb. 23.—Prince Carol still awaits permission from King Ferdinand to visit him.

"It is up to my father now," said Prince Carl today, informing the International News Service that he has had no reply to his request that he be permitted to visit the sick king of Roumania.

"Before leaving Roumania I signed an agreement not to return for ten years without permission. My father must get this permission for me. I have made clear to him my earnest desire to see him before it is too late.

"I am not only willing to leave after a visit with him and my family, but I will insist upon being allowed to return to Paris."

Argentina will export more than 1,100,000 bushels of wheat this year.

SUPREME COURT FREES VIZZIRI

Highest Tribunal Rules In Case of Brooke County Suspects.

One of the men held in the so-called "blackhand" cases at Wellsburg was ordered freed from custody but the others were refused their freedom in the decision yesterday of the supreme court on writs of habeas corpus.

The distinction lay in the fact that the case of Tony Vizziri was brought to the supreme court directly from the magistrate who committed him, while the others already had been refused habeas corpus writs in the Brooke county circuit court.

In Vizziri's case, the opinion prepared by Judge Hatcher pointed out that it did not appear in the presentation of the habeas corpus case in the supreme court what evidence was given at the hearing before Justice of the Peace A. B. Collett. Neither did the return of Sheriff R. M. Lowe make any allegations of facts tending to show Vizziri's guilt, the court said and since evidence of sufficient cause was held to be necessary to support the magistrate's jurisdiction and it did not appear that such evidence was before him, the supreme court ordered Vizziri discharged from custody.

The opinion in the case of Joe Presty, Paul Soreva and Ralph Di Pasquale, however, pointed out that the return showed they had been given a hearing before Judge J. B. Sommerville in circuit court and that he had refused a writ of habeas corpus. Since this was a judgment entered of record which had not been reversed, the court held it was conclusive on another application and dismissed the habeas corpus it had awarded in their cases.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCH

Evangelistic services last night in the First Methodist Episcopal church were largely attended. Rev. R. C. Ehrheart had as his subject "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out."

Tonight the sermon subject will be "Man Looketh on the Outward Appearance." The male quartet will sing. Miss Mable Mosser of Newell will sing at the meeting tomorrow night.

FORMER AUDITOR LEAVES HOSPITAL

John C. Bond, deposed state auditor, has left the Huntington state hospital and a report on his mental condition has been sent to the United States Veterans' bureau, it was announced at the hospital. Bond left the hospital yesterday and has returned to his home in Charleston.

Officials at the hospital, where he has been under observation by physicians since January 29, refused to disclose the nature of the report or their findings as to his mental condition.

Bond was admitted to the hospital on recommendation of the Veterans' Bureau.

REV. G. H. ROWE TO GIVE SERMON

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, of New Castle, Pa., will deliver an evangelistic sermon at 7:30 this evening in the Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. Rowe, who is president of the Young People's societies of the Pittsburgh district, was the principal speaker at the convention which closed last night in the Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Following the sermon a Young People's society will be organized and officers elected. The public is invited.

To End Severe Cough Quickly, Try This

For real results, this old home-made remedy beats them all. Easily prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous home-made remedy. The immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract and palatable guaiacol, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Engraving Machine That Forged Francs Sent to Junk Heap

BUDAPEST.—The engraving machine which printed the millions of forged francs for Prince Windischgraetz and the other convicted Hungarians, has been sent to the junk heap. The machine was used as evidence in court and then broken up. It has now been sold as scrap iron by the government for ten dollars.

The machine was found by the police on the premises of a local printing firm to whom the forgers sold it. The firm claimed the ten dollars which has been given to them.

Vienna Engineers Plan Giant Subway Garage Under Opern Ring

VIENNA.—A gigantic subterranean garage to hold 500 autos to be built under the Opera Ring, the city's most famous thoroughfare, is planned by the municipal engineers. Because it was compactly built before there were motor cars, Vienna has no place to house them and any one living in the center of the city must go several miles for his car.

The new garage will be rented to those living within the center district, and if the city makes a profit, more will be built in other districts.

It is also planned to build a subway entrance for autos to the Opera house in connection with the garage, which would relieve the congestion on the Ring when long lines of machines are waiting to drive to the playhouse.

Kenya Colony, East Africa, is becoming interested in the radio, and it is believed that many of the 6,000 Indians there may be induced to install receiving sets.

Death of Judson Harmon

Ohio grieves today at the passing of Judson Harmon, twice governor of his native state, attorney general in the cabinet of Grover Cleveland, judge of the superior court of Hamilton county and one of the outstanding members of the bar of the United States, whose death yesterday in a Chincinnati hospital was a shock to his friends.

Despite his 81 years, this old-school Democrat, who was the Buckeye State party's choice for the presidential nomination on more than one occasion, among them the Baltimore convention that named Woodrow Wilson, was active until a few days before his last illness.

As Chief Justice William H. Taft of the United States supreme court said when he learned of the death of his fellow Ohionan, he was "broadminded, hard working, able and learned in the law and these qualities distinguished him as a leader of the bar in his practice after he left the bench."

And his political influence was not confined to his own party. He was elected governor in 1908 and re-elected in 1910, and Republican votes played no small part in his victory. His first term election was at a time when Buckeye state electors looked askance at a Democratic gubernatorial nominee.

His record as the state's chieftain is one of which he had many reasons to be proud. During his second term Ohio's constitution was practically rewritten, and prior to the constitutional changes, under his influence, the workmen's compensation law—the principle that industry must care for those injured in its employment—was written into the statutes. And one of his appointments on the original board to administer this law was an East Liverpool man, Thomas J. Duffy, then president of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters, who served until a year ago, having been re-appointed by Governors Cox and Donahey.

And, too, Judson Harmon was responsible for the law limiting tax rates, and popularized the economy slogan in Ohio.

Although as another writer has said, ex-Governor Harmon was of the political type of Grover Cleveland, and he found himself out of step with insistence on direct legislation, primaries, etc., his native state owes much to him.

Judson Harmon was respected and esteemed, and his death marks the passing of one of Ohio's distinguished sons.

Local And Federal Rights

When a policeman in Cleveland tried to stop two men from crossing the street against a traffic sign, they declared the officer himself under arrest, and took him to the office of the federal district attorney, charging him with resisting federal officers. They were special revenue agents.

Then the city authorities got mad, and busy. The result was that when the head of the intelligence service of the revenue bureau come from Washington to investigate the case, he advised the smart revenue agents to resign, and thus avoid more serious trouble.

The incident served to bring out certain truths not generally realized. Government agents, it was stated, are always expected to "use tact, discretion and common senses." As for the two men in question, it seemed like a joke to call them members of the "intelligence service."

"In no circumstances," declared their boss, "are such agents granted immunity, by virtue of their federal service, from strict observance of state laws and local police regulations."

Thus representative, republican government is vindicated, and state and municipal governments are left free to make and administer their own laws.

Sometimes local authorities overlook the fact that they possess all powers not expressly given to the federal government by the constitution. And sometimes, as in this case, federal officers themselves overlook it.

Town Farmers

Henry Ford thinks it would be better if farmers lived in town. In a recent interview, he pointed to a farmhouse that was obviously run-down and unprofitable, a poor place to bring up a family, and expressed his pity for the children doomed to such an environment.

"That farmer doesn't have to live out there," said Ford. "He could live in town, drive out in a cheap-priced car, do his farming and return every night to a habitable, modern home."

With inventions now available, Ford insists, the farmer can "cut his work to almost nothing." Modern machinery and modern methods could enable him to operate his farm profitably, working short hours, and at the same time having all the advantages of the city for comfort, recreation, social opportunities and education for his children.

The arrangement he suggests is really not new, except in the United States. In many foreign countries, especially in Europe, farmers for centuries have been accustomed to living in village communities and going out every morning to their farm work as industrial workers go to the factory. That would be easier still with our modern transportation facilities.

There is another possibility, however, that doesn't seem to have occurred to Ford. The automobile and other modern mechanical conveniences not only make it possible for the farmer to live in town, but also for the farmer to live on his farm, running to town or to see his rural friends quickly and easily, and enjoying in his farmhouse nearly all of the lavor-saving devices and civilized comforts that the city family has.

THE BOOK THAT GRANDPA TOOK

Since Rex Beach himself laughed at this story when I brought it to him, there is no reason why the general public should be denied the opportunity to laugh at it, too. I had it at first hand from a young lady who figured in it.

This young lady is now engaged in newspaper work. But before she took up journalism she was an assistant at a public library in Pittsburgh.

One day as she sat at her desk a sixteen-year-old girl approached her and told her that she had come to pay for a book which had been lost.

"What was the book?" asked the librarian.

"It was Mr. Rex Beach's 'Going Some.' I took it out four weeks ago to read it, but we had some trouble in our family and the book was lost and I'm afraid I can't return it; so, under the rules, I suppose I'll have to pay for it."

Judging by the girl's appearance, the librarian figured that she did not belong to a family in particularly affluent circumstances, so sympathy moved her to make further inquiry.

"I would suggest," she said, "that you make further search for the missing volume. Surely it must be somewhere around your home. Perhaps if you hunt again thoroughly you may find where it is."

"Oh, we know where it is," said the girl. "That's just the trouble."

"Where is it?"

"Well, you see, grandpa died."

"What has your grandfather's death to do with Mr. Rex Beach's 'Going Some'?"

"Well, ma'am, after he was laid out in his coffin the undertaker used it to prop up grandpa's chin with. And everybody forgot about it until after the funeral was over. And so the book is out at the cemetery, with grandpa."

NEW YORK DAYBYDAY
By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23.—That slight curving sweep of East Side street known as Mulberry Bend is in many ways one of the most colorful sections in the city. There is nothing gaudy about it. Indeed it is as glowering as the gray tower of the Tombs in the background.

The buildings are smudged and there is the feeling of a grim inertia which is liable to flare out any moment. It is the old rendezvous of the Five Points gang and the thump of the walloping fist is still heard.

There are cellar dives and proprietors with scars and stubby pompadours. Young girls often have the hardness of early worldly wisdom. The Bend seems sluggish to uptown curiosity. The arrival of a patrol wagon or ambulance does not stir it.

The sidewalk—the inner arc is a slight park—is narrow and rather jostling for the timid. Blood has been spilled on the walk many times. Sallow, tired women wrangle with their children from upper windows and almost every corner has its knot of gangsters.

The eating places are numerous and are mostly like the dirty spoon lunch rooms of the Bowery. Many of them dispense jiggers of anisette with the thick cupped coffee. The patronage seems a blur of hooked noses, cunning eyes and loosely parted lips.

The distinct impression of Mulberry Bend is that it is itself with none of the tourist sham of Chinatown, the Bowery or a gaudier Broadway. It is about the only section of Manhattan remaining not exactly tough—but rough and primative.

Some of the drug stores even have a lone green and real bottle in the window. At night it is rather dingy and there is a far-away jangle of electric pianos and a medley of harsh voices. One day it will be gobbled up in the maw of progress—and that will be a pity.

And around South Ferry the old clam sellers of another day sit in their stalls serving galloping commuters from their steaming array. The clam seller flourished in the early days of the original Astors.

The briskest type of youth in all Manhattan is the bond salesman from Wall street. He is given to shooting his cuffs, flirting back his hair, tapping cigarette ends on his thumb nail and yanking his cravat forward into a semi-loop. His sophistication is utterly suffocating and he is at home everywhere in the breezy, familiar and rather patronizing manner of one who feels he is at the top of the world Schwab to him is "Charlie," and anyone who hasn't a spry ear cocked for a gilt-edged proposition is a hopeless sap.

The name that occupies the greatest number of pages in the New York telephone directory is Cohen. And the next name to that is Smith. Most of the Cohens live in the Bronx. The Smiths are not particular.

The open air hardware market along West Broadway on pleasant days brings out the old-fashioned hatless and aproned housewives, who come to replenship their kitchen utensils. They are types rarely seen elsewhere around the town.

A meticulous gentleman who inspects the supplies of his bootlegger was shocked the other day to see that a waggish printer had made the whiskey labels read: "Bottled in Barn."

HASKIN'S LETTER
By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Curtailing Crops.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—Cotton is not the only crop that should be curtailed this year, according to the annual agricultural outlook report of the department headed by Secretary Jardine. Livestock producers have in prospect a favorable year, the report says, but, with an average season, a continuation of relatively low returns from most cash crops is probable unless acreages are reduced.

The purchasing power of foreign countries for agricultural products of 1927 doubtless will show some improvement, but that does not mean that our exports will increase materially. On the contrary it is probable that foreign production of breadstuffs, fruits, and animal products will reduce foreign demand for our exportable surpluses of these products.

To chase away a little of the gloom that may be superinduced by these predictions the report says that a slightly larger supply of farm labor will probably be available in regions adjacent to industrial centers, and wages may be lower. No appreciable changes in the prices of farm machinery and building materials are to be expected, but wholesale prices of fertilizers are lower than last year.

As to cotton the warning is that production must be curtailed drastically the coming season to restore the balance between consumption and supply at remunerative prices to growers. With average yields a reduction of about 30 per cent in acreage appears necessary to give growers the best gross returns for their 1927 crop, and it is stated that the chances for profitable production will be best if the acreage is small, costs held to a minimum, and efforts made to improve the quality of the crop.

This remedy for the cotton growers' ills is substantially the same as that prescribed by the commission appointed some months ago by President Coolidge.

Not a Popular Prescription.

It is not exactly a popular prescription with the men who grow cotton, at least, not with them individually. They may agree collectively that the thing for them to do is to plant from two-thirds to three-fourths as many acres this year as they did last, and they may be thoroughly convinced that this policy will mean that they will get far more for a small crop in 1927 than they did for a bumper crop in 1926. Individually, however, they dislike the idea of cutting down their acreage. Each wants the other to do it, thereby making higher prices reasonably certain, but would like to plant every possible acre himself in order to get a maximum profit out of the higher prices.

Then, too, strangely enough, many of the cotton planters have a grievance against the government, holding that it was the government's estimate of the big 1926 crop that precipitated the break in cotton prices. They do not question the accuracy of the estimate, but take the stand that if no estimate were made speculators and buyers would have no official data with which to attack and beat down cotton prices.

These critics, it is pointed out here, overlook the fact that in other years government estimates showing a short crop have brought about sharp advances in the prices which they received for their product. Moreover, prior to the time the official estimates were made at stated times, conditions were chaotic in the cotton market. Estimates were made by various interests. Some were honest, but many were fakes, put out with whatever appearance of reliability could be attached to them, for the sole purpose of influencing the market.

Cotton "bulls" who were playing the market for higher prices put out estimates that would tend to start an upward trend, while the "bears" would issue estimates which if credited sufficiently would send prices tobogganing. Meanwhile, actual buyers of the South's great product were up in the air most of the time. They had to build up big organizations to gather the information upon which they could make their own estimates which they would know to be dependable, or trust to luck and hope that they might hit the right.

At the same time the coton growers never knew what to do about selling their crop. They might sell one day and then be sick a few days later because they had not held off for a higher price, and they might hold off and be even sicker because they had not sold a few days before. There was nothing to establish a fairly certain market trend. Then came the government estimates, disinterested and as accurate as they could humanly be made, and a reliable basis for prices was established.

Outlook for Other Crops.

Now the government, in the annual agricultural outlook report, is advising farmers to cut practically all other crops. Wheat growers are warned that they can hardly expect to receive returns for the 1927 crop similar to those which have prevailed for the 1926 crop, especially of production should be materially increased. As to corn, the report says the demand for the 1927 crop is expected to be little if any greater than for the 1926 crop. With probably increase of corn acreage in the South and with no prospect of increased demand, growers are faced with the likelihood of lower prices unless acreage is substantially reduced.

Oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, hay, potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage, onions, beans, oranges, grapefruit, apples, peaches, grapes, strawberries, cantaloupes, and watermelons are other farm products the production of which should be held steady or curtailed this season, according to the government experts.

Livestock products, it is stated, should be held at about the present level, allowing for the increase in population from year to year, in order to maintain prices. The dairy industry, on the other hand, is reported to be on a stronger basis than a year ago. Dairymen are likely to have a moderately favorable spread between the price of feed and the price of dairy products. Egg and poultry producers, too, in most sections of the country, may expect a fairly satisfactory year, although perhaps not as profitable as 1926.

Tobacco of the cigarette types is in increasing demand, but not sufficient to stand heavily increased acreage. Producers of export types are faced with increased foreign competition in a contracting market. Growers in the flue-cured region should guard against over-production, and quality rather than quantity should be the aim of growers in the cigar leaf districts.

Sugar prices, it is noted, are trending toward higher levels, with world production below that of last year and increasing consumption.

"But for all this warning," says one of the experts, "it is doubtful if crops will be materially reduced, except by weather conditions or other natural causes. The average farmer is an incurable optimist and can not restrain himself from producing the most he can of everything he raises."

Washington Day Dinner is Featured At Country Club

Seventy-two guests were entertained last night at a Washington birthday dinner-dance and card party, one of the feature events of the season, at the Country club. In charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Taylor and Attorney and Mrs. Ben L. Bennett.

The living room of the club was decorated with red, white and blue candles, novelty shaded lights, and pictures of Washington. The balcony, doorways and mantels were draped with American flags.

The dinner was progressive, each of the four courses being served after each member had changed his or her partner. The small tables were centered with patriotic colored tapers, and tally-place cards. Patriotic hats were given. Washington Day novelties were used in the appointments.

Following the dinner a dancing party was the diversion. The music was in charge of Miss Gladys Larkin and Edwin Thomas.

Later hours were spent with progressive bridge, 18 tables being in play. Trophies for the combined scores of partners were awarded Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groglode and Mrs. Grandon Postels and daughter, Mrs. J. Donald Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Judge of Salineville were out-of-town guests.

The next evening party will be held Friday, March 4, with Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Groglode as the committee.

Bridge Club Party.

A Washington birthday party was held by members of the Tuesday Afternoon Bridge club yesterday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Donald K. Trotter on Grant street. A 1 o'clock luncheon was served on small tables which were decorated with red rosebuds, and patriotic rally-place cards. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Charlotte, and Mrs. Arthur Gething, covers being arranged for 20 persons.

Progressive bridge was the diversion. Trophies for the club were awarded Mesdames John Golden and Frank McNutt. Mrs. Arthur Gething received the guest gift.

Special guests were Mesdames Christian Pusey, Bayard Hunsicker, William N. Vodrey, Herbert A. Smith, Fred Adams, Aubrey H. Dornan, Arthur Gething, Grandon Eckert and Harry Nellis.

Hostess at Luncheon.

Miss Freda Furrer entertained a group of friends yesterday afternoon at her home in West Fourth street with a 1 o'clock Washington birthday luncheon. The small tables were decorated with patriotic novelties. Places were arranged for 16. The hostess was assisted in serving by her mother, Mrs. Fred Furrer, and Mrs. Owen Buxton.

Progressive bridge was the diversion. Trophies were awarded Misses Doris Bock and Ermale Gefeller.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. William McKee of Pittsburgh and Miss Margaret Brown of Toronto.

Laff-a-Lot Club Meeting.

Mrs. R. W. Bennett entertained the members of the Laff-a-Lot club recently at her home in West Eighth street. A short business session was followed by guessing contests. Trophies were awarded Mesdames Charles Fowler and Rowland Edgar. A feature was a handkerchief shower in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. A. L. DeLong.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harold Jeanguenat and Misses Cleo Williams and Gladys Hallet.

The next meeting will be held March 3 at the home of Mrs. Charles Fowler in Denver street.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley Entertains.

Mrs. Elmer Eppley entertained a group of friends last evening at her home in Carolina avenue, Chester, with a Washington birthday party. Two tables of 500 were in play. Trophies were awarded Mesdames H. D. Parsons and G. L. Bormuth. Piano selections were given by Mrs. Leo Bormuth, and vocal numbers by Mesdames John Moore and J. R. Myers.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Ruth Eppley, and mother, Mrs. M. E. Eppley. Flags were given as favors.

Mrs. Frank Hamilton Hostess.

Friends were entertained last evening with a bridge party at the home of Mrs. Frank Hamilton in Fifteenth street, Wellsville.

The small tables were decorated in keeping with Washington's birthday. Red lighted tapers and cherries predominated in the appointments. Luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames S. J. Hamilton and Fred Musser. Places were arranged for 16.

Four tables of bridge were in play. Trophies were awarded Mrs. Fred Musser of Wellsville, and Mrs. George Fowler of this city.

Mrs. Hamilton will entertain with a bridge-dinner tomorrow evening.

Renaissance Club Entertained.

Members of the Renaissance club were entertained last evening, at the home of Mrs. Dan Swaney, Lincoln highway. The home was decorated with Washington birthday novelties. Needlework was the principal diversion. Miss Mayme Davidson rendered piano selections.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Misses Lillian and Ruth, covers being arranged for 16 guest.

Special guests were Mesdames William Swaney and Harry Exley, and Miss Mayme Davidson.

The next meeting of the club will be held March 7, at the home of Mrs. F. W. Herche in West Eighth street.

Mrs. T. H. Jones Entertained.

Mrs. T. H. Jones entertained a group of friends at a 1 o'clock luncheon Monday afternoon at her home in Princeton avenue, Washington birthday favors were used in the appointments, covers being arranged for eight guests. The hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. George McCullough.

Progressive bridge was the diversion.

Live-Saving Scouts' Meeting.

The Life-saving Scouts of the World, sponsored by the Salvation Army, will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the citadel, East Third and Market streets. All boys between the ages of 11 and 18 are invited to attend.

New members will be instructed in health exercises, electrical and mechanical work, signaling, bugling and life-saving work.

The boys are under the supervision of James F. Barnhart and Chaplain Earl Galloway.

Ceramic Delphian Society Session.

Mrs. J. Donal' Thompson entertained the members of the Ceramic chapter, Delphia society, Monday afternoon, at her home in Park boulevard. Miss Ruth Manor was leader.

Shakespeare was the study.

Text reports were given as follows: "The Contrast between Mammon and Surley," Mrs. Joseph M. Wells; "The Mythological References of Sir Epicure," Miss Isabelle Blake; "The Plays of Beaumont and Fletcher," and "Philaster's Jealousy," Miss Jessie Hall; "The Home-made Duke," Miss Ruth Manor.

Following the program refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Grandon Postels, and Mrs. C. H. Bailey. Patriot novelties were given as favors.

During the business meeting, it was decided to hold a few meetings in the homes of the members. Several benefit affairs are planned.

The next session will be held in two weks in the Potters' club rooms, East Fourth and Market street.

GANGSTERS USE MACHINE GUNS AGAINST FOES

Imported Gunmen With Bombs Aid Rival Illinois Cliques.

LIQUOR RIVALRY

Battles by New York and Chicago Gangs Featured.

ST. LOUIS.—Battle fought by gunmen imported from Chicago or New York, machine gun and bomb warfare between rival gangs and bombings have become so common in parts of Williamson, Saline and Franklin counties, in the heart of the rich mining and agricultural zone of Southern Illinois, that citizens merely remark:

"They're at it again."

If there is romance in underworld warfare two of the most romantic figures in this battle scarred region are Charles Birger and Carl Shelton, two deadly enemies, and leaders of rival bands.

Birger on Bail.

Despite that fact that a warrant charging complicity in a murder exists against him, Birger is free. Occasionally he wanders away from his Harrisburg domicile and usually upon his return he tells his friends that he has been out "looking for Shelton."

The killing of Mayor Joe Adams, of West City, Franklin county, in which the officials claim Berger was implicated, was typical of the outlawry in this region, notably in "bloody Herrin."

Mayor Adams was shot at the front door of his home on a placid Sunday afternoon. Adams had been regarded as more or less friendly to members of the Shelton gang and, in consequence, incurred the ill will of members of the rival Birger gang.

Mrs. Adams, the widow, declared that a man believed to have been Birger, called her up on the telephone several times before the shooting, and warned her to "get more life insurance on her husband."

Adams' daughter, Arian, said that a man she thought resembled Birger was one of the two men who knocked on the front door of their home on the Sunday afternoon of the murder and called for the mayor. As Adams appeared he was shot down in his tracks.

Killings Are Common.

But this was only one of a series of killings throughout the violence zone of Southern Illinois in the past few months attributed to gang feuds. Vengeance killings have been common. Several members of both gangs fell, but their passing was unwept, unhonored and unsung.

The killing of Adams followed two similar attempts upon the life of his brother, Gus Adams. Previously a bomb was exploded at the mayor's partly destroying it. Upon another occasion two motor cars tore at top speed through the little town pouring machine gun fire into Gus Adams modest home and that of a neighbor.

Gus Adams himself has not escaped entanglements with the law. There is lodged against him a charge of murdering Ward Jones, a Birger lieutenant, whose bullet riddled body was found in a creek near Equality, Gallatin county. Adams was arrested.

Herrin, which is known the world over for its violence and its astonishing record of sudden death, is in Williamson county. Upon several occasions detachments of the Illinois National Guard have been called to Herrin to restore order when the street fighting got out of hand. Many women have taken part in battles which raged through Herrin.

Six Dead In Outbreak.

Only six persons were killed in the latest outbreak at Herrin so the troops who were on guard there were recalled. Governor Small intimated, however, that the next time it was necessary to send soldiers the military authorities might deal a little more sternly with the situation.

A person unfamiliar with Southern Illinois might get the impression that this section of a rich and prosperous state is made up entirely of bootleggers and gangsters who spend their time sniping at each other. But this is not the case. The gunmen and the gangsters make up a mighty small percentage of the population. The farmers are all law abiding and so are the coal miners except in time of strikes.

Farmers living near Birger's road house "The Shady Rest," said that it was like a scene from the Great War down in their peaceful midst when the notorious inn was burned.

First there was a gigantic explosion, which rocked the earth, accompanied by a lurid glare which lighted up the sky. Then there was a crackle of machine gun fire and the steady clatter of volleys from automatic pistols. Then the building caught fire and flames spread upward while the shooting slowly died out.

That is a contrast picture between peaceful, rural Illinois and a terror-ridden bullet riddled district inhabited by a few gunmen.

Train service has been opened on the Samsun-Charsmamba railway line of Turkey.

Vinol Makes Weak Child Stronger

"My boy was so nervous and weak. I gave him Vinol and now he is in good health."—Mrs. F. Sommers. If they cannot take cod liver oil, give children Vinol. The very FIRST week, they'll begin to feel stronger, eat and sleep better. A simple strengthening iron and cod liver compound in use for over 25 years for nervous, rundown men and women and sickly children. Contains no oil—pleasant to take. J. D. Holloway, Druggist.

Night Coughs

Stopped in 15 Minutes.

Almost always coughing is caused by an irritated and inflamed throat or bronchial tubes, which cough syrups and patent medicines do not touch. But a famous physician's prescription recently discovered called Thoxine goes direct to the cause, relieves the inflamed membranes and stops the cough almost instantly, one swallow does the work and the remarkable thing about it is that it contains no dope, chloroform or harmful drugs. Once used you will never be without it. Pleasant taste. Safe for children. 35c., 60c. and $1.00. At all druggists.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have beautiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair bristle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

BETTY BRONSON IN STAR ROLE

With the opening at the Ceramic theatre of Marshall Neilan's latest production, "Everybody's Acting," in which Bett, Bronson heads a stellar cast, local interest is again riveted on this bewitching little "Cinderella of the screen," who skyrocketed to fame in the title role of "Peter Pan."

The history of motion pictures offers no parallel that equals the meteoric rise of this 18-year-old girl from obscurity to world-wide prominence. It is a modern day fairy tale that would make Aesop and Anderson turn green with envy. At one jump, Betty gained that which thousands struggle for in vain, and which a comparative few achieve only after a long and arduous apprenticeship.

What is the secret of her success? It is beauty? No. True, she is very lovely, but Hollywood is over-run with girls who have nothing but beauty to recommend them. It is ability? No. Of course, Betty Les shown that she has genuine histronic talent, but there are hundreds of other players with exceptional ability who will never attain stardom. Is it intelligence, charm, enthusiasm, originality? No. Many possess these qualities, yet fail to reach the top of the film ladder.

What, then is the magic key that has proved the "open sesame" to motion picture fame and fortune? It's personality! Just what personality is, no one has ever been able satisfactorily to explain. It's indefinable and defies analysis. You either have it, or you haven't it.

And Betty has personality—lots of it. It's an elfin, wistful sort of personality. You sense it when you look at her, you recognize it when you talk to her and you feel it as you watch her on the screen.

The local showing of "Everybody's Acting" offers native picture-goers a fine opportunity to see Betty at her very best.

The main trouble with a girl of today is she refuses to act like the girl of yesterday—Coshocton Tribune.

Soviet Government Makes No Purchases In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE.—The Soviet government will make no more purchases in Czechoslovakia until the Czech government has acceded to their demands for full recognition and a new political treaty, according to the newspaper "Tribuna."

The Russians have already stopped sending Czech goods to Russia although the commercial mission here was accredited to spend 260 millions of Czech kronen during the next six months. The government has taken no steps to meet the Soviet demands.

THOMPSON AND DEVER AWAIT CHICAGO POLL FIGHT

FORMER MAYOR NOMINATED BY LANDSLIDE VOTE

Carries Every Ward Except One in Bloody Primary.

DEVER UNOPPOSED

Campaign for G. O. P. Mayoralty Bitterest Ever Waged.

By GENE HOFFMAN.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Former Mayor William Hale Thompson, successful candidate in the race for the Republican mayoralty nomination, today began organizing the machine with which he hopes to drive to victory at the April election over Mayor William E. Dever, ronominated on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself.

Thompson twice mayor, was nominated in yesterday's blood-and-thunder primary by a landslide vote that smashes all records in the political history of Chicago. Complete returns place his majority over Edward R. Litsinger, chief opponent, slightly in excess of 180,000 votes.

Thompson carried every ward in town except one—the Forty-ninth.

The Democratic vote was light owing to the fact that Mayor Dever had virtually no opposition.

The total Republican vote was 506,307. A total of 342,279 votes was cast for Thompson.

The Democratic vote totalled less than 200,000.

Shootings and Sluggings.

The campaign for the Republican nomination was one of the bitterest ever waged in Chicago. Despite unusual precautions on the part of police and a large force of special deputies, shootings, sluggings, kidnapings and various forms of intimidation and fraud were recorded.

Police, armed with machine guns, rifles and tear bombs, patrolled the "danger wards" throughout the day, displaying their munitions as a threat to political gangsters. But even this vigilance failed to stem the tide of outlawry.

In the thirteenth ward, two gangs of terrorists, armed with sawed-off shotguns and pistols, disarmed two police officers, held up election officials and stole a number of ballot boxes. One of the disarmed officers said he was sure the desperadoes were members of the Joe Saltis gang, a notorious South Side beer running combine.

In the 32nd ward, Camiel Dhoghe, an election worker, was shot and probably fatally wounded by Frank Glombeck, a Thompson precinct worker. Glombeck freely admitted the shooting, but claimed self-defense.

Thompson's campaign slogan was "America First." His speeches denounced those who would draw this country into entangling alliances with foreign nations. He ran as a "wet," promising to direct his efforts towards repeal of the Volstead law and the state search and seizure laws.

Italian Airman's Plane Damaged in Hop Across Ocean

RIO DE JAENIRO, Feb. 23.—Possibility of Commander Francesco De Pinedo resuming his inter-continental flight today was dimmed by news that his plane had been damaged at Fernando de Noronha by heavy seas.

The extent of the damage is not known. A message from Commander De Pinedo today said, "apparatus broken on account of big seas."

The Italian ace landed at Ferdando le Noronha yesterday after a 15-hour flight from Cape Verde Islands.

Just What Is It?

C. E. Miller of Lawton, Okla., has found this queer animal in the Gyp hills of Texas. He calls it "Mr. Itt" for want of a better name, since he doesn't know what it is. Mr. Itt is 30 inches high, weighs 20 pounds, has black and white silky hair; and his hands are shaped like human hands, but he has the face of a dog, and lives only on vegetables.

Naylor Orchestra To Play Tonight at Virginia Gardens

A large crowd is expected to attend the Hi-Ex-Hi dance, which will be given at Virginia Gardens, Rock Springs park, tonight. Oliver Naylor's Victor Recording orchestra will play.

A Washington birthday dance was held at the park last night. Naylor and his artists will complete their three-day engagement with a public dance Thursday evening.

"LOST VISION" SERMON TOPIC

Evangelist Trager Speaks in Glendale Mission.

Evangelist John Trager, of Philadelphia, who is conducting a series of old-time revival services in the Glendale mission near Newell, spoke last night on "The Lost Vision."

He said in part: "Many preachers and church people are responsible for the lack of more genuine revivals, because they have lost the Bible vision. I would rather go to hell from the back door of a saloon bar dealing out the cup of amnation, than from the back end of a pulpit as a result of failing to warn people to flee from the wrath to come.

"We need a vision of the love of God, of the meaning of the cross and the sacrifice of Christ for the world's salvation. We need a vision of ourselves to see whether we are in the faith and true blue for God every where, so we can be in confidential position to help lost souls to Christ. Bible characters and other great religious leaders of the past had the vision and blessed the church with a holy influence, but people now are not reading the Bible but watching the lives of those who professed to be Christians."

His subject tonight will be "Emancipation for All." Meetings will be held during the remainder of the week beginning at 7:30. Three services will be held Sunday.

Newell Job is Let

duced at the No. 6 plant. The two works will also be heated from the one system.

Four Bids Submitted.

The bid of the Austin company does not include the two kilns, to be erected by Carl B. Harrop, Columbus engineers and contractors, and the continuous decorating kiln. Three other contractors submitted bids for the main factory building, the Austin company being the lowest. The No. 6 works was erected by the H K. Ferguson company, also of Cleveland.

Approximately 60 days will be required to install the machinery in the plant after its completion. Company officials estimate that the plant will be ready for operation within six or eight months after work is started depending largely upon conditions.

The plant will offer employment to approximately 450 workers, most of them skilled. This is the number on the payroll of the No. 6 works.

General committee made up of Laughlin company officials in charge of the erection of the new plant includes Fred B. Lawrence, secretary treasurer of the North American Manufacturing company; W. E. Wells, Jr., superintendent of the No. 5 plant; A. A. Wells, assistant superintendent of the No. 6 works; Lester Aaron, son of Marcus Aaron, president of the company; C. H. Walker, general superintendent; Dr. A. W. Bleininger, head of the research department and Joseph M. Wells, superintendent of the No. 6 works.

Erect New Warehouse

The Laughlin company has also started the erection of a new glost warehause, having approximately 20,000 square feet, at the No. 4 works. Four upright glost kilns, which were abandoned when the tunnel kiln was erected last summer, are being razed to make room for the warehouse. Upon completion of the warehouse ware which has been stored on the fourth and fifth floors of the building will be removed to bins on the ground floor. About seven of the old glost kilns are to be used. The building will be erected on the east side of the No. 4 works.

Construction of another unit strengthens the claim of the Laughlin interest to bring the largest manufacturers of general ware in the world. Plants No. 1, 2 and 3 are located in East End, East Liverpool, while Nos. 4, 5 and 6 and the proposed No. 7 works are located at Newell.

SLASH IN PRICE OF CRUDE OIL

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 23.—The Joseph Seep agency, purchasers of crude oil for the Standard Oil interests, today announced a 15-cent cut in the price of six grades of crude oil in pipe lines.

New prices: New York transit, $3.25; Bradford district, $3.25; National transit $3.15; Southwest pipe $3.15; Eureka, $3.10; Buckeye, $2.95.

OHIO GIRL DIES IN AUTO WRECK

XENIA, O., Feb. 23.—Gertrude Neff 17, residing near Jamestown, was killed here today when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a Pennsylvania flyer just east of here. Her mother was seriously injured but her father, Leroy Neff, who waited for a freight train to pass and then drove upon the tracks of the approaching train, was unhurt.

VOTE TO KILL PROPOSED OHIO HIGHWAY BOARD

Section is Eliminated From Norton Bill.

DONAHEY WISH

O. K. Measure for Actual Cost of Feeding Prisoners.

By C. H. HADDOX.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—After being told that Governor Vic Donahey would veto the measure if the provision for creation of a state highway board was retained, the house highways committee today, by a vote of 15 to 1, eliminated, from the Norton bill, providing for revision of the state highway laws, the section which sought to authorize creation of a five-membered state highway board.

Legislators asserted that the governor strongly opposed the creation of the proposed board, claiming it was not good policy and that control of the highway department should be left as existing laws provide. The bill proposed that the highway board consist of the governor, the state auditor, the dean of the college of engineering at Ohio State university, and two Ohio voters, of opposite party politics, chosen by the governor.

Representative C. H. Burke, Huron county, was credited with being the lone committeeman who voted against eliminating the state highway board provision.

The house county affairs committee today decided to recommend passage of the Bender bill, which already has passed the senate, decreeing that county commissioners shall allow the sheriff only the actual cost of keeping and feeding prisoners in the county jail, but at a rate of not to exceed 75 cents per day of three meals each.

Parker May Get Utilities Place.

Report was current today in the senate that Governor Donahey will ask confirmation of the appointment of Attorney Charles M. Parker, Columbus, Republican, for a six-year term as a member of the state utilities commission. No comment concerning the report was available at the governor's office. Friends of Walter D. McKinney, secretary of the Southern Ohio Coal Exchange, and M. H. Broughton, Baltimore & Ohio trainmaster, both of Columbus, and Wilbur A. Phillips, Dayton, however, it was understood, were urging the governor to appoint them to the position.

Phillips, prominently identified with the interests of the railroad brotherhoods, has held a number of positions with railroad companies and was state safety appliance inspector for Illinois in 1915.

The senate committee on prisons and prison reform decided to recommend passage of the Waitt bill providing for creation of a four-membered commission, under jurisdiction of the state welfare department, to supervise classifying prisoners into four groups, grading them according to the seriousness of the crimes committed, and determining in what penal institution the prisoners shall be imprisoned.

Recommend Salary Increase Bill.

The senate library committee recommended passage of the bill by Senator C. L. Shafer, Van Wert, empowering library officials to bar admission of objectionable persons and prohibiting defacement of library property.

Following failure of the senate judiciary committee to hold a hearing, as scheduled for last Tuesday evening, relative to the De Armond bill, authorizing abandonment of the Miami and Erie canal from Middletown to St. Bernard, Cincinnati, report was current today in the senate chamber that the committee will not recommend passage of the measure. The best that can be expected, it was indicated, is that the committee will report the bill out without recommendation.

The senate committee on banks and trust companies today decided to recommend passage of the bill by Senator F. C. Wise, Stark county, permitting boards of education to deposit school funds in a bank to an amount equal to the bank's capital stock and surplus.

Decision to recommend passage of the bill by Senator J. Eugene Roberts, Youngstown, increasing salaries of county commissioners throughout Ohio and fixing these salaries on a basis of population, was reached today by the senate judiciary committee.

DIRECTORS CLOSE MARIETTA BANK

MARIETTA, O., Feb. 23.—Doors of the Central National bank of Marietta failed to open today while notices declared the bank had been closed by action of the board of directors. Bank Examiners Crosson and Zorus are in charge of the bank following an unsuccessful attempt to consolidate with the First National bank of Marietta. Action of the board of directors, it is said, followed a meeting which terminated early today after a meeting begun Tuesday and continuing through the night.

Bank examiners and President George E. Hayward refuse to discuss the closing.

Depositors of the bank, it is said in banking circles here, will probably not lose any money, as the action of the board of directors was prompted by internal dissensions although statements of the past year report no profit.

Yawn Paralyzes

Central Press

Yawning as a harmless pastime is no longer believed in by Mrs. Earl Johnson, above, of Sioux City, Ia. Upon awakening one morning she opened her mouth wide and indulged in a delightful yawn. The act dislocated one of the vertebrae of her neck, paralyzing her. A doctor had to be called to replace the bone. Then the paralysis disappeared.

Cincinnati Firm Highest Bidder for Wellsville Bonds

A. E. Aub and company, Cincinnati, were the low bidders for the $12,500 worth of bonds issued by the city of Wellsville for a new fire truck, the finance committee of council and the city auditor announced.

Nine firms submitted bids. The Cincinnati company offered $12,651, or a premium of $151.

The truck will be delivered on March 1.

Slayer of Guard At Mansfield Gets Sentence of Death

MANSFIELD, O., Feb. 23.—Philip Orleck, alias William Fox, 21-year-old Cincinnati youth, convicted here Saturday of the first degree murder of a guard at Mansfield reformatory, was sentenced to die in the electric chair, Friday, June 10, by Judge J. W. Galbraith in common pleas court today.

Orleck made no statement when sentence was pronounced, and his attorneys did not argue their formal motion for a new trial. The prisoner evidenced no emotion when the sentence was pronounced. He will probably be taken late today to the state penitentiary to await execution.

STEEL COMMON HITS HIGH PRICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 23. — United States Steel common stock sold at $160⅞ a share on the New York stock exchange today, the highest price in the history of the corporation.

Investment buying of the stock has increased enormously since the directors recommended a 40 per cent stock dividend, which will be ratified by stockholders in April. If cash dividends are maintained at $7 a share, this will be equivalent to $9.80 a share annual dividend on the stock.

Last year "steel common" sold at 160½.

Its low price for the year to date is 153½.

Braddock, Pa., Lad Seventeenth Victim Of Suicide Wave

BRADDOCK, Pa., Feb. 23.—Nathan P. Weissman, 19, a Braddock High school student, killed himself today in his father's factory by firing a bullet into his brain with a revolver.

The youth was the seventeenth victim of a student suicide wave which has swept the country. Parents of the boy could assign no reason for his act.

France Has Made No Formal Offer Of Debt Payment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—France has not yet made any formal offer to begin payment of $30,000,000 annually on her four billion dollar American war debt, pending ratification of the Mellon-Berenger agreement, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon stated today, announcements in Paris to the contrary.

WAY IS PAVED FOR SURVEY OF STATE BUREAUS

Legislature Will Weed Out Useless Employes in Departments.

SALARY RAISES

Senator Carpenter Calls for Canal and Reservoir Inquiry.

By C. H. Haddox.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 23.—Legislative leaders today were paving the way for a joint legislative probe of state departments with a view to weeding out useless or inefficient employes, and raising salaries of deserving ones.

The house this afternoon is expected to concur in minor amendments made in the senate late Tuesday to the Ackerman-Ball resolution providing for this legislative investigating committee which is to submit its report by March 31, next year.

Lieut.-Gov. Earl D. Bloom selected Senators Ackerman, Cuyahoga county; Marshall, Cuyahoga; De Armond, Butler; Nickels, Tuscarawas, and Kumler, Preble, as members of this committee. House members have not been chosen.

The senate adopted a resolution, offered by Senator Harry Carpenter, Steubenville, authorizing selection of a senate committee to investigate the leases, water rents and rights of the canals and reservoirs of Ohio. The resolution declared that it was apparent that "the needs of the state demand a thorough investigation" and charged that various manufacturing industries "are using the state's waterways and water supply with insufficient remuneration to the state treasury."

Senators Carpenter, Price, of Summit, and Tom, of Lucas, were chosen by the lieutenant governor, as presiding officer of the senate, to make the proposed probe.

By a vote of 20 to 0, the senate passed the Comings bill classifying unauthorized entry of a room, or an apartment, as burglary. The bill now goes to the house.

Members Attend Tea

erpool, chaplain, and Mrs. Mary Ward, East Liverpool, curator.

Miss Sarah Thomas acted as dining room escort while the committee assisting in the entertainment of guests consisted of Mesdames D. L. Gilbert, of Youngstown; Rev. Frank H. Magill, of Wellsville and Dr. Joseph Chetynd and Duane Welch of East Liverpool.

Feature of the event was the minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Meanor, Davis, children of Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, to Beethoven's Minuet in G, played by Miss Ruth Heanor, violinist, and Miss Bernadette Arnold, pianist, both of East Liverpool. Both dancers were also in Colonial costume.

"George Washington" was discussed by T. T. Jones, of East Liverpool.

Members in costume posed for a picture during an intermission in the program.

Mrs. Robert Burlingame, of East Liverpool, chairman of the program committee, presided.

Tea was served. Mesdames Robert Bruce Curby and Mrs. William Wilson and Miss Frances Soule, of East Liverpool, poured. They formed a serving committee of which Mrs. F. F. Davis, of East Liverpool, was chairman.

Miss Esther Frances Swift, of Wellsville, in juvenile costume, rendered a piano solo. Other piano solos were given by Mrs. R. I. Farmer, of Wellsville and Miss Dorothy Bennett, of East Liverpool. A reading was given by Mrs. J. A. Dimerling, of East Liverpool.

The chapter, named for Bethia Southwick, a forbear of Mrs. Lones and Mrs. Southwick, of Wellsville, who made coffee for American soldiers during a Revolutionary battle, is the only one in Columbiana county and the youngest in the United States.

Proceeds of the affair will go towards the purchase of a $150 chair in the new Continental Memorial hall now being erected by the national body in Washington, D. C. It will include a large auditorium. The present structure of the D. A. R. in the capital will be turned into an office building.

The local contingent recently sent a large box of yarn to Ellis island for utilization in knitting by immigrants waiting admission into the country.

The chapter is also engaged in finding lost graves of Revolutionary soldiers in Columbiana county. One has already been discovered in Clarkson and another near the Children's home at Yellow Creek.

The chapter organized less than a year has had a rapid growth.

New Regulations In Distribution of Sacramental Wine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—New regulations governing the distribution of sacramental wine were drafted today by Gen. Lincoln C. Andrews and Chester P. Mills, prohibition administrator for New York.

Mills said they were designed to stop leakage and diversion in bootleg channels.

Last year more than 4,000,000 gallons of wine were withdrawn in New York, and there was considerable diversion.

Chosen by Coolidge

Ezra J. Brainerd, Jr., of Muskogee, Okla., has been appointed to succeed Frederick I. Cox of New Jersey as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Mr. Brainerd is the second man to be nominated for the position, Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania, former ambassador to Spain and Japan, having been turned down by the senate for confirmation after his name was sent to that body by President Coolidge. Brainerd is 49, having been born in 1878 in Vermont. He was educated at Middleboro college and Colgate university. He also studied law at the University of Michigan. For the last several years he has been practicing law in Muskogee and is vice president of a bank in that city.

REVIVAL MEET TO END SUNDAY

Revival services, which have been in progress in the First Church of Christ for two weeks, will close next Sunday night.

Last night, Rev. Clarence Hanna, Cleveland evangelist rendered a solo, "Be Ready for the Judgment."

Tonight, Rev. Mr. Johnson's sermon subject will be "Shall We All Stand Before God in a Final Day of Judgment?" Special music will be featured.

Halterman Says His Brother Was Shot During Struggle

WASHINGTON COURTHOUSE, O., Feb. 23.—Leo Halterman shot his half-brother, Charles, on the latter's farm last month, accidentally, during a struggle over possession of a shot gun, he told a jury which is trying him for murder here today, testifying in his own defense.

On cross-examination by the county prosecutor, Halterman said that Charles' wife, attracted by the gunshot, came from the house and attacked him with a hatchet, and that he beat her to death in "self-defense."

Rebuttal witnesses were to follow Leo Halterman on the stand, and it was not expected the case will reach the jury before late Thursday, at the earliest.

Findlay Man, 104, Born in Columbiana, Oldest War Vet

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 23.—Sylvester W. Walters, said to be the oldest living Civil war veteran in Ohio celebrated his 104th birthday here today.

He was born in Columbiana county, and during the war, was wounded in the head. He has worn a silver plate in his skull ever since, as a result.

Walters has never worn glasses, and retains his normal faculties to a remarkable degree. He takes long walks daily for exercise, and he is a liberal user of tobacco.

NAZARENE MEET CLOSES HERE

Next Convention of Young People at Monongahela, Pa.

Monongahela, Pa., was selected as the place for the next convention at the closing session yesterday, of the semi-annual meeting of the Young People's societies of the Nazarene churches in the First church, St. Clair and Lincoln avenues. The next meeting will be held on May 30, Decoration Day.

Rev. G. Howard Rowe, New Castle, president of the association, preached at last night's service. Others who took part in the convention, were Rev. H. H. Davis, Kenmore; Rev. Harry Kirkpatrick, Kent; Rev. Ralph Schurman, California, Pa., Rev. and Mrs. John Tompkins, Salem; District Superintendent and Mrs. J. H. Sloan, of this city; R. G. Hampe, Cleveland; district vice-president; Rev. J. B. Schlosser, Lisbon; Rev. F. F. Frese, Newell and Rev. B. H. Pocock, Chester.

Visiting delegates of young people from Cleveland, Ashtabula, Kenmore, Kent, Lisbon, Springfield Center, Canton and Salem, O., and Tarantum, Sagertown and California, Pa., attended the meeting.

Twenty-five young people accepted the invitation at the close of last night's service. About 350 delegates attended the convention.

Boulder Dam Bill Fate Uncertain as Filibuster Goes on

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The fate of the Boulder dam development project teetered dramatically and uncertainly in congress today.

While a filibuster creaked on in the senate, having now lasted 24 hours. The house rules committee yielded to pressure from friends of the measure and reported a special rule this morning which allowed the bill to be taken up there. Six hours were allotted for general debate.

Sleepy-eyed senators napped on the floor this forenoon while the filibuster there kept grinding. Senator Phipps (R.) of Colorado, began to speak at 8:45 after Ashurst and Cameron, both of Arizona, had held the floor throughout the night.

Games With Youngstown Chaney And Salem On High Card

Tilt With Springer Outfit On Saturday Week's Big Feature

Steel City Five, Defeated by Locals in Early Season Game Here, Also Expected to Provide Tough Scrap on Friday.

After hanging up five consecutive victories in the past few weeks, their victims including Martins Ferry, Dover, Steubenville, Wellsville and East Palestine, Coach Lorah's high school passers will take on a pair of tough engagements this week-end, the Saturday night clash with Salem here being carded as the headline event of the fag end of the campaign.

The Blue and White will go to Youngstown Friday night for a return joust with Chaney High, whom they defeated here easily in an early season engagement.

But Chaney will be battling Friday night on its own court and have improved considerably since their appearance here.

They gave the great Sharon high school team a hard battle and lost to Youngstown Rayen by only one point in a recent engagement. So it appears as though the locals will have a tough one on their hands.

Salem, after losing to Youngstown South a couple of weeks ago, regained their old form Saturday night and knocked off Akron Central, the team that handed the locals their worst drubbing of the year. The game was played at Salem and the final tally was 42-24.

Salem defeated East Liverpool in a contest early in the year at Salem.

As evidenced by their record of recent weeks, the locals also are traveling at a fast clip and, in the opinion of not a few, may be able to spring the unexpected and take Springer's lads over.

Nominating CHARLES "CHUCK" CORGAN.

BECAUSE he has earned another trial in the majors.

Because his work with Jersey City in the International league last season won him a return trip to the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Because, as a shortstop, he will have to fight it out with Johnny Butler for a place as a regular—unless Manager Robinson uses him elsewhere. And the Dodgers paid seven ball players for Johnny.

Because he broke into the game at the University of Arkansas and won nationwide mention as a footba" player there.

Because he showed the folks around Enid, Okla., and Witchita, Kan., how the game should be played before being tried out by the Dodgers a year ago.

And because his nickname, "Chuck" indicates that he's probably a handy man to chuck in any place in the infield.

Dodges Wrestling Career; Says Game's Not on The Square

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 22.—Wrestling, as done by professionals is, too crooked to offer any inducement to Ralph Hammond, National Intercollegiate champion, according to the youthful wrestler in an interview here.

As a boy, Hammond was rather handicapped in his athletic endeavors, his mother considering he was too delicate a lad to indulge in "rough sports," he said.

When he got away from the maternal apron-string on entering college, however, Hammond decided to forget a little about home advice and the result was gratifying for he made a sensational success in track work and wrestling.

Out of the Pacific coast last year, Hammond was adjudged the best material for the Olympics next year, and he has a place on the team practically cinched. He has thrown every college contender, at his weight, in the United States.

Wrestling as a career, however, has no attractions for the Hugo, Okla., boy as he consideres it isn't "on the square."

Change In Open Golf Dates Will Send U.S. Stars Abroad

LONDON, Feb. 14 — British golfers are relieved and glad that the dates for the American and Open Championships have been changed so that the dates will not clash.

It is hoped that this will mean not only that there will be a big influx of American golfers to St. Andrews, but that the term of British professionals will make the proposed journey to the United States and play in the American Open.

It will also mean that a number of the most important tournaments in Britain—which usually take place after the Open—will be put forward, so that the leading British players will be able to get plenty of first-class practice before the big event.

One drawback to the Open being played at St. Andrews is that it is an open course and no entrance fee can be charged, which makes the risk of an over-large gallery an important one. On the other hand, most of the St. Andrews spectators are keen golfers and likely to obey the stewards without question. In any event it is to be hoped that there will not be the slightest repetition of the scenes at Prestwick of two years ago.

BIG TEN RACE KNOTTED AGAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 23. — From one deadlock into another appears to be the order for Big Ten university teams battling for the basketball supremacy of the Western Conference. Today finds Michigan and Wisconsin tied for first place, each with six games won and two lost.

This situation resulted from a trio of games played last night. The most surprising upset was the defeat of Indiana, on the Hoosiers' own floor, by Ohio State. The score was 27 to 16. The Buckeyes had been rated a setup for the fast stepping Hoosiers. Until this defeat, Indiana was leading the field, holding a half game advantage over Michigan, Wisconsin, Purdue and Iowa, all tied for second place.

Michigan forged to the front once more by swamping Chicago, 51 to 25. The game was played at Ann Arbor. Wisconsin broke its second place tie with Iowa by trimming the Hawks, 24 to 21. The Badgers had the advantage by playing on their home floor.

ORANGE QUINT DOWNS LISBON

Win by 41-21 Decision; Girls' Team is Defeated.

UNDER a bombardment of field goals in which every member of the regulars took part, led by Center Calhoun, Wellsville high passers defeated Lisbon, 41 to 21, last night on the county seat court.

The Wellsville girls lost a 41 to 29 decision in the preliminary.

Klinck's five had easy sailing all the way, rushing up a score of 22 to 10 at the half. After increasing the count in the third period the Orange and Black regulars were replaced by the second string squad.

Calhoun and Dickey were the chief point getters, the former with five field goals and the latter with four and two fouls. Guard Buckley came up the court to drop in a quartet of double deckers, also.

The Wellsville girls were beaten in the final quarter. They had played the Lisbon lassies to a 26-23 count for three periods and then Guard Daugherty went out on fouls.

35 Tiger Players On Way To Texas

Training Schedule Calls for 33 Exhibition Games.

DETROIT, Feb. 22.— Thirty-five players, thirteen of them either purchased, drafted or recalled, have been ordered to report to George Moriarty, new manager of the Detroit Tigers at San Antonio, Texas, for spring training.

The thirteen include: Purchased—Bernard De Viveiros, shortstop from Beaumont, Tex., Donald Hankins, pitcher, Newark, International League; Rudolph Kneisch, pitcher, Shamokin, Pa.; Martin J. McManus, infielder, St. Louis Browns; George H. Redfern, shortstop, Nashville, Southern Association; Charles E. Sullivan, pitcher, Fort Worth, Tex.; Jas. H. Walkup, pitcher, Fort Worth; Mervin J. Shea, catcher, Sacramento, Pacific Coast League.

Drafted—Jesse H. Doyle, pitcher, Toronto International League; H. T. Gwens, pitcher, San Antonio.

Recalled—Owen T. Carroll, Toronto; Arthur W. Ruble, Nashville; Frank M. Watt, pitcher.

Pitchers and catchers are ordered to report February 27, and the remaining members of the club March 6. The Tigers return to Texas for training after an absence of some years, during which time they trained at Augusta, Ga., Ty Cobb's home city.

A training season schedule of 33 exhibition games, starting with a five-gave series with San Antonio March 12. The only major league club to be played will be Pittsburgh at San Antonio, March 30 and 31.

ROSELAWNS WIN FROM TURK NASH

Although they were outrolled as far as total pins were concerned, the Roselawns managed to win two matches out of three from Turk-Nash last night at the Liberty. Oliver's score of 201 in the first game gave the Motors the edge in the grand total.

LEAGUE CONTEST IS POSTPONED

County floor league contest between Salem and Salineville, scheduled last night at Salineville, was postponed by the Salineville club. The game probably will be played off the latter part of this week or next week.

The big game of the last half of the week will bring the Damascus Quakers to East Liverpool Thursday night.

WEBBER DEEATS SMALL, 25 TO 5

Webber defeated Small, 25 to 5, in last night's three cushion billiard match at the Academy.

Two matches are billed tonight: Walker and Bergner and Webb and Clancy.

TWO CONTESTS AT AMERICAN

A double bill is scheduled for the American pocket billiard tourney competitors tonight. Nig Johnson will meet Lester Herbert and Charles Price will play C. Moore.

CHESTER LOSES AT CUMBERLAND

Foul Shots Aid Hancock County Seat Five.

FORCED to play the greater part of the second half without the services of three regular players who were sent to the sidelines on personal fouls, Ray Wilde's Chester high school team took a 20 to 12 "beating" last night at New Cumberland.

One guard, one center and one forward were accused of having committed four personal fouls each, and consequently, were benched. The trio consisted of Miller, Jeffrey and Hindes. Taking these three out of the lineup left a few gaps that practically ruined Chester's chances.

Wilde's squad started off in great style, running up a score of 9 to 3 on the county seaters and apparently were headed for victory.

Then the referee began to call fouls. Nine were checked against Chester in a row and the score shortly was tied. With the assistance of field goals by Forward Long, the New Cumberland quint went out to win.

The girls lost a 23 to 12 decision in the preliminary, fighting an uphill battle 'til the way.

COAST EXPECTS MORE BIG CLUBS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22.—With the Cubs and the Pirates already recognized as regular customers, and the Giants in prospect for 1928, California baseball circles buzzed today in anticipation of a future date when other big league clubs will trek to the west coast for spring baseball training.

Officials of the San Francisco club, it was learned, have agreed to select three tentative sites for the Giants' camp next year. John McGraw will then make the final selection.

The Chicago Cubs go regularly to Catalina Island, starting point of George Young's swim and the Pittsburgh Pirates adhere to Paso Robles.

Fight Results

AT NEW YORK—Bruce Flowers, of New Rochelle, N. Y., outpointed Charley Rosen, of New York, ten rounds. Danny Terris, New York, won decision over Jimmy Connolly, of Boston, six rounds. Eddie Roberts, of New York, knocked out Frankie Sampor, of New York, in the fourth round.

AT ALBANY, N. Y.—Jack Warren, of Chicago, won decision over Jack Herman, of Yonkers, N. Y., 12 rounds.

AT SAN FRANCISCO—Jimmy McLarnin, of Vancouver, and Tommy Cello, of San Francisco, drew, 10 rounds.

NEW INFIELDS FOR CUBS-SOX

Youngsters Will Succeed Veterans on Both Clubs.

By Copeland C. Burg.

CHICAGO, Feb. 23.—Those Chicago-beloved Cubs and White Sox will be in uniform Monday.

The Bruins leave here tomorrow for spring training camp at Catalina island off the Southern California coast and the Stockings hop off Saturday for headquarters at Shreveport, La.

Twenty-eight men will make the trip south with Manager Ray Schalk and thirty Cubs will join Owner William Wrigley and Manager Joe McCarthy in the land of the flying fish.

Although a continent separates the magnolia-hung camp of the Sox and the orange scented practice ground of the Bruins the problems of McCarthy and Schalk are identical—each needs a new infield.

Practically unchanged 1926 outfields and pitching and catching staffs will be used by the Chicago teams this season and pennant hopes of both hinge around re-vamped infields.

On Elwood English, Toledo's "boy wonder" of the American association, McCarthy is hitching his star.

Placing English at shortstop with the veteran Cooney at second, Adams at third and Grimm at first will probably be the Irish pilot's initial move in Californ'.

Aaron Ward, obtained in a trade from the Yankees, is heralded as the best bet of Schalk in his infield shakeup and the former New Yorker is figured certain to get first try at second base—for years the berth of Eddie Collins, who wears a Philadelphia Athletics' uniform this year.

With Ward—a veteran—will be a youngster battling for a glint from Schalk's payroll eye. He is Moe Berg of Newark, N. J., who made the old Orange and Black wave mightily at Princeton. Berg will oppose Roger Peckinpaugh, the somewhat venerable Washingtonian and "Honey Boy" Hunnefield, a Sox sensation last season, either at shortstop or second base, depending on whether or not Ward clinks in Collins' shoes.

Willie Kamm, the great San Franciscan, has no serious competition at third.

At first base Schalk intends to watch a fight between Early Sheely, giant Californian, and John Clancey, Illinois youth, who looked good the latter part of last year after seasoning in the Ozark bushes around Little Rock, Ark.

"The Russian lady—ah how she delights in the puff of a fragrant cigarette! As a Russian I have tried them all—the cigarettes of Cairo, Paris, London, Madrid—but here in my adopted country, America, I have found my favorite cigarette 'The Lucky Strike.' In addition to its lovely fragrance and wonderful flavor it has no bad effect upon my voice—so even when I go abroad I carry with me my little trunk of Luckies—and enjoy a puff from America."

SPORTS DONE BROWN

CONNIE MACK has always been known as a conservative person. He labored for years in a vain effort to rebuild his ball club without laying out huge sums of money for much touted stars. His spectacular bid of $100,000 for Lefty Groves, Baltimore Oriole pitcher, a couple of years ago flabbergasted the scribes and fans.

* * *

But Mack apparently decided over the 1926 season that he would have to unlock the club strong box and go into the market for players if he wanted to lift his team out of the almost class.

For here is what he has done to date.

Paid $125,000 for Joe Boley and Pete Branom, infielders.

Signed Ty Cobb at a salary of $60,000 a year.

Signed Eddie Collins to a $20,000 contract.

Signed Zack Wheat at a salary and a bonus totalling $18,500.

Paid another $20,000 for other minor league material.

* * *

In other words, he has gone "on the nut" for approximately $250,000 within the space of a few weeks in the hope of landing a pennant in 1927.

* * *

All of which shows that Connie can step with the other bank roll boys when he feels the occasion demands it. Which, after all, marks the red blooded gentleman.

* * *

McGraw Planned Long Ago.

Despite the oft repeated rumors that Eddie Roush was to be traded to the New York Giants the deal itself, pulled off the other day, took even the most rabid Giant followers by surprise. And the use of George Kelly in the deal rather startled the fans, although Kelly had been mentioned as trading material.

Now, as a matter of fact, the probabilities are McGraw had the deal in mind as long ago as last season. At least he decided that long ago to use Kelly as trading material. It is apparent now that he regained the services of Jack Bentley, pitcher, first baseman, from the Phillies for that reason.

His announced intention to use Bentley as a pitcher was partly a blind, to cover up any trading intentions. As a matter of fact—it would seem now — McGraw made sure of Bentley's services to fortify himself at first base in case anything happened to Bill Terry, now destined to start the campaign there in Kelly's place.

Dempsey To Wait For Warm Weather

Intimates Rain at Philly Made Him "All Wet."

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 22. — If Jack Dempsey fights again, and the ex-heavyweight champion is still toying with the idea, he will want his weather warm.

During a recent trip to San Francisco, Dempsey intimated that the rain at Philadelphia during his title bout with Gene Tunney made him feel "all wet" in more ways than one.

Mrs. Dempsey explained that Jack is extremely antipathetic toward rain and that he does his best fighting when the weather is very hot.

The bouts with Willard, Carpentier, Gibbons, and others were fought during high temperatures, it was pointed out.

And here's another reason for Dempsey's loss of the title—all Williams, athletic dietician, declared he detected Dempsey eating grapes less than a week before the title bout.

"Dempsey lost the fight on his diet," Williams explained, "as grapes are very injurious to the system. They turn to alcohol during metabolism. Consequently, Dempsey's condition was not what it should have been."

"Connie Mack tells me he figures Cobb'll just about Ty the flag to the mast."

Plan to Disfranchise British Electors Who Accept Public Funds

LONDON.—The British cabinet has instructed the ministry of health to prepare a bill to disenfranchise electors who are in the receipt of relief from public funds.

Behind this statement lies a great problem. It is the result of nearly two million people added to the number who were receiving municipal and state assistance in 1914. And this is out of a population of 36,000,000.

In 1914, there were 450,000 men, women and children—receiving what is known as "outdoor relief." During the coal strike of 1921 it rose to 1,100,000. During the recent coal strike it became 2,250,000.

The actual loss of public money during the last six months. Boards of guardians—small local bodies to relieve distress—have raised $27,000,000 in loans. Doncaster, the local assessment tax for poor relief has been raised from 16 cents to one dollar in the poung sterling. In Newcastle the amount has been raised by 80 cents.

MEDICS HUNT NEW CURES IN CANCER FIGHT

Fear of Disease is Greater Danger Than Trouble Itself.

EXPERT'S VIEW

Royal College Surgeon Discusses Treatment in Lecture.

LONDON.—Cancer is definitely on the increase, but it can be cured There is only one disease worse than cancer, and that is the fear of cancer. Knowledge will bring freedom from that fear.

With these remarks Sir Berkeley Moynihan, President of the Royal College of Surgeons, and one of England's greatest cancer experts, opened the first of a series of public lectures on the fundamental causes and treatment of cancer.

The series are noteworthy for the fact that this is the first time in the history of the English medical profession that the public has been taken into its confidence.

"If the law of averages holds good," continued Sir Berkeley, "one hundred people in this hall tonight will die of cancer," a statement which caused little nervous ripples of laughter to run around the hall.

"The truth is," continued Sir Berkeley, "that in this country alone one person of every seven over the age of 30 dies of cancer; fifty thousand people die yearly in England and Wales, and it has been estimated that 500,000 lives are annual lost in the civilized countries of the world from this disease.

"Cancerous bones, dating from 3,500 years before Christ, have been taken from tombs near the Pyramids; cancer was described more than twenty centuries ago by Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, and it has never since ceased taking its daily toll of lives. It is the Captain of the Men of Death, the King of Terror to the world.

"If the medical profession can help the public to learn that it is not cancer, but ignorance with regard to cancer, that is in part responsible for their horror of it; and if we can assure them that cancer, under certain conditions, is capable of complete removal, shall we not be able to diminish or even banish fear?

"Cancer mortality is increasing despite the fact that more people than ever are being cured of the disease. It may surprise many to hear that cancer can be cured; that the patient can be relieved forever from the disease. It is true.

"The operations practiced today are more frequent, of greater extent, of greater safety, and are attended by a larger measure of permanent relief from the disease than was the case 20 years ago.

"Unhappily, it is not infrequent for delay to be encouraged by the wasteful trial of other methods. The 'cancer cure' is still a curse in the land, and the most pathetic credulity as to his claims is shown by people who should know better.

"It is said that if we 'talk cancer' we shall make people 'think cancer. We hope that is true, for cancer is an unforgiving enemy, and once he has settled on his victim he never for one minute ceases to grow. The sooner you confront your foe the better for you and the worse for him.

"Ignorance is a part of fear, but fear does not contribute to the incidence of cancer. Fear should be the fear of delay, the fear lest a simple disease become cancerous.

What's What in Washington

BY CHARLES R STEWART

CUBAN AMBASSADOR HOPEFUL OF TARIFF WALL'S DOWNFALL

By Charles P. Stewart.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23. — Dr. Orestes Ferrara, Cuban ambassador in Washington, was discussing his country's plans for the 25th anniversary of its independence, May 20.

ORESTES FERRARA

He dwelt upon Cuba's debt of gratitude to the United States and the warmth of the friendship between the two peoples.

"And what," I asked, "is your chief hope for their joint future?"

"The overthrow of every tariff wall between them," answered the ambassador—"as a first step toward the leveling of all tariff walls between all the republics of all the Americas."

A REAL Pan American Union!" cried the doctor enthusiastically.

"Such a treaty between the United States and Cuba," he continued, "would cost you, in this country, just one and only one thing—

"Perhaps as much as three-quarters of your investment of about $200,000,000 in domestic sugar production.

"But your sugar would cost you less by $100,000,000 yearly.

"Within two years your loss would have been wiped out completely."

"But how about the loss of $165,000,000 to the sugar investors who actually lost it?" I suggested. "They certainly couldn't eat sugar enough in two years to save $165,000,000 on it."

"Well, you could easly afford to idemnify them," replied the doctor, "out of the saving to the rest of your public."

DR. FERRARA'S program really does have something fascinating about it to those he has suggested it to. I heard it mentioned with interest several times in recent weeks and the doctor hasn't been here long. Since he come he has been doing his missionary work rapidly.

Nobdy can fail to see that the kind of Pan American Union he proposes would give a wonderful fillip to trading among the Americas.

The Latin Americans naturally turn much more readily, as buyers to Europe than to the United States, partly because they themselves are mostly of very recent European origin, partly because Europeans were first in the Latin American field, partly because they sell many things more cheaply than the United States and partly because they understand Latin America and give correspondingly better satisfaction.

All this has long placed North American trade at a disadvantage in the southern republics.

But the Ferrara plan would put the shoe on the other foot in short order.

THERE would be obstacles to overcome.

Cuban sugar, as Dr. Ferrara points out, would be one. Argentine meat and wheat might be others.

For the greater part, however, Latin America produces raw products which the United States couldn't if it tried—like coffee, rubber, tropical woods, cocoa beans and quebracho extract—but can consume to excellent advantage.

On the other hand, the southern countries are not naturally adapted to the industries and have a tremendous capacity—which will increase as their populations increase— for absorbing manufactured articles.

The northern and southern continents really seem to have been designed by nature—especially as the northern one becomes more and more highly industrialized—to swap commodities with one another.

So Dr. Ferrara's vision of the future gives considerable promise of attracting a great deal of attention before long and perhaps favor, finally—through hardly with United States sugar interests.

SOUTHERN KLAN CHIEF RESIGNS

Organization Practically Dissolved in North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 23.—The Raleigh "News and Observer" says today that Judge Henry A. Grady, for four years grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan for North Carolina, has resigned from the klan because of alleged attempted coercion to "obtain by subterfuge" the passage of what he regarded as iniquitous legislation in the North Carolina General assembly.

On the heels of the resignation came the practical dissolution of the entire organization within the state when 66 of the 86 chapters surrendered their charters.

A letter said to have been written by Judge Grady to Dr. Hiram W. Evans is quoted by the "News and Observer" as follows:

"It is a far cry from this obligation (the oath) which you and all other klansmen have taken to the silly, unseemly and unconstitutional measures which you and your advisers are attempting to foist upon the people of a liberty loving state."

Grady, who is a judge of the North Carolina superior court, now is holding court sessions at Clinton, N. C. He said today that he had quit the Klan because Evans had "made a mess of things."

MISSION MEETS DRAW LARGELY

Evangelist John Trager, of Philadelphia, Pa., who is conducting revival services in the Glendale mission, back of Newell, preached last night on the subject, "Why We Don't Have More Genuine Revivals." He was to have delivered the sermon Monday night but owing to illness he was unable to be present.

The meetings, which will continue for the remainder of the week, are growing in interest and being well attended despite the inclement weather. Special music is being featured.

Convention Closes.

Members of the Young People's society of the Nazarene church were in attendance last night at the closing session of the convention held in the First Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

Prayer Services Tonight.

Prayer services will be held tonight at the usual hour in the churches here in charge of the respective pastors.

Board Members Meet.

Regular meeting of the Grant district board of education was held last night in the Newell school building. Routine matters were considered.

Return from Pittsburgh.

Bernice Mylar, Dorothy Barnes, Thelma Wilson, Catherine Barnes, Esther Auwaerter and Mrs. Taner Calhoun have returned home from Pittsburgh, where they were called by the death of Alice Shirmer, former resident of Newell.

President of Austria In Patriotic Movie Of His Dairy Farm

VIENNA.—The President of Austria, Dr. Hainisch, will become a movie actor to the extent of allowing himself and his model dairy farm to be filmed for propaganda in the interests of national sanitation.

The film, "The Way to Power and Beauty," is being made by the government to encourage better sanitation in the country, in which respect Austria is several years behind England and America.

Dr. Hainisch owns and operates a large dairy farm which is modeled after the up-to-date farms of America and Canada.

Denishawn Dancers Appear At Ceramic Monday Night

Reservations for Civic Music Association Attraction Will be Made on Friday.

Reservations for the Denishawn dancers, featuring Miss Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn and a company of artists, who will appear at the Ceramic theatre next Monday in the third and final attraction of the Civic Music association course, will be made at the theatre box office starting at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, founders of the American school of the dance, which bears their names, "Denishawn," have not only in the 10 years of the life of the school, trained the very fine group of young artists who travel with them, but also many others who are appearing before American audiences.

The personnel of the Denishawn company is headed by Doris Humphrey, who has a following of her own in many merican cities. Miss Humphrey is not only a fine artist and a beautiful dancer, but she has decided creative ability, and each year the programs presented by Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn carry at least one of her dance compositions. Miss Humphrey has met with great success throughout the Orient and her critics have predicted a brilliant career for her.

Miss Humphrey will be featured in a fetching Burmese ballet, costumes, properties, and settings having been purchased in Rangoon during the engagement in that city.

Charles Weidman, whose delightful characterizations have won admirers for him throughout the entire states, will be with the company again this season. He is also to be featured in a stunning Singalese devil-dance, with masks and costumes from Kandy, Ceylon, which is famous for its expert performers of the devil-dance.

Anne Douglas, whose dainty Oriental type is so Chinese, will be featured in a Chinese ballet.

Geordie Graham and Ernestine Day, who have been with the company for the past four season, and will be remembered for their work in "Xochitl" and "Feather of the Dawn," will be seen in new and interesting ballets.

George Steares, Pauline Lawrence, Edith James and Jane Sherman, who have been with the Denishawn company on tour throughout the Orient, will contine as members of the company on the 1927 tour.

There will be two new members, Nina Garrett and Edward McLean, both of them from the Denishawn school, and talented dancers. Miss Garrett has been appearing for the last five years on the Pacific coast in Denishawn productions. Mr. McLean has been for some time a student of the school in New York.

The Denishawn company have recruited members from California, Colorado, Washington, New York, Illinois, Arizona and Nebraska.

Miss St. Denis is a native of New Jersey and Mr. Shawn of Missouri.

Clifford Vaughn, their very able pianist-conductor, who has been with the company during the Oriental tour, will continue to direct during the 1927 season. Mr. Vaughn has proved himself valuable to Miss St. Denis and Mr. Shawn, not only as a pianist and conductor, but as a composer, and the program of 1927 will present many of his compositions, which are built upon native themes and melodies, orchestrated and arranged to meet the requirements of the dances.

Miss St. Denis and Shawn carry with them a small orchestra, their costumer and wardrobe assistants.

Walter Burke, who has for the past three years been the company manager, will take up his duties again in this capacity for 1927, and J. Francis Smith, who has for several seasons advanced the tour, will again attend to the details of appearances.

They will carry with them their usual stage crew, the entire company numbering 25, and with practically no break in their organization during the last four years, can assure their audiences of the very fine support which their company will give them.

ADMITS ENGAGEMENT TO HEIR

Miss Gussie Blum, member of a team of dancers, admitted between her first and second turns at a Chicago theatre that she's engaged to Vincent J. Lamb, young Denver stock broker and heir to millions. She is shown in the photo making up for a rag doll dance.

WHEN YOUR SKIN IS SALLOW AND DULL

Nature intended that every skin should be attractive. From babyhood to old age she strives to make the outward appearance beautiful.

But Nature cannot do the impossible. So long as the skin gets rich red blood it will be attractive. When that blood carries a lot of heavy foreign matter the skin gets greasy, then sallow, then rough and dry.

Where does this skin poison come from? Why, whenever congestion occurs in the mucous membrane, which lines the body, the whole system is affected. That is what catarrh does for you.

Could Be Beautiful

Many a woman would be beautiful if she would drive catarrh from her system. Catarrh checks digestion, numbs the liver, prevents the kidneys from throwing off the poisonous matter. Constipation, foul breath, sour stomach,—all these things are fatal to beauty. When catarrh is their underlying cause—as it is in most cases—recovery of health and beauty is only possible when that catarrh is gone.

We have literally thousands of letters from grateful men and women who tell us how they have taken ten years off their age with World's Tonic, how this wonderful medicine has cleared up the whole system, restoring spring to the step, brightness to the eyes and beauty to the skin. They will convince anyone of these two facts.

Sold by Carnahan's; also Brannon, Wellsville, and all other reliable druggists. (204.)

Georgia Jurist Hits "Invisible Empire" In Flogging Probe

LYONS, Ga., Feb. 23.—Declaring "there is no place among white men for invisible empires," Superior Court Judge R. N. Hardman yesterday urged the Toombs county grand jury to investigate thoroughly the flogging of Wimberly E. Brown, an attorney.

"The whipping post was abolished by the Anglo-Saxon race and I tell you it will not be re-established in Georgia," he said in his charge. "I never liked the words 'imperial' and 'empire' as applied to government, and God knows there is no place among white men for invisible empires.

"Are there men in Toombs county who, with covered faces, not under oath can do more righteously or justly than you? You can't indict without evidence, yet men can cover their faces, sit in Altamaha Swamp and indict and do more than you have a right to do."

Brown was flogged last Christmas eve, shortly after he had aided in the prosecution of several men charged with being members of a hooded band which killed Willie Wilson.

When You Catch Cold Rub On Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and works right away. It may prevent a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet —colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

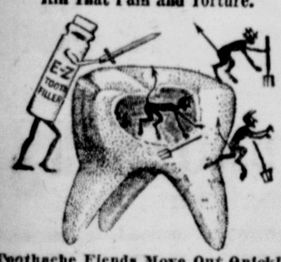
Ouch! Ouch! Oh, That Toothache!

Don't Suffer. E-Z Tooth Filler Will Kill That Pain and Torture.



Toothache Fiends Move Out Quickly

Toothache stands no more chance of lasting after "E-Z Tooth Filler" is applied in the cavity than a chunk of ice has of lasting on a hot stove. It melts away just as the ice does, and just as quick.

Best of all, though, it's more than a mere temporary relief. When put in the cavity, it seals it air-tight and hardens quickly. The ache stops and stays stopped, while "E-Z" acts as a regular filling until you get ready to go to a dentist for a permanent job.

It is not merely a temporary relief, either, but a real filling for the tooth which will last for weeks or months. Anyone can use "E-Z (easy) Tooth Filler." It takes but a moment and costs only 25c.

"E-Z Tooth Filler" is for sale at your druggist's at 25c a bottle, or sent direct upon receipt of price by the Chas. A. Bertram Drug Co., 3758 N. Albany Ave., Chicago.

For sale and recommended in East Liverpool by all druggists.

U. S. INTERESTS IN TURKEY FEAR TREATY LAPSES

Feeling of Resentment Toward Americans is Growing.

Admiral Bristol Visits Angora to Discuss Question.

WASHINGTON. — The future of American interests in Turkey hangs in the balance, it is indicated by private dispatches received here from Angora and Constantinople. The modus vivendi or temporary commercial treaty, under which the United States had been treating with Turkey in the absence of ratification of the Lausanne pact, expires on February 20, and it is not at all certain that Angora will consent to a renewal of this arrangement.

Althought the Turkish government itself is disposed to be friendly toward the United States, there has developed a feeling of resentment against the Americans among the Turkish people and business men becauseof the Senate's recent refusal to ratify the Lausanne treaty. Thus, while the government is probably inclined to extend the modus vivendi pending future action by the United States senate, it may be influenced to take an opposite course because of an adverse public opinion.

Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, the American high commissioner, is now in Angoria, presumably seeking an extension. The state department, however, has refused to discuss for publication in the instructions given him and declined, after the senate rejection of the treaty, to make known its official attitude on the Turkish question. Secretary Kellogg explained that it would be an act of discourtesy toward Angoria if his views were placed before the American public before being present to the Turks.

Despite this cautiousness, it is known that this government is not overly optimistic as to the probable outcome of the Bristol negotiations. One official declared that virtually the only American hope rests upon the commissioner's ability to convince Turkey that notwithstanding the senate's action there exists in this country a preponderant sentiment in favor of the treaty. In other words, all depends upon the quality and forcefulness of Bristol's diplomacy.

American business interests will be most seriously affected by discontinuance of the present commercial arrangement. In January, 1926, the Angoria government enacted a law increasing the impost duties on goods shipped into Turkey from countries with which no commercial treaties had been concluded and ratified. Application of this law to American companies was suspended by the modus vivendi, which has been twice extended by the Turks, and which will expire in February if not again extended.

Unless a new arrangement is made before then American shippers will automatically be subjected to discriminatory tariff rates higher in some cases by 60 per cent and in others by 30 per cent the rates applied to the products of America's competitors. Such action, in the opinion of international trade experts, would virtually wipe out America's growing trade with Turkey, which in the last two years has shown indications of taking rank with that of Italy and England, who today are Turkey's best customers.

Whether the Angora government will go so far as to close the American schools, is, of course, problematical, although its right to do so is unquestioned. Leading American educators both here and in Turkey hope, however, that the Turks will continue their policy of lending moral support to these educational institutions. In this connection it has been pointed out by Albert W. Staub, American director of Near East colleges that "we have never been obliged by the Turks to close our doors for a single day on account of wars or political disturbances."

The American schools, which have played a leading part in Turkey's educational life, include Robert and Constantinople colleges in Constantinople. International colleges in Smyrna and Euphrates college at Harpoot, East Turkey.

This Great Healing Oil Must Banish Eczema and Skin Troubles

Or Your Money Back. That's the Plan on Which Emerald Oil Is Sold by Carnahan's, Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway and All Good Druggists.

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simple clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Carnahan's and Herche's Drug Store and J. D. Holloway or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Don't expect a single bottle to do it all at once but (one bottle) we know with show you beyond all question that you have at last discovered one way to restore your skin to perfect health.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

CHAPTER FORTY-SEVEN.

There was a moment of stupefied silence, when as I struggled to a sitting posture, scattering plaster, loose sheets of paper and dust in every direction, a chorus of exclamations in various tongues broke out around the table. The shock of my fall had somewhat confused me, but my confusion was nothing to that of the various gentlemen into whose secret deliberations I had so abruptly descended. Before they had recovered their wits, I heard the voice of Mr. Center, even and composed as ever:

"Mr. Quexter, your curiosity take strange method."

"Who is this man?" cried some one.

"He is my great friend," said the Center. "I never lose him again."

By this time I had scrambled off the table and was making for the door, an action which galvanized the astonished members of the Ring into movement. A hand plucked at my coat as I went, checking me in full flight. I half-turned, trying to tear myself free, when I stumbled and fell heavily to the floor over the foot, encased in a button boot of patent leather, stretched out by the Jew who was replacing the absent Number 14. As I went down I heard him say in accents of alarm above the tumult:

"He muthn't get away, Mihter Thenter."

"Apprehension quite unnecessary," the Center replied. "Much regret, but he dead man very soon."

I was now face downwards on the floor, my discomfiture being completed by an unseen individual of enormous weight who sat heavily down on the small of my back, knocking the breath out of me and completing this process by securing a strangle hold on my throat with his fat, hairy fingers.

I again heard the Center's voice:

"Well done, Number 4. Convenient to tie up unexpected visitor with big silk handkerchief."

Several members of the company proceeded to act on this suggestion. My hands were seized, dragged behind my back and lashed with the handkerchief in question. Then the pressure on my throat and back relaxed, I was dragged up to my knees and thrown backwards into the corner of the room. Over me stood the enterprising man with the big silk handkerchief, evidently Number 4 — a large man, clean-shaven, with a red, hectoring face and a bull neck.

"Is that all right, Mr. Center?" he asked, regarding his handiwork with some pride.

"I think he do now very well," the Center replied.

"Cannot sufficiently excuse sudden descent of so deplorable apparition," he went on to the company at large.

I gazed bewildered around the room upon the mysterious men of the "inner ring" of which so little was known, while the Center affably proceeded with his apology.

"He one of unfortunate patients of Doctor Kuntz. Very violent at times. Evidently escaped. I make inquiries and punish responsibles."

A murmur from the table showed that they understood and accepted his explanation, all except the Jewish secretary of Number 14, who appeared to be in a condition of fear not far removed from absolute panic.

"He muthn't be allowed to give uth away, Mithter Thenter," he insisted. "We rely on you to take the nethethary thteps."

The Center eyed him with, it seemed to me, contempt.

"Deplorable patient will be removed," he replied. "My servants take back patient to convenient Home. Meantime, kindly help clear up unfortunate mess.'

He indicated the table covered with plaster and paper. Over it yawned a gaping hole from which the electric light hung grotesquely, having by a miracle escaped destruction in my fall.

I should perhaps explain that even the loneliest and humblest mountain chalets in Switzerland have electric light, owing to the abundance of water power which makes it cheaper than any other form of illumination.

"Wouldn't it be well to gag the gentleman?" asked a man at the table.

H spoke with the clipped accept of the London suburbs, and I recognized him for a type common enough among successful business men in London.

The Center nodded, and Number 4 approached me again with a bandanna handkerchief hastily handed over by the Jew. In a purely instinctive effort to struggle I found that my feet had been tied as well as my hands, and probably at the same moment. I was, therefore, utterly helpless. The Englishman crammed the handkerchief into my mouth, while the Jew and one of the others picked up the green cloth covering the table by its four corners and carrying it, plaster and all, threw it with one sweep completely over me.

I was now in worse case than ever before, powerless to move, blinded by the cloth, and unable to utter a sound. All my efforts had been in vain, and I was more securely in the toils than ever. This time, I reflected, I had no chance of even the shortest respite. They would watch me day and night if they did not kill me immediately.

The Ring ceased to take interest in me once I was secured and resumed its interrupted discussion. The subject of debate was still the offer of Finckelstein and his expected arrival at the chalet, when he would want an answer to his proposals.

The Center summed up the arguments. He put the points carefully and concisely before the committee in his quaint Japanese English. Here was a man whom, he assured them, they could trust and in a position immediately to put a very large quantity of the two most marketable drugs, cocaine and morphine, into their hands at a price high, but by no means beyond their capacity to pay. The profits from such a deal would be enormous. At this point the little Jew murmured something about five hundred per cent, at least, which would be obtained without any very great risks. The Center proposed that Finckelstein's offer should be accepted, provided the members of the Ring were satisfied with his assurances. The only difficulty lay in devising a safe means of removing the drugs from wherever he had them concealed.

This point was under discussion when there came a knock on the door. The voices were instantly hushed. The Center spoke a single sharp phrase in Japanese, and the answer, slightly muffled, came from without.

"He has come, gentlemen, said the Center. "Mr. Finckelstein is here."

Apparently the Center rose and went to the door himself, for I heard a movement, and when he spoke again his voice came from another part of the room, and I realized that the door was open and he was giving instructions in Japanese to the servant or servants who had brought Finckelstein to the chalet. Then came a further shuffling of feet and the creak of a chair.

The Agony of Rheumatism

"Money Back" Says Mathews Med. Store If the First Bottle Allenrhu Fails To Do You More Good Than Anything You Ever Used.

"It does not matter whether you are disabled with cursed rheumatism or have only occasional twinges." Nine times out of ten Allenrhu will ease the agony, do away with the gnawing pains and help to reduce the swollen joints."

Allenrhu is no laggard; it starts right in at once; and by correcting faulty elimination, searches out the poisons and in two days starts to drive the concentrated impurities that may be the cause of rheumatism, out of the body through the natural channels.

Druggists everywhere guarantee it as above in every instance.

CROWD ATTENDS REVIVAL MEET

Evangelist L. S. Hoover Delivers Sermon in Oakland Church.

Evangelist L. S. Hoover, of Tionesta, Pa., had as his subject last night at the revival services in the Oakland Free Methodist church, "The Acid Test of Christianity." Large crowd attended.

He said in part: "As the jeweler has an acid test to determine which are real jewels, so we must have an acid test for christianity to distinguish between genuine and the false. Paul's method of testing christianity was not to base the test on creed, moral conduct, church relationship, religious education, charitable deeds or ritualistic observances.

"As we cannot imitate the spirit of Christ and can only obtain it by moral regeneration, Paul makes this experience the classic experience of the church in all ages and places the test on whether we have been born again. Christ spirit in relation to the Father was an obedient spirit. Jesus said I do always the things that are pleasing in thy sight. No room here for a sinning religion. We cannot have the spirit of Christ and be a sinner. We go out of the sin business when we get right with God. Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin."

The evangelist will preach tonight on the subject "Naaman's Cure Or Taking the Spots Off a Leper."

Road Work Planned.

Beaver county commissioners are planning an extensive road building program for the coming summer. Number of projects are being considered including several in Ohio township to connect with Midland.

Prayer Meeting Held.

Prayer meeting for young men of the congregation was held last night in the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church in charge of the pastor, Rev. J. Lloyd McQueen.

Mid Week Services.

Pastors will be in charge of the mid-week prayer services to be held tonight in the various local churches.

Scouts To Meet.

Members of the Boy Scout troop will meet Friday night in the Pennsylvania Avenue Methodist Episcopal church. Routine business will be transacted.

Emsworth, England, with 4,000 population, has 350 persons more than 70 years old, 21 over 80, and five over 90, according to a recent census.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our bereavement in the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Viola Virginia Whipkey.

Like Smiling Away Troubles

Serious Condition Caused by Nervousness, Gastritis, Sluggish Liver Relieved by Tanlac.

Mrs. Minnie O. Somers, 300 W. Gilbert Street, Muncie, Ind., mother of 2 children, recently said: "About 10 years ago my health began to slip. I became so weak that housework utterly exhausted me. Life was drudgery.

"I was so nervous I couldn't sleep, headaches and other aches and pains almost drove me mad. I had to force food into my stomach and was always tormented by sharp gastric pains. Something had to be done!

"A friend told be about Tanlac and I began taking it. This wonder tonic cleaned out my system, toned up my liver. I eat everything with it a sign of trouble, sleep like a child. I feel much stronger, better. Thanks to Tanlac."

Tanlac, nature's own remedy made from roots, barks and herbs, is sold by your druggist. 40 million bottles sold.

Over and above the sterling worth of the Hupmobile chassis, Hupmobile gives a heaping measure of value in performance and equipment.

There is surpassing beauty of line and finish; staunch clear-vision bodies; rich mohair upholstery; thermostatic heat control, and a score of other features of luxury and utility.

But Hupmobile value goes deeper than equipment. In building the car itself, Hupmobile spends 10% more to make this Six a better and a longer-lived car. Owners know the difference in smooth running, in freedom from repairs and adjustments.

Hupmobile accepts the burden of this extra cost. You pay no more for the brilliance and stamina of the Hupmobile Six than for cars of a less vigorous mold.

Compare its value with any six within $500 of its price. You will find no reason for, or willingly accept less—knowing Hupmobile to be the closest-priced six on the market.

'THIRD DEGREE' IS THRILLING

Dolores Costello in Dramatic Role at American.

If you remember back to the thrill you experienced when you saw "The Third Degree" on the stage, you will not want to miss being thrilled anew by the screen version of this well known melodrama now at the American theatre.

Adapted for Warner Bros. by Graham Baker, this Charles Klein melodrama brings to Dolores Costello, the star, the most dramatic role of her highly successful career. As Annie, the little trapeze performer of a side show in Coney Island who marries a young millionaire and is estranged from him by his proud father, she gives a beautifully balanced emotional performance. Miss Costello remains the greatest "find" of recent years on the screen.

Louise Dresser, who is featured in the supporting role of Annie's mother, surpasses her moving performance of the mother in "Broken Hearts of Hollywood." The scene where she confesses to Dolores Costello that she is her mother, as well as the murderer of the man who had threatened her happiness, is one of the most perfect in the production.

Of course, as the title suggests, there is the terrifying and grilling "third degree" with handsome Jason Robards the innocent victim; accused of the murder of villainous Rockliffe Fellows, who had been blackmailing his former sweetheart now that she had married a man of wealth.

Kate Price is delightful as a circus performer, and the remainder of the cast excellent.

There's no telling to what extremes our courts may go. One out in Illinois has taken from Birger, the gangster, the machine gun with which he was supplied to protect himself while in jail.—Marion Star.

If You're Guilty, Then Act Nervously, Is Slater's Hint

Innocent Person is Usually More Nervous Under Questioning Than Offender, According to Famous Detective.

CINCINNATI, O.—If you happen to notice an officer of the law or your wife gazing at you unusually intently and you have a guilty feeling because you have Committed or met a misdemeanor—Act nervously. It's your best bet.

For the innocent person usually is more nervous under questioning than the guilty, according to Ora Slater, noted private detective of Cincinnati.

Slater is one of the most talked of detectives in the country today through his success in bringing to justice the "key man" in the case of Don Mellett, Canton editor, who was slain, and the Jake Nesbitt affair and other recent murder cases of note.

Explains Psychology of It.

"The innocent person, accused of a crime, or the first offender, usually is more ill at ease than the guilty person, because the former are thinking mainly of his reputation, his job, and also his family," Slater says. "The man who has committed a crime wilfully and has had time to ponder on the matter, puts on a bold front and permits you to make the first move."

Slater obtained the confession of Nesbitt, accused of murdering his coed wife, "Fran" Nesbitt, in Troy, O. Nesbitt had calmly withstood the efforts of 22 newspaper men and detectives for two weeks. Slater brought about Nesbitt's confession by winning his confidence, then finding the flaw in his story, repeated numerous times to others. Nesbitt insisted that he had slept in his undergarments the night before the murder. Confronted by the statement that he had worn blue pajamas when he entered the room of guests in the house that night to close a window and that he had burned the pajamas after the murder, he wilted.

Can't Fool Sharp-Eyed Sleuth.

"The blase chap who wears sheik clothes and appears at ease with the world when he knows he has cashed a worthless check or worse, fools no one," says the famous detective. "The same darting eyes that appeal to the flapper as those of a bold, slowly aroused, but oh; mercy, lover, attract the detective, too."

In other words, you can't erase that look of having pushed someone into the river by using varnish on your hair and donning a William Tell tie (you pull the bow and hit the apple).

But here is a suggestion.

If you are a bit nervous and fear a sleepless night as a result of having used the guest towel, just borrow a gun from the officer for companionship.

Sounds as If It Were a Play.

Jake Nesbitt feared bodily harm while the officers were trying to connect him with the murder and expressed his fears to Slater. The latter, leaving him for the night, obligingly handed Nesbitt his gun—or laid it on the table.

And the funny part of it was that the gun was loaded—if you get any laughs out of a loaded gun, even when it is handed to you butt first or laid on the drawing room table among the dinner mints, cigars and what have you.

One deduces from Slater's views that there is really no need to feel nervous before a detective if you aren't guilty.

And if you are, just remember where you were the night before, ask your legal companion for his gun and let the law take its course.

SENATE BATTLE ON THIRD TERM ISSUE LOOMS

Debate on La Follette Resolution Will Put Body on Record.

VOTE IS SOUGHT

Wisconsin Man Says Washington Established Precedent.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 23.—The third term issue, revived by rumors that President Coolidge plans to seek a renomination and re-election in 1928, may be well thrashed out in the senate, it appeared today, though debate on the LaFollette resolution, which would put the senate on record against three terms for any president.

A sharply divided senate awaited a vote on the resolution but Senator LaFollette declared it was favored by a sufficient number of senators to insure its adoption. He served warning, too, that he intended to fight for a vote on the measure even though administration leaders showed a disposition to sidetrack it in order to save the president from embarrassment.

The resolution, after setting forth how George Washington had established the precedent of serving only two terms as president, declared any departure from this time-honored custom would be unwise, unpatriotic and fraught with peril to our free institutions."

The resolution aroused the united opposition of administration senators although the insurgents were inclined to favor it. The Democrats also split upon it.

Among the Republicans favoring the resolution were Senators Howell, a Republican national committeeman from Nebraska, and Norris, the leader of the insurgent bloc.

Administration senators, such as Lenroot, of Wisconsin, Willis, of Ohio, Shortridge, of California, and Bingham, of Connecticut, all opposed the resolution.

PALO ALTO, Cal.—Co-eds in Stanford university can smoke if they want to.

Seven campus sororities voted recently to permit girl students to smoke without interference. Three other sororities took no action, but these three were local chapters of sororities that have national regulations against cigarette smoking.

The action of the sororities followed the decision of the women's conference to leave the troublesome question to each "house" on the campus for decision.

No Smarting to This Liniment

Penetrates to the Bone

WHEN a liniment burns and smarts and almost blisters the skin, it usually means it contains some strong irritating substance. This isn't necessary. Just try that old Mexican Mustang Liniment once, and you will never be without it. You will marvel at its remarkable power to relieve pain without burning and blistering. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Feel it soak in and stop pain at once.

After the "Flu" is over —you need a Tonic

Help Is Needed to Restore Your Wasted Strength and Energy.

"Flu" leaves the body weakened and rundown. In such cases, a tonic is clearly indicated. Restore the appetite and rid yourself of that let-down feeling.

"Flu" is a very enervating disease. It leaves its victims so weak and debilitated that there is as much danger from the after-effects as from the disease itself. In other words, after an attack of the "flu," you need a selective tonic to rebuild the system so that you may have your old-time strength and energy restored.

S. S. S. is unequalled for restoring strength and vitality.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S. S. a trial. It helps Nature build up red blood corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the body is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable. S. S. S. is made from the roots of fresh herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

LUCILLE CLARK SEEKS DIVORCE

Former County Resident Brings Action Against Her Husband.

Lucille Clark, a former resident of this county, but who is now residing in Stark county through her counsel Andrews, Moore & Moreland of Alliance, has filed a petition for divorce in common pleas court against her husband John V. Clark residing at Moultrie.

The couple, according to the petition were married at Columbus, May 22nd, 1922.

Cause of action, it is related in the petition arose in Columbiana county and the charge of gross neglect of duty is made, in that the defendant failed and refused to help the plaintiff in the management of her home and in the care of their minor children. In addition to a decree, Mrs. Clark also asks for the custody of her children, and alimony, and a hearing on the latter request has been asked for at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

GRANGE MEETING IS SCHEDULED

A "penny march" will feature the opening of the meeting of West Point Grange Friday evening. The "Life of George Washington" will be the subject of an address by D. M. McCaskey, who will be followed by John Steffins with a vocal solo.

"Famous People Born In February" is the subject of an address that has been assigned to Lucile Hasson, while a reading "Martha Washington" will be given by Helen Cusick. A harmonica solo by John Cusick with his daughter, Miss Alice Cusick as accompanist will be a special musical offering. The program for this meeting has been arranged by Mrs. Ora Chamberlain, lecturer for West Point Grange.

PETITION SEEKS PROPERTY SALE

Foreclosure and sale of property is sought in a petition filed in common pleas court by Attorney P. V. Mackall in behalf of J. S. Cook against Anton Cardell and Carrie Cardell, with the Union Savings & Loan Co., of East Liverpool being named party defendants.

The plaintiff recovered a judgment in common pleas court against the defendants Nov 29th last for $101.25 and $12.61 costs. The sheriff's office found no chattels upon which to make a levy, and now the priority of leins is sought and the property of the defendants sought to be foreclosed.

Verdict Returned.

A jury returned a verdict for $400 in the $25,000 damage action filed in common pleas court by Mary Baltorinick, aged 12 years, through her next friend Paul Baltorinick against Mark Vuksich All parties reside at Salem. The plaintiff was a guest and passenger in an automobile driven by the defendant June 29th last when the automobile was wrecked near Washingtonville on the Cox highway.

DON'T CATCH COLD!

Let This Wonderful Treatment Keep You Fit

IT's when you get run down and out of sorts that you catch cold easily. Play safe! Keep your

The secret of fitness is your stomach. Keep it on its job properly, by taking Dillingham's Plant Juice treatment and let your invigorated body fight off the germs of coughs and colds. Mr. James A. Glover of 810½ Broadway, Camden, N. J., says:

"Three years ago I suffered from stomach trouble I would lay awake half the night, and mornings would feel all in and dead tired Hearing about Plant Juice I started using it, and it was no time before I was feeling like myself. My stomach never gives me the least bit of trouble now I sleep like a top, and I awake feeling fresh as a daisy and as bright as the new day and have not had an ache or pain in two years."

This pleasant tasting remedy is made from herbs, leaves, plants, roots, barks and blossoms—and nothing else. Gently and naturally it will stir up your sluggish liver and stimulate your bowels It will MAKE them do what Nature intended them to do And your system will be clean and vigorous, your blood will be pure and rich, your body will be healthy and full of pep.

Ask your druggist for the original Dillingham's Plant Juice, for over thirty years an enemy to coughs and colds!
